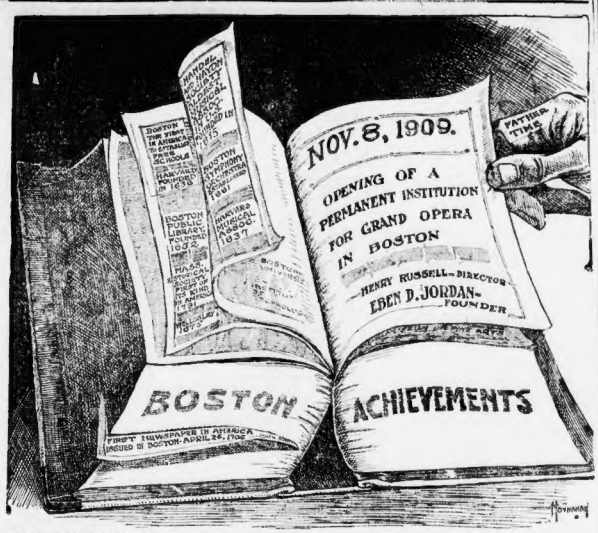
A NEW PAGE



WORLD AUTO RECORD

Fourth Edition.

BOSTON AMERICAN

Fair and Colder

VOL. 6—No. 232. BOSTON, TUESDA NOVEMBER 9, 1909. PRICE ONE CENT.

BOY WITNESSES IN MULLINS TRIAL

GREAT CROWDS SEE DISPLAYS OF PREMIUMS

The Premium Department of the BOSTON AMERICAN is a busy place these days, both during daylight hours and evenings. The announcement that the display room of the Premium Department on the fifth floor of the BOSTON AMERICAN building, No. 80 Summer street, would be open until 9 p. m. every day, brought crowds yesterday, despite the disagreeable weather.

The premium plan of the BOSTON AMERICAN has certainly made a hit. Never before has any premium offer attracted so much attention in Boston and surrounding territory as has the Mailhold offer of the BOSTON AMERICAN. Displays of the premiums are being demanded from places hundreds of miles away from Boston and additional displays of the various articles are being opened in the surrounding territory as fast as conditions will permit.

The latest addition to the list of displays of the premiums was opened to-day in the Carleton square in the cigar and tobacco store of M. M. Merritt, at No. 226 Broadway, Chelsea, near door to the Boston & Northern waiting room. As soon as the display was put in crowds gathered around the window, and Chelsea, like all of the other places where the premiums were in display, became premium mad.

Turkey dinner on BOSTON AMERICAN dishes! That seems to be becoming a modern watchword in Boston. The set of forty-nine dishes offered by the BOSTON AMERICAN for thirty coupons of consecutive dates and 82 in cash offers upon the various other premiums is one of the most attractive sets ever presented in that line, and the housewives of Boston and vicinity appreciate the fact.

It is not alone the dishes that have made the hit. The nickel clock, the library art lamp, the Venetian art lamp, the two sets of silverware—all have found admirers.

There are more surprises yet to come. The list of premiums will be added to until there will be something to appeal to every one. And—the premium coupons saved now will be accepted for any of the premiums, whether already announced or to be announced later.

Start saving those premium coupons to-day. Start any day. Save thirty of them on consecutive days and then present them with the small cash payment and every the article away with you.

Remember, provision has been made that there will be no shortage of any article. There will positively be enough to go around of all the articles. It makes no difference when you start saving the coupons. You need not have started at the beginning. Why not start to-day? Why not tell your friends about this offer of the BOSTON AMERICAN? They will thank you.

Come and see the articles for yourself if you can find the time. The premium display room in the BOSTON AMERICAN building is open every day until 9 p. m. or the articles may be on display near your home. To see them is to want them. You can have them. This offer is open to old and new readers of the BOSTON AMERICAN. This means that this offer is open to YOU. Get busy. Start after them to-day.

SECRETARY OLIN DIDN'T SPEND CENT

It didn't cost him a cent to be re-elected, says Secretary of State William M. Olin of Boston in his return which he filed in his office to-day. Governor Draper spent $3,500, and District Attorney-elect Pelletier $1,000. Other expenses were: Elmer A. Stevens, candidate for treasurer, $125; Percy N. Turner, candidate for auditor, $200; William Turtle, candidate for Senator, $130; Fred J. Brownwell, candidate for Representative, $125.

BOYS WITH MATCHES EXPLODE GASOLENE

Archie and John Cameron, eight and ten years old, lit matches in the cellar of their home, at Westville street and Westville road, Dorchester, to-day, and exploded a can of gasolene. Fire Captain Jordan, who was the first on the scene, saved the youngsters and put out the blaze with a chemical bucket.

LORDS REJECT ELECTIONS BILL

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The House of Lords has rejected another government measure, use London elections bill, which aimed at the removal of some anomalies peculiar to London, fixed all the elections on the same day and abolished plural voting.

You see the AMERICAN everywhere —in the homes, clubs, restaurants, hotels, cars and boats.

RUSSELL'S PLEDGE TO OPERA PATRONS

How he believes that the triumphant opening of the Boston Opera House last night presages the greatest artistic movement in music this country has ever known and how he purposes searching for and developing the most marvelous voices of the age until he has a magnificent "flower garden of singers" here in Boston. Director Henry Russell to-day tells readers of the BOSTON AMERICAN.

By HENRY RUSSELL,
Director of the Boston Opera House.

I believe our opening performance last night marks the beginning, the foundation, of the greatest artistic movement in music that the United States has ever known.

I mean a greater development of the emotional side of the American people. It is what they are waiting for and what they want.

I am going to stimulate what I call emotionlessness in operatic art. America, otherwise a democratic nation, has always been tied down along the lines of grand opera.

My artists must make good to the American people. Heretofore a foreign artist has come to America with a reputation crown as his credentials and Americans have said, "The singer must be good."

I change that method and make my artist please the people on their own merits.

Only New Singers Here.

I shall introduce nothing but new singers here. I did have Nordica and Homer last night because their claim to my plan of work lies in the fact that they are American women. I engaged Constantino because I consider him one of the six best tenors in the world. I had Bakhaus, too, because I believe him one of the three greatest living baritones.

My attitude is to be absolutely eclectic. I shall have no prejudice, no predisposition favoring singers' nationality. If two singers, say, for example, an Italian and American, have equal ability, I shall give the preference to the American.

American singers will have a better opportunity than ever before of coming to the front. Ability, however, must count, whether the singer comes from America, from Italy or from the North Pole.

New School of Opera.

All sentiment is bad art. I am determined to develop my idea of the new school of opera. Last night one-half of the chorus, one-half of the orchestra and several of the smaller parts were executed by members of my school.

I should like to see the day come when America will control the opera of the world. I intend to have a big organization where we can educate, feed and clothe young singers from every part of the world. To take young American singers alone would be fatal.

I must search southern Italy, northern Russia, Sweden and Norway for fine quality voices before they have had time to flower. These I intend to sow in American soil. In five years you will see what a bed of flowers I will have here in American grand opera.

I believe in five years that I shall control the operatic situation by that method. I will also put an end to paying huge salaries to induce foreign artists to come over to this country.

KING EDWARD IS 68 TO-DAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The following telegram of congratulation was sent to King Edward by President Taft to-day:

"I warmly congratulate Your Majesty on your happy completion of another year and wish you all health and happiness in long years to come.

"WILLIAM TAFT."

LONDON, Nov. 9.—King Edward to-day celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday at Sandringham Palace, surrounded by most of the members of his family and a few intimate friends. Telegrams of congratulations were received by His Majesty from all parts of the world. His health is considerably improved.

From early morn the tenantry of Sandringham were feasted by the King and Queen Alexandra, who personally looked after the wants of their guests.

Simultaneously with the King's birthday celebration, Sir John Knill, the new Lord Mayor of London, was inaugurated. The time-honored circus parade was discarded, its place being taken by a procession of London's citizens, soldiers, naval volunteers, fire brigades and boy scouts, through the be-flagged streets. The only survival of the historic theatrical show was the gilded state chariot of the Lord Mayor, which Londoners are not prepared to see banished to a museum.

COTTON PRICES SOAR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—High cables from Liverpool resulted in a strong opening in the cotton market to-day. Initial prices showed an average advance of fifty cents a bale over yesterday's final figures, shortly after the beginning of trading the large bull interests became buyers, and consequent advances caused the various options to rise to levels that showed gains ranging from 26 to 32 points over yesterday's close. The high figures of the morning trade were recorded about 11:30.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and somewhat colder to-day. Wednesday fair. West to northwest winds.

Sun rises 6:28 a. m., sets 4:20 p. m.
Moon rises 2:52 p. m.
High tide 8:32 a. m., 9:13 p. m.

TRY HYPNOTISM ON DEAD BOY

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 9.—Coroner's Physician Long this afternoon decided to delay the holding of an autopsy on the body of Robert Simpson, who died last night during a hypnotic trance produced by Professor Arthur Everton, a professional, in the hope that life may be brought back to the body. This decision was reached after the efforts of Everton, who is in jail on a charge of manslaughter, and who claims that with the help of Professor Davenport, a hypnotist of Orange, life will be brought back to the body. The authorities have decided to let the two hypnotists work over Simpson, despite the fact that they and their physicians believe that Simpson is dead and beyond resuscitation.

Those who have read the weird story by Edgar Allan Poe, "A Case of Mesmeric Vitality," may see in the theory of Everton that by hypnotism the soul could be retained in the body even after functional activity had ceased.

Everton began work this morning from heart disease. Mrs. Mellowes was notified at her home in Baltimore over the longdistance telephone.

Judge McDowell, as he was known to racing men all over the country, was a native of Baltimore and had been closely identified with racing for more than twenty years. He had long been a steward of the Jockey Club and before that had served for years as associate judge of Eastern tracks.

CAN'T FIND AN OVEN FOR TAFT MINCE PIE

A special Commissioner has been appointed by the striking pie salesmen to find an oven big enough for the mince pie they are giving for President Taft's Thanksgiving dinner. The average bakers' oven door is only four feet wide, and the Taft pie is to be six feet in diameter. Before the largest pie baked was an oblong pie four feet by seven.

FR. JOHN'S MEDICINE FOR COLDS
Has had 50 years of success. Builds you up.

BIG VESSELS AND SCORE OF MEN IN PERIL

In response to a wireless message received this afternoon at the Charlestown Navy Yard the United States revenue cutter Gresham started at full speed to Sandwich breakwater to save the lives of a score or more of men on board vessels which are breaking to pieces or fast becoming waterlogged in the terrific north west gale which is racing off Scituate.

One of the vessels is the lighter Frank Jin. With her crew clinging to broken masts she is laboring heavily, with high seas breaking over her, and it is believed she cannot stand up much longer.

The lighter Potomac is also in grave danger and several three-masted schooners are dragging at their anchors. If they break away they will go to pieces on the rocks.

A barge with a considerable crew, pounded against the breakwater and was in imminent danger of breaking up.

The tug Sarah J. Weed may have been lost. She left the breakwater last night to run into Plymouth harbor, but was unable to make progress against the heavy seas.

The crew from the Malamet life saving station went across country with lifeboats on trucks drawn by six horses but all attempts to reach the Franklin were futile.

FATHER ARRESTED FOR KIDNAPPING SON

SOUTH WATERBORO, Me., Nov. 9.—John Moore, father of eight-year-old Willour Moore, is under arrest here, and officers are searching with a warrant for Peter Matterhall, the boy's grandfather. The complaint against each is the kidnapping of the boy. Matterhall got out the warrant for Moore, charging him with stealing the boy away from his home, and Moore retaliated by complaining against the boy's grandfather.

The boy is the son of Matterhall's dead daughter, who was Moore's first wife. For some years he has lived with the grandfather at Machias. Then Moore, against Matterhall's will, took him away and brought him to his own home in this town. The grandfather, upon learning where the boy had disappeared to, thought he could do a little bit of kidnapping himself and came here from Machias and took the boy back with him.

When officers went to Machias to serve a warrant on Matterhall they found that he could not be found in the Aroostook line.

Moore will be given a hearing at Alfred, where the older man will be taken when he is arrested.

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR COLONIAL DAMES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9.—Representation in the national executive of the organization on a membership basis will be the principal issue to come before the special session of the Colonial Dames of America, which opens here to-day. When the nonresidential states shall have the same number of votes in the national convention as those accorded to the thirteen original states, on a basis of membership, it is understood, will be the first step toward adjusting the body for several years, and it is expected that this will be followed by the delegates from the colonial [illegible] entirely revising the original [illegible] and constitution of the organization.

BIG FOUR DEFICIT MAY BE $2,000,000

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 9.—With rumors on the line of many persons in touch with railroad affairs in this city that the shortage in the financial department of the Big Four Railroad, as developed through the alleged defalcation of Charles H. Warring, deposed local treasurer of the road, may reach as high as $2,000,000, investigation of Warring by his superiors and others was resumed to-day. An official statement issued by the road yesterday afternoon said that the shortage would probably reach $500,000.

SOUTH AMERICAN BEEF FOR ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Britons are crossing to look to America for their supply of beef. The result of our old England," and are turning more and more to Argentina for meats and cattle. H. M. Burtleman, consul-general at Buenos Ayres, informed the Department of Commerce and Labor to-day that the traffic in beef from Argentina to England is growing rapidly and that the British Isles are becoming more and more dependent on the South American republican for their meat supplies.

More AMERICANS are read in the homes in Boston than any other paper.

1,200 RAGE ON SMALLPOX STEAMSHIP

Intense excitement, with the prospect of a riotous outbreak, exists to-day among the 1,200 detained steerage passengers on board the White Star liner Canopic.

Those people, mostly Italians, many women and children, are cooped up on the steamer as she lies at the Charlestown pier, while outside the gates, on Water street, intense excitement prevailed among the crowd waiting for relatives and friends on board the steamer.

There was a pitiful scene to-day when the decision of Dr. Durgin of the Board of Health was made known that because of the case of smallpox which was found in the steerage of the Canopic he could not allow the steerage passengers to come ashore.

Dr. Durgin is afraid he may be obliged to detain them from landing for fully fourteen days.

When the steerage passengers came on deck early to-day and they found that they would not be permitted to land there were wholesale protests against the decision, many of them babies, began to cry and several fainted with fear. The gallant the men, growing ugly in temper, threatened to overboard and abandon the ship. It took all the force of the Canopic's crew to hold the people in check.

These inside the cabins were also clamoring and making angry gesticulations.

There was considerable excitement among those held on board, but the Board of Health says there is no danger to those detained to hold all alike.

The case of the Italian steerage passenger who had the smallpox is said to have been a well developed, unmistakable case, which any medical men should have noticed nine days ago, and even any layman within the past three or four days. Yet he was allowed to mingle freely among the other steerage passengers, creating unlimited opportunity for the spread of the disease.

Dr. J. Dryden Smythe, surgeon of the Canopic, disclaims all responsibility. The authority, he says, is confined to the first cabin and cabin passengers.

The steerage people are in charge of a royal commissioner of the Italian government who will brook no interference with the authority. This commissioner has made him an Italian surgeon, Dr. Victor Gaudenzi, who is employed by the Italian government, the whole theory being that

If Dr. Durgen and the Board of Health decide to hold the people for two weeks, the Canopic will be held responsible for the people in detention. Sent down to Long Island.

Dr. Durgen and Dr. Curnon of the health board says they will take no chances until all danger of contagion has passed.

The first and second cabin passengers were allowed to land last evening.

Dr. Durgen and Health Commissioner Bolling, Immigration Commissioner, and his staff are ready to land the people as soon as the board of health release them.

At 1 o'clock Commissioner Bolling had not yet received from Dr. Durgen that the steerage passengers would have to stay on board.

7 SHIPS TO START NAVY FOR CANADA

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 9.—The extent of Canada's first step towards the creation of a navy was announced to-day in the House of Commons, when it was announced by which the government will present to Parliament early in the session. It will provide for the purchase of seven second class cruisers and four torpedo boat destroyers. The cruisers for these vessels will probably be placed in Great Britain since no yard here is equipped to build vessels capable of turning out the ships. The bill will also provide for Canadian drydock establishments for both officers and men. Canada will be responsible for the upkeep of vessels and the expense of the naval service is estimated at three million dollars a year.

PEARY WILL TRY FOR SOUTH POLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Commander Robert E. Peary, U. S. N., announced to-day that within the next five years he will attempt another overland trip to the North Pole.

The expedition will be under the auspices of the Peary Arctic Club which looked to the raising of funds for the trip. Commander Peary and his family returned here for the Winter. The commander will be engaged in literary work.

GLADYS PECK WILL WED A BOSTON MAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. Miss Gladys Boston Peck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gordon Peck of Simsonsdale, West Haverstraw, N. Y., will be married to Otis Norton Shepard, son of Horace B. Shepard of Boston, Brookline and New York, on November 17, in the First Presbyterian Church, Simsonsdale, erected by the great-grandfather of Miss Peck, a prominent Iron merchant of New York in the early part of the last century and of the firm of Phelps & Peck.

Twins Tell of Story Alleged to Have Been Related to Them by Mantir and Delorey. Prosecution Says Mantir Carried Razor.

Twin boys of thirteen, Edward and David Delorey, cousins by marriage of Peter C. Delorey, who with James Mantir is on trial in the East Cambridge Court for the murder of Anne Mullins, took the witness stand to-day and testified that the accused young men told about the crime in Billerica at 6:30 o'clock on the morning of March 28, 1908. This would make their knowledge of the tragedy date at least three hours before the body was found in Squires Field.

"Peter said," testified the boys, "that they had been up pretty near all night, as there had been an awful murder back of our house. They said it was a Cambridge girl and that a car conductor had told them."

As no human eye had seen the body of the slain girl from the time she met her fate up to after 9 o'clock on the morning of March 28, so far as has ever been learned, the importance of the testimony of the twins becomes apparent. Before the took the stand their mother, Mrs. Ellen both Delorey, finished her testimony.

Prisoners Show Strain.

Mrs. Catherine J. Johnson testified that Mrs. Delorey before the arrest of the two men, told her that she thought they knew something about the murder, or else how could they speak about it before the body was found?

The courtroom was jammed to-day. Many women were present. The strain of the trial through which they are passing has begun to tell on the prisoners. They begin to show nervousness.

Patrick Delorey Higgins urged that he had the right to hear Mrs. Delorey testify to a conversation she had with another per-

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

HARVARD A. A. RAPPED HARD FOR BLUNDERS

The methods of our athletic guide in the distribution of tickets by the Harvard Athletic Association for the Cornell, Dartmouth and Yale football games are ripped to the core by the graduate body in to-day's issue of the Harvard Crimson, the college daily paper.

In the editorial the Harvard Athletic Association is severely brought to task because of the serious error made in distributing Wednesday, November 3, as the final date for the acceptance of applications for the coupons for the Harvard-Yale game. The editorial says:

"Except as we can take to the distribution of "imaginary tickets" for the Cornell game, for which no seats existed and which necessitated the holders sitting in the aisles of the Stadium. The editorial declares that, although the distribution of the tickets for the three final games in the Harvard Stadium is a difficult task, that there is no excuse for the careless blunders that have been made.

It is hinted in the editorial that the application method of distributing tickets for the three biggest games is unsatisfactory. The article reminds the association that even Harvard to-day and was discussed by knots of students in the lecture halls and in the yards. It was as follows:

Mistakes made by the athletic association has been guilty of this Fall in the distribution of tickets for the football games have been sources of much annoyance and complaint.

The first and most serious error which we have heard was the printing of the Yale game application blanks as of Wednesday, November 3, as the final date for the acceptance of the applications, while the circular of the Harvard-Dartmouth game read November 5. Many persons who accepted the latter as the correct date found difficulty in having the applications received on Wednesday.

Now it appears that a considerable number of reserved seat tickets are held for the Cornell game, for which no seats existed, and the unfortunate purchasers of these imaginary seats were obliged to sit in the aisles.

ENGAGEMENT IN ROYALTY.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—The engagement was announced to-day of Duke Johann Albrecht of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, the regent of Brunswick, to Princess Elizabeth of Saxe-Rieds.

ADMIRAL FISHER A PEER.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The King to-day elevated Admiral Sir John Arbuthnot Fisher, lord commissioner of the admiralty, to the peerage.

STRANG GOES MILE IN AUTO UNDER 38 S.

ATLANTIC, Ga., Nov. 9.—Smashing the Indianapolis Speedway records of 43 1-10, Louis Strang, in a 120 horsepower Flat number 20, won the $200 special cash prize in the one mile free-for-all time trial race at the Atlanta Speedway this morning in the phenomenal time of 37 74-100 seconds. The Indianapolis record was lowered by 5-10ths of a second.

A new timing device was used which registered the one-thousandth of a second.

Barney Oldfield in his powerful Benz, driven by him over the same course made a record with 40 15-100 for the mile. On one of the runs his car skidded half way across the track, clearly proved his own Indianapolis record by 2 5-10.

Walter Christie ran third in the driving. At the homestretch Christie No. 37. His time was 1:42 52-100. Rutherford driving a 9 Stearns No. 25 finished fourth. His time was 58 3-100.

Hours before the gates to Atlanta's new $300,000 motordrome were opened this morning, thousands of persons were jammed about the entrances and ticket booths and lines many blocks long were waiting to buy tickets for the great speed carnival. Many from the mountains and the big two mile speedway.

The $5,000 trophy, of gold and silver standing 50 inches on its base and carrying a cash prize of $500 in gold to be won by the fastest driver, was awarded at the opening day. The trophy also carried $300 for second and $150 for third place.

KEEP IN MIND

The Premium Department of the Boston AMERICAN is open every day until 9 P. M. If you find you cannot come in to see the articles during the day, come during the evening. Bring your friends with you. All are welcome. Come in to-day. See the premiums for yourself and then start saving those coupons which always appear on Page 2 of every edition of the Boston American, daily and Sunday. The Premium Department is on the fifth floor of the Boston American building, No. 80 Summer street.

MANTIR ALWAYS HAD RAZOR WITH HIM, SAYS MULLINS PROSECUTOR

Continued from First Page.

Higgins might ask the following questions of the witness:

Q—Did you communicate the same facts that you communicated to Officer Fresley to some one else before you wrote to him?

Q—To whom?

Q—Why not?

District Attorney Higgins then said: "Before I or jury comes in I would like to go into the subject of why Mantir left the farm. I don't think the cross-examination of Mrs. Delorey was a fair one, either to Mr. Winslow or the Commonwealth. Mr. Winslow asked several questions about the defendant leaving the farm without allowing the witness to explain."

"What do you propose to show?" asked Judge Fox.

"I expect to show that Mrs. Delorey told Mantir to go down to Mr. Mayberry's with a note and that Mantir said that he wouldn't. Mrs. Delorey said, 'You will have to as long as you are on the farm.'"

Mantir Carried a Razor.

"Mantir had some trouble with Mr. Mayberry, Mrs. Delorey testified. Mrs. Delorey ordered Mantir to take it home to Mayberry. Mantir drew a razor out of his pocket and said that Mantir said that he would cut Mayberry's heart. He then illustrated how he would do it with the razor. Then Mrs. Delorey ordered him to leave the farm. I think it is important and material to show that Mantir was in the habit of carrying a razor in his pocket."

Judge Fox said that he would allow this line of questioning. The jury was then brought in.

Mrs. Delorey resumed the witness stand. She was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Handy.

Q—Did you have any hard feeling or ill-will against James at any time? A—No.

Q—Did you express any hard feelings or ill-will to anybody against James? A—No.

Q—Have you any hard feelings or ill-will against James to-day? A—No.

The redirect examination of Mrs. Delorey was again taken up at this point.

Q—Did you tell the facts in this case as you understand them to anybody before you spoke to officer Fresley? A—Yes.

Q—To whom did you tell them? A—To Mrs. Catherine J. Johnson.

Q—And Mr. Johnson resides where? A—On Somerville avenue in West Somerville.

Q—And where did you tell these facts to Mrs. Johnson? A—Out on my farm at West Somerville.

Q—And when? A—On July 13, 1908.

Q—How do you fix that date? A—Because this was the day before the birth of the child to Mrs. Johnson's sister.

Q—What if Peter Delorey did in the police station at North Cambridge in your presence that night in addition to what you have told? (Mrs. Delorey then told the same story that had been told by State Officer Byrnes.)

MRS. DELOREY TOLD TENANT OF STORY RELATED BY BOYS

Mrs. Catherine J. Johnson, to whom Mrs. Delorey told her suspicions of Mantir and Delorey, was called as a witness after Mrs. Delorey had finished. She lives at No. 13 Clarendon avenue, Somerville, in the house owned by Mrs. Delorey.

Closed by Assistant District Attorney Handy:

Q—Do you know Mrs Elizabeth K. Delorey? A—Yes.

Q—Do you know either of the defendants? A—Yes, I know Mantir.

Q—Did you ever have at any time any talk with Mrs. Delorey in reference to where either of the defendants was on March 28? A—Yes.

Q—When did you have that talk with Mrs. Delorey? A—July 13, 1908.

Q—Where? A—Under a tree on her farm at Billerica.

Q—Did you see Mantir there at that time? A—Yes.

Q—What did Mrs. Delorey say to you in that talk in regard to Mrs. Delorey and Mantir with reference to where they were March 28, 1908? A—We were talking about different things and I got talking about the Andie Mullins murder case. Mrs. Delorey asked me about it. She said that the boys, meaning Peter and James, came up the morning after the murder and said that there was a murder in back of her home in Somerville.

Mentioned Her Suspicions.

The witness was then cross-examined by Attorney McDermott:

Q—Did Mrs. Delorey tell you where she was when she first saw Peter on the morning of March 28, 1908? A—No.

Q—When did Mrs. Delorey next talk with you about the murder? A—Just before she told about the two police.

Q—When did she first tell you that they had by the fence that Mantir walked up and down the room on the morning of March 28, did she tell you that before or after the arrest? A—After the arrest.

Q—But you have some conversation with her in February about this matter, the day that Mantir's suit against Mr. Mayberry was submitted in Boston? A—Yes, Mrs. Delorey was at my home and said to her that it was a wonder that James did not meet her and settle the matter with her.

Q—What did she say in return? She said 'Yes, I know, I think James and Peter know something about Andie Mullins's murder?' A—No, she said: 'Oh, say they are young boys; they wouldn't do anything like that.' Mrs. Delorey said to me: 'Well, I think they know something about it.'

Q—What reference, if any, did Mrs. Delorey make to your farm? A—She said that James was generally a good boy and that it was too bad that he was with Peter so much, that Peter James received regularly from his mother in Greece. They were very tender letters and Mrs. Delorey was much moved by them. Every letter from the mother closed with 'Pray for me, with 'He a good boy?'

This completed the examination of Mrs. Johnson.

DELOREY TWINS TELL HOW BOYS WASHED CLOTHES

Edward Delorey, one of the thirteen-year-old sons of the prisoner's aunt, was called by Mr. Hardy.

Q—Did you see the two defendants on the morning of March 28, 1908? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Where? A—On the farm. They were in the sitting room.

Q—What time was this? A—It was pretty near half-past six.

Q—Who was there? A. —He was walking about the room.

Q—Who else was in the room? A.—I just myself.

Q—Did you later see your mother? A.—Yes, about five minutes after he came into the same room.

Q—Did either Peter or James say anything while you were there? A.—No, sir, not until my mother came in.

Q—What was said then.A—My mother said, "Hello boys. You must have been up all night. Peter said, 'Pretty near all night, as there was an awful murder in Arlington, back of your house.' My mother said, 'Who is it?' Peter said, 'I don't know, bridge girl.' My mother asked him if he had a paper, and Peter said no. My mother asked, "Who told you about the murder?" Peter said, "A conductor on the car."

Q—Was anything else said? A—My brother was back of me and he said: "They walked and went their separate ways." Peter said: "It wouldn't be the first time." He further said: "What do you mean by it wouldn't be the first time?" Peter said: "Why I used to walk up to Lake street up by the Lexington line farms and sleep there when my father used to turn me out." My mother said: "I didn't know that you were such a bad boy, Peter."

Washed Clothes in Barn.

Q—What happened next? A—I had breakfast at the table then and we went into breakfast. Peter and James didn't eat much breakfast. They went upstairs after eating.

Q—What time did you have breakfast? A—About a quarter past 7 or maybe 7 o'clock.

Q—When did you next see James and Peter? A—I went down to the cow barn with my mother and I saw them there.

Q—What were they doing? A—James was washing his clothes and Peter was watching him.

Attorney Winslow then cross-examined:

Q—Now in the story you've been telling, what's that date? A.—March 28, last year.

Q—Sure about that? A.—Yes.

Says Boys Stayed at Home.

Q—What time of the week did Peter come up to the farm in March, 1908. A.—It was Sunday.

Q—Do you remember the date? A—No, I do not. (Mrs. Delorey yesterday testified that it was the 29th of March.)

Q—On the next Saturday after Peter came to the farm did he buy a pruning knife while on a trip to Boston? A—Yes, sir.

Q—On the following Friday—on the Friday after he bought the pruning knife, did he bring that pruning knife down to his mother in Somerville, from the farm? A.—Yes, sir.

This would make that date March 27, the day before and Mantir were supposed to go to Boston to look for work, and the day before the body of Andie Mullins was found.

Q—Did Mantir remain at the farm that day, or did he go with him? A—He remained at the farm I think.

Q—Are you sure that he remained at the farm that day? A—I'm pretty sure.

David Whitney Delorey, the twin brother, was the next witness. He was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Handy and told the same story that his brother had told before him.

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

BOY GONE 2 YEARS FOUND BY AMERICAN

LYNN, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Alice Mena, whose little son, two years lost, was returned today, gave thanks to the BOSTON AMERICAN for the recovery of the child. Little Joseph was taken away by his father, and for two years the deserted wife had no news of them. A week ago Sunday a picture of the lad appeared in the BOSTON AMERICAN. Two hours later a man in Whitman notified the AMERICAN that he had found the child. Today Inspector Thorne went to Whitman and got the father and son. The former will be arraigned in Lynn to-morrow for non-support.

TO TEST SANITY OF ACCUSED MAN

Judge Morton has appointed Dr. Edward B. Utley and Dr. George L. Walton, both of Newton, as a commission to examine into the sanity of John J. Kennedy of Waltham, who, on September 7, it is charged, shot Policeman Vernon Brown in Watertown. Kennedy was indicted by the Middlesex Grand Jury on the charge of assault with intent to murder.

$1,000,000 CONTRACT FOR BOSTON CONCERN

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—Holbrook, Cabot Rawlings of Boston have been awarded the contract for the government drydock No. 4 in Brooklyn. This firm is to receive 10 per cent above the cost of the work. The government reserves the right to accept or reject any or neither the original bid of $1,380,000.

WORLD'S FAIR IN 1913.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Nov. 9.—A movement has been launched here to-day for the celebration in 1913 of the 400th anniversary of the landing of Ponce de Leon on American soil. It is planned to make the celebration international in scope.

BOSTON AMERICAN
Household Premium Coupon
TUESDAY, NOV. 9.
Name_____
Address_____
City_____ State_____
NOTICE—A complete set consists of 20 coupons of consecutive dates. Only one coupon of each date will be accepted in each set.

TO-DAY'S CABLE NEWS

Up to Midnight, London Time

British Dreadnoughts to Make 28-Knot Speed.

LONDON—The newest British Dreadnought cruiser Lion and her sister ship, for which contracts have just been let, will, according to a high authority, be remarkable for their formidable tonnage of 26,350 and speed of twenty-eight knots. These vessels will be 700 feet long, only sixty-five feet shorter than the Cunard line steamer Lusitania, and will carry eight twelve-inch guns. The big warships will cost more than $10,000,000 each. The latest British battleship, the Orion, which is about to be laid down at Portsmouth, will be of 22,500 tons.

Two Kinds of Spiridovitch.

PARIS—The report that Mrs. William Hayes Chapman is to marry General Count Spiridovitch has brought out the fact that there is another Spiridovitch. The Spiridovitch who has been paying court to Mrs. Chapman is a Russian subject of Polish extraction, who has the title of Count and the honorary title of General. The other Spiridovitch known to the Russian colony of Paris is neither a general nor a count, and he has been in difficulty with the police of St. Petersburg, Warsaw, Moscow and Odessa, and he is unfavorably known in Geneva, Florence and Milan. Four years ago he essayed to break the bank at Monte Carlo, but instead the bank broke him.

King Knights Explorer.

LONDON—Sven Hedin, the Tibetan explorer, was made a Knight Commander of the Order of the Indian Empire by King Edward. In the distribution of birthday honors Lieutenant Ernest H. Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, was made a knight, Admiral Sir Edward H. Seymour, who was in New York at the Hudson-Fulton celebration, was made a Privy Councillor, and so was Sir Edgar Speyer, the banker.

James Hazen Hyde Presides.

PARIS—James Hazen Hyde, formerly of New York, presided at the annual dinner of the Societe des Gens de Lettres. Among the guests who spoke were Professor Bliss Perry of Harvard, who will shortly begin a series of lectures at the Sorbonne on American literary types, and M. Emile Boutroux, a French philosopher and member of the Institute, who will lecture at Harvard during the coming Winter.

England to Keep the Holbein.

LONDON—The officers of the National Art Collections Fund announce that they have raised the £70,000 ($350,000) necessary to complete the purchase of Holbein's famous portrait of Christina of Denmark, Duchess of Milan, which he painted for Henry VIII. The picture will be presented to the National Gallery.

Big Scottish Firm Coming.

LONDON—A Glasgow firm of belting manufacturers, R. & J. Dick, announce their intention to erect a factory in the United States even larger than their Scottish works, as the only method of meeting American competition in view of the American tariff of thirty-five per cent. A site has already been acquired in New Jersey.

American Swindled in Rome.

ROME—Robert Dreher of Pittsburg, who has been sightseeing in this city for several days, lost $2,000 as the result of a confidence game played upon him by two Americans whom he met several days ago and with whom he has been visiting various points of interest.

Barcelona Peace Restored.

MADRID—The constitutional guarantees in the provinces of Barcelona and Gerona, which were suspended during the recent disorders there, have been restored.

Mrs. Roosevelt Sails Friday.

ROME—Mrs. Roosevelt and her daughter, Miss Ethel, will leave here to-morrow for Naples. Their present plan is to take a steamer sailing on Friday for New York.

TO PUSH UP WAGES.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 9.—The wages of several thousand employes of the Bethlehem Steel Company will be restored to the scale in vogue before the 1907 depression, an advance of about ten per cent.

MISERY FROM A BAD STOMACH AND DYSPEPSIA WILL VANISH.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 25-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

STEEL TRIAL CLASH OVER TRUST BIDS

R. Leighton Boyd, secretary of the Boston Transit Commission, was a witness at the steel trial to-day. He produced as exhibits a number of contracts made from 1902 to 1906, in which the defendant companies figure.

The introduction as evidence of the bids submitted by the various concerns and firms mentioned in the indictment was [illegible] objection by counsel [illegible] attorneys and the lawyers for the defence.

Assistant District Attorney Curtis contended that one object of the State had in offering the schedule of bids and contracts was to show how much work the firms in the alleged combination got in comparison with those firms outside of the alleged combination.

"Can you show by this list of bids and contracts how many contracts were granted the defendants?" asked Assistant District Attorney Curtis.

"I object," interposed Attorney Charles F. Choate Jr. for the defendants. "It is not proper for the government to show a monopoly by the number of bids made."

He argued that the District-Attorney's task to prove a monopoly were not competent. Judge Harris stopped the battle between the government attorneys and the lawyers for the defence by declaring that a monopoly itself was not criminal, but it must be shown that the existence of the monopoly was with criminal intent.

COURT MAKES BIG SAVING TO DALY ESTATE

Justice Hammond of the Supreme Court has approved an agreement reached in the contest over the accounts of the Rev. William P. McQuaid and the Rev. John B. Tierney, executors under the will of Rev. Patrick J. Daly, deceased pastor of St. Francis de Sales parish, Roxbury.

Under the compromise which has been reached and which Justice Hammond approves, the executors are allowed $22,000 for compensation, counsel fees and disbursements in lieu of their claim for $40,000. The estate is thus saved $17,000.

The petitioners in the Probate Court refused to allow the first account put in by the executors on the ground of excessive charges.

The executors are now allowed $5,000 each for services and their counsel, Charles I. Quirk, a like sum.

In the first account, which was disallowed by Judge Grosvenor, the executors asked $6,400 each—a total of $12,800—which, with $10,000 already allowed, would have made $27,800.

Lawyer Quirk put in a claim for $21,440, which, with $5,000 already allowed, would have made his claim $26,440.

Judge Hosmer says that the executors allowance to $12,000 and Counsel Quirk's to $5,000, a total of $22,000.

After a conference of counsel to-day the executors agreed to a compromise for the sum of $22,000.

John H. Casey, assistant counsel for the executors, was allowed $500 for his services.

RUSSELL NOT RUSSELL, SAYS AN EX-MAYOR

Judge Lawton, in the celebrated Daniel Russell $500,000 will contest, to-day asked that both Daniel Blake Russell, the claimant for half the fortune, and William Russell, the son of Daniel, Sr., who possesses the entire estate, be brought face to face in court. The opposing lawyers talked back and forth and defied each other to produce their respective clients, but it resulted in nothing.

Daniel Blake Russell has not been in court since the first two weeks of the trial and William C. Russell has not appeared since the hearing began.

Sidney Buttrick, the first mayor of Melrose, was a witness to-day and told Attorney Nason, for William C. Russell, that the man who represented himself as Daniel Blake Russell was not the Daniel Blake Russell he knew as a boy.

"I knew Daniel Blake Russell at his home and he was also a pupil in my Sunday school between 1872 and 1877," said the witness.

CHINESE DECISION DELAYED 2 WEEKS

Because of the departure of Governor Draper to-morrow for Baton Rouge, La., the decision in the petition for executive clemency for Warry Charles and Joe Kung, under sentence to be electrocuted, will not be rendered until he returns in two weeks.

ACCUSE DOCTOR OF POACHING

GREAT BARRINGTON, Nov. 9.—Dr. Charles McBurney, one of America's greatest surgeons, has been summoned to appear in court at Great Barrington for hunting on posted land.

Papers were served on Dr. McBurney, who is at present in Stockbridge, and it was desired to have him appear in court to-day, but he was given permission to come at a later date, as he has to perform a very important operation.

The complaintant against Dr. McBurney is C. W. Freeborn, superintendent of Edgewood Farm, the estate of S. S. Pearsons of Alford.

Dr. Pearson has the finest game preserve in Western Massachusetts and the place was well posted according to law.

MORE B. & M. STOCK ASKED

There was an important hearing to-day before the Railroad Commission on the question of indirect holding by the New Haven road of more Boston & Maine stock. The petition is the Boston Railroad Holding Company. It wants to buy 15,755 shares of Boston & Maine common at 8154 a share, payable $125 in bonds and the balance in Boston Holding Company stock, and also to buy 8,894 shares of preferred Boston & Maine stock at $162 a share, payable on the same terms as for the common. Further Governors Bates presented the petition. He said if the holding company and its ex-president it would retire every share of the preferred stock and about 40 per cent of the common.

"DR." HILL IN COURT TO-DAY

TAUNTON, Nov. 9.—Frank L. Hill, the Fall River herb and skin doctor, indicted for manslaughter in connection with the murder and dismemberment of the remains of Amelia St. Jean, was bound over to-day from the New Bedford jail for arraignment at this afternoon before Judge Sisson.

It is believed by those in close touch with the case that there would be some unexpected developments in court. Hill is believed to be indifferent. District Attorney Swift came here to conduct the prosecution.

TO HEAR FR. SCANLON.

Fr. Michael J. Scanlon will talk to fifty members of the Technology Catholic Club to-morrow evening in the Tech Union.

PARKMAN CASH FOR COMMON

Major Higgins has called a conference to-day at the Parkman House, between Park Commissioners and the Superintendent of Public Grounds relative to the disposition of the income from the $5,000,000 Parkman Fund. It was the unanimous opinion of the officials that the first amount available be expended for the improvement of the Common. The matter of establishing a zoo on Franklin Park and an aquarium at City Point was discussed, but no definite decision was reached in these matters.

DRUGGISTS IN SESSION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The annual convention of the American Druggists' Syndicate, with 3,000 delegates present, was begun to-day at Long Island City.

NEITHER the size nor the style can be washed out of ARROW COLLARS
15c. each, 2 for 25c.
Cluett, Peabody & Co., Makers
ARROW CUFFS, 25 cents a pair

MARRY ME, SARAH

And I'll buy the ring of the original and only Wilson Bros., who make American gold wedding rings in their own factory, from $5 to $12.50; any size, ring to order in 2 hours. Next to big ice bottle, 93 Chestnut St.

WILSON BROS.

Out-of-town customers send for 1910 catalogue. Express or mail your watch and jewelry repairs.

You can get a perfect fit in our ready-to-wear lenses for $1 gold eyeglasses for $2 and the finest WILSON BROS., next to big bottle, 93 Cent. This ad. will save you $1 or $2 especially.

ALARM CLOCK 50c

$1 A WEEK
OVERCOATS
SUITS
AUTO COATS
GRAVENETTES
All the swagger styles up to the minute.
CADET MODELS
PEOPLES CREDIT CO.
"Different from the Rest"
433 Washington St.
Cor. Winter. Open Evenings.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets
BEST FOR THE BOWELS AND LIVER
10c. 25c. 50c. TRY ONE. WHILE YOU SELL IT. All Druggists

For That Natural Beauty-Tint Use WOODBURY'S Facial Soap
If you don't use Woodbury's Face on the to-day, it's an unfortunate.

To Look Young and feel young—keep the blood pure, the stomach right and the bowels regular, with Beecham's Pills
In boxes with full directions 10c. and 25c.

Wolf's, "My Clothier," corner Almy over and Portland streets, is most easily reached from the Haymarket Square, Adams Square, Scollay Square and Friend-Union street stations of the subways.

SPECIAL Green American Beauty ROSES FOR OUR FLORAL DESIGNS
Devonshire Florist, 36 Bromfield Street
Greenhouses, Tewksbury. Telephone 1200 Main, 1201.

Filene's
Washington and Winter Streets

Filene's
Entrance from Washington and Winter Streets and direct from Tunnel tribe.

Tunnel Bargain Basement

NOTHING is sold in the Tunnel Bargain Basement but BARGAINS—that's why it is so much to your advantage to WALK THROUGH THE TUNNEL BARGAIN BASEMENT EVERY DAY.

6.95

Bargains—Wednesday from this Traveling Salesman's Sample Line

All of his sample dresses remaining on hand closed out to the Tunnel Bargain Basement at a big price concession and sent here direct from his hotel.

10.00 to 12.50 Cloth Dresses

At 6.95

Tailor-made Dresses in broadcloth and serges, made up in the newest models.

AUTOMATICALLY REDUCED!

Description.	First Bargain price.	Automatically reduced to
10.50 Heavy Mixture Coats	6.85	3.42
12.50 Moyenage Dresses	8.85	6.63
12.50 Novelty Worsted Coats	9.65	4.82
10.50 Wool Dresses in colors	7.77	5.82
Girls' 1.50 White Dresses	95c	47c
Girls' 1.25 Colored Cotton Dresses	89c	65c
20.00 Black and Gray Moire Silk Dresses	15.65	11.73
5.00 Taffeta Silk Waists	3.95	2.96
12.00 Broadcloth Coats, full lined	7.45	5.58

And Hundreds of Other Lots Not Advertised

FOR WEDNESDAY!

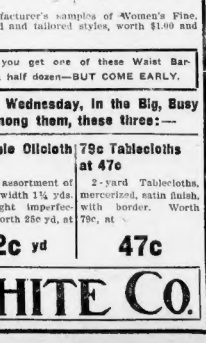
WHITE'S Bargain Basement

WILL SELL 840

Women's Sample Waists

Worth $1.00 and $1.25, at

69c



A Big Bargain!

A Lucky Purchase from one of the largest waist manufacturers in the country, at Portland, Maine. We cannot tell his name, but you will recognize the make and the fine quality.

Description:—70 dozen manufacturer's samples of Women's Fine, White Waists, in both lace-trimmed and tailored styles, worth $1.00 and $1.25, at 69c.

You will be mighty glad if you get one of these Waist Bargains, many will doubtless buy a half dozen—BUT COME EARLY.

Other Bargains galore for Wednesday, in the Big, Busy Bargain Basement. Among them, these three:—

Misses' 19c Hose at 11c
100 dozen extra fine ribbed Hose. Worth 19c pair, at 11c

25c Table Oilcloth at 12c
A good assortment of patterns, width 1¼ yds. Very slight imperfections. Worth 25c yd, at 12c yd

79c Tablecloths at 47c
2-yard Tablecloths, mercerized, satin finish, with border. Worth 79c, at 47c

R. H. WHITE CO.

MME. STEINHEIL'S WIT IN DUEL WITH JUDGE WINS COURT APPLAUSE

PARIS, Nov. 9.—"I am being tortured. From the moment of my arrest I have been bullied and harassed as no woman should be. This is all cowardly. I do not even know what ridiculous statements have been wrung from me in my agony."

Mme. Marguerite Steinheil started the Court of the Assizes to-day with this outcry when, at the resumption of her trial, her testimony in the preliminary police examinations was referred to.

"Magistrate Aubin was an inquisitor—he kept me in agony," she said again when the name of the first magistrate who examined her was mentioned.

"With the case of the prosecution failing at times, the woman accused of murdering her husband and stepmother Mme. Japy, continued to gain victory after victory to-day in her fight for life. This in the face of renewed attacks, more virulent than ever from Judge de Valles.

Jewellers on the Stand.

The prisoner's jewelry was one of the main features of to-day's hearing. The first witnesses were four jewellers one an expert who testified regarding the gems Mme. Steinheil had reset about the time of the crime.

M. Goulin, the expert was interpolated by Maitre Aubin, the counsel for the defence, when under a grilling examination he admitted that the expert hired by the government had not taken the trouble to ascertain whether the rings submitted to them were the ones described in the police report.

"I must admit that I blundered," said Goulin. At this point Judge de Valles turned on the prisoner, and failed to bolster up the prosecution's case with his invective.

"Why was it not disclosed that some of your jewels were stolen," he demanded.

"I did not wish it to be known that some of my jewels were false," the defendant returned quickly, "nor did I wish it to become public that I had some that my husband had not given me."

Sympathy With Prisoner.

She dropped her head as she made the last statement. The sympathy of the spectators was clearly with her.

"Has Mme. Steinheil told the truth about the alterations to her turquoise rings?" demanded the judge of Goulu, referring to previous testimony, and the witness answered "yes."

"When the records of the first examinations were brought out the prisoner's explosion and denunciations of her questioners followed.

"Mme. Hirsch Hutin, a reporter on L'Echo, a Paris paper, was next called. He related the story of his interview with the prisoner, soon after the crimes were discovered, and told of her accusations against the son of Marlette Wolff, the cook, and against Remy Couillard, the valet, both of whom were accused of the murders by Mme. Steinheil before her arrest.

The spectacle of this woman fighting against the brutal attacks of the prosecution has aroused a general protest against the present system of judicial procedure in which the most prominent of Parisian attorneys to-day joined in an agitation for a reformation of the court practice will probably be the direct outcome of the sensational trial.

OLD PHYSICIAN AID TO ACCUSED WOMAN

By VANCE THOMPSON.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—All day the witnesses for the prosecution came and went in the gloomy court of the Assizes, where Mme. Marguerite Steinheil, the woman who once held the Third Republic in her little hand, is on trial for the killing of her step-mother and her husband.

Hour by hour, the case so carefully built up by the State prosecution, crumbled away. Of all the witnesses—doctors, police and neighbors, only one upheld the prosecution's contentions. It seemed as if not Mme. Steinheil, but French justice was on trial.

First came a woman neighbor, who told of having seen Mme. Steinheil on the bed, her wrists and ankles marked from the cords that had bound her and the gag on the pillow. The witness said that Mme. Steinheil had told a convincing story of the three men, masked and cloaked, and the red-haired woman who had committed the deed.

Doctor Aids Woman.

Dr. Acherny, the old family physician of the Steinheils, told of the attempt at violation to her husband and his mother. As he entered the room, her first outcry was:

"Save them, save Alphonse!"

"What has happened to them?"

Maitre Aubin, representing Mme. Steinheil, asked: "Was she shaking or trembling?"

"Impossible," said the witness. "She was seriously ill."

Dr. Socard, who examined the stain on the dress the day after the tragedy, was asked if the crime could have been committed by only one person.

The reply stirred the court room:

"I am convinced that would have been impossible. The crime was committed by several persons."

Then came the prosecution's star witness—Balthazar, a professional criminologist. He is a dark, glum, little man, as theatrical in manner as the French detective of fiction. He displayed to the jury the gloves, cords, gags and poor Mme. Japy's nightdress.

He asserted that the gag found near Mme. Steinheil was not stained with saliva, so it never had been placed in her mouth, as she affirmed.

"Are you sure the gag you examined was taken from the bed?" Old you identify it?" asked Aubin.

"That was not my business," snapped the little witness.

"In your sworn disposition you said you were sure you had examined the right one?" said Aubin.

"No, I only said it looked like the one pointed out by the other doctors."

The result was that neither the expert nor the prosecution's witness could prove that the gag dangled before the jury was that used to stop Mme. Steinheil's cries.

Balthazar then launched into a hypothetical outline of the tragedy. He said he believed the husband had fallen on his knees near the door overcome by terror, and had been overpowered with there.

Manner of Deaths.

"This hypothesis," he said, "proves that the intervention of more than one person was unnecessary."

"Now, how was Mme. Japy killed?"

"I offer the hypothesis," said the witness, "that Mme. Japy died of shock, and not strangled, after death, by the assassin, in order to make sure."

This supposition of the daughter staying her aged stepmother was greeted with angry murmurs.

While Mme. Steinheil was ill in bed in the absence of a prisoner, Balthazar went to work to test her muscular force with instruments of precision. Regarding this incident he testified:

"I told her to exert all her force as if she were strangling some one. She tried to look me in the eyes, and exerted only a feebie child. I am sure she really had strength enough to commit such a crime as I have described."

Daughter's Fiance Called.

Following Balthazar's implacable attack, there was a tragic moment when Pierre Hodeson, the former fiance of the defendant's daughter Marthe, took the stand. He is a handsome, boyish soldier. Mme. Steinheil looked at him in profound sadness, bowed her head upon the dock and wept.

Witnesses followed in rapid succession. There were eleven in twenty minutes. A costumer testified to the theft of three gabardin like those worn by the assassins, from a fellow dressmaker a day or two before the tragedy. The manager of the theatre, named Goldstein, said that the strolling players had all dispersed by June 7.

Goldstein also said he had been present when the American Burlinghuis was at his costumers. His friend was a man in the street with a huge red beard and a slouch hat, and he, like Mme. Steinheil, had thought him the assassin. Goldstein had followed the man to the Gare Du Nord, but had not dared to cause his arrest.

American on Stand.

Then came Burlinghuis, himself an red beard, angrily crying: "Murderer! President, I have just escaped being guillotined."

He bitterly attacked French "justice" and complained of the police lies which pictured him as a baronet tramp and an adventurer.

The unpretentious American soon had the prosecution, the defense and the judge all apologizing, and he was finally paroled. He said he did not know Mme. Steinheil, and proved that he was out of town on the night of the tragedy.

The day's session ended with a remarkable declaration by Detective Rousse, who accompanied Mme. Steinheil in the carriage on the night she identified, by mistake, the unfortunate American. He said:

"She was so agitated and troubled that I was sure there was no simulation. She cried, 'That's the man' and she seemed to be convinced that he was.

"We never doubted her innocence, so far as I am concerned. I am so thoroughly convinced that she is absolutely guiltless that if she accused herself, I would not believe her."

The beautiful prisoner started upward with a wild exclamation. Her Judge shouted to the jury; the president of the court clamored angrily.

"That is only one man's impression," said the learned Judge, and Aubin replied suavely: "Monsieur le President, you have asserted so that police reports are marvels of trustworthiness. Certainly this one is."

ELEVEN ON TRIAL FOR CONSPIRACY

The trial of the eleven defendants, accused of conspiracy to conceal assets in the bankruptcy case of the Marshal Hay & Grain Company of East Boston began today in the United States Court. They are Louis Canner and wife, Jacob Freedman and wife, Attorney Abraham Berman, Abraham Greenberg, Julius Wolfman, Attorney Nathan Wolf, Benjamin Jacobson, Louis Miller and Bernard Goldfine.

MUCH SMOKE, SMALL FIRE.

Fire in the basement of the four-story brick dwelling at No. 60 Clarendon street today caused considerable excitement, but slight loss. Volumes of smoke were pouring out of the back entrance, but no flame was in sight. The firemen fig ound the blaze between the walls,

PILES Quickly Cured

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure—Trial Package Mailed Free to All in Plain Wrapper.

We want every man and woman suffering from the excruciating torture of piles to just send their name and address to us and get by return mail a free trial package of the most effective and positive cure ever known for this disease, Pyramid Pile Cure.

The way to prove what this great remedy will do in your own case, is to just fill out free coupon and send to us and you will get by return mail a free trial treatment of Pyramid Pile Cure.

Then after you have proven to yourself what it can do, you will go to the druggist and get a 50 cent box.

Don't undergo an operation. Operations are rarely a success and often lead to terrible consequences. Pyramid Pile Cure relieves all inflammation, pain, congestion, irritation, itching, sores and ulcers disappear—and the piles simply quit.

For sale at all drug stores at 50 cents a box.

FREE PACKAGE COUPON

Fill out the blank lines below with your name and address, cut out coupon and mail to the PYRAMID DRUG COMPANY, 151 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich. A trial package of the great Pyramid Pile Cure will then be sent you at once by mail, FREE, in plain wrapper.

Name .....

Street .....

City and State .....

In Use For Over A Third Of A Century.

WOODBURY'S Facial Soap

If you don't see Woodbury's Soap in the window, ask your dealer.

PARENTS CHARGE MAN AND HIS WIFE KIDNAPPED GIRL

VINA FRANCES CONNOR.

Girl over whom fight is waged in two States.

Armed with requisition papers for William and Edith Porter, Special Officer Clifford of the East Dedham Street Station went to Greenwood, R. I., to-day, and upon his return the prisoners will be arraigned on an indictment warrant charging the kidnapping of Nina Frances Connors, thirteen years old, of No. 1,261 Washington street, daughter of James and Annie Connors.

The parents of the girl say she spent her Summer vacation at Greenwood and was a frequent visitor in the Porter home. The Porters, it is said, took such a strong liking to the child that after her return to Boston they came over on October 1 and persuaded the child to return to Green wood with them.

When the girl's parents made a formal demand for the return of their daughter the Porters, the police allege, refused to allow her to leave their home. She was then placed in the hands of Special Officer Clifford and a secret indictment returned by the Suffolk Grand Jury.

PRESIDENT'S BUSY DAY AT WILMINGTON

By WILLIAM HOSTER.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 9.—President Taft arrived here at 2:40 A. M., his train being kept on a siding until 8:15 o'clock, when after a refreshing sleep he turned himself over to the local committee, which had arranged a long program for this, the next to the last day of the trip.

Breakfast was had at the residence of James Sprunt. Following the breakfast, or at 9:45, the party left the Sprunt residence and proceeded to market street, where the President was greeted by 2,000 school children dressed and grouped to make a pretty National flag.

Delivering a brief address to the children, the President then went to Water street, where at 10:25 the reviewing stand Seminole was boarded for the trip down the Cape Fear River. This trip lasted until 3 o'clock this afternoon, the trip extending down to Fort Caswell on the Atlantic coast. On the return to Wilmington this afternoon the President heads a big procession which proceeds over a long route to the City Hall where the procession is reviewed and Governor W. W. Kitchin delivers an address of welcome. At 4:30 o'clock the President delivers he address, he then rests at the Cape Fear Club until 8:30 o'clock, when a banquet is served in the Masonic Temple. The President leaves here at 7 o'clock for Richmond.

You see the AMERICAN everywhere—in the homes, clubs, restaurants, hotels, cars and boats.

BEAR'S WAILS ARE STOPPED BY PRAYER

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—When Miss Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation Army started to preach to a mystery house in the Palace Theatre to-day she was startled by a mournful cry of a sick bear from behind the "stage." Miss Booth was about to abandon her address when she heard that there was an injured bear in the cage behind the scenes. The Rev. C. L. Morrill assured Miss Booth that he would cause the bear to cease wailing after a prayer asking for Divine assistance in restoring peace immediately after the strange supplication was offered the bear ceased wailing.

ALDRICH IS FOR CURRENCY REFORM

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—With even stronger emphasis than he used in his Chicago speech, Senator Aldrich stated, it evident to the business men of St. Louis, to-day that it is his purpose to devote himself for the present with single-mindedness to the work of reforming the currency system of the United States. He spoke briefly before a limited gathering of bankers at the Noonday Club, and more formally last night before the full membership of the Commercial Club.

WHISKEY FOR COLDS

Fine Formula for Old Time Remedy Cured Thousands Here Last Winter.

The increased use of whiskey for colds is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following is the formula:

Mix two ounces of glycerine with eight ounces of good whiskey and add one half ounce of Cimosote, pine compound. Take a teaspoonful or a tablespoonful every four hours.

The Concentrated mix is a special pine product from the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co. of Chicago, and comes only in half-ounce vials each enclosed in an air-tight case. Be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

LABOR URGES AN APPEAL OF GOMPERS CASE

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—The Buck's Stove Company injunction case, in which Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison were sentenced to jail, will be appealed to the supreme court of the United States. This is the recommendation of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor which was read at the second day's session of the twenty-ninth annual meeting here to-day.

The report deals not only with the jail terms hanging over the Federation president, vice-president and treasurer, but with many Federation matters. After reciting the details of the injunction in the Gompers case the report says:

"We recommend that an appeal be taken from the decision rendered in both the original injunction and the contempt cases growing out of it.

"We cannot permit these decisions to go unchallenged. They affect fundamental rights, and either the courts or Congress must safeguard them."

In the matter of the controversy over the secession of a faction of the electrical workers the executive council's report says:

"After exerting every means at our command to have State and Central bodies comply with the Federation constitution and suspend the seceding unions of electrical workers there was no alternative but to revoke the charters of the following State and central bodies for failure to comply with the constitution: Iowa State Federation of Labor, Ohio State Federation of Labor and the central bodies of Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Davenport, Ia.; Detroit, Mich.; Duluth, Minn.; Albany, N. Y.; Hornellsville, N. Y.; Jamestown, N. Y.; Cleveland, O.; Newark, O.; Toledo, O.; Connellsville, Pa.; Dallas, Tex.; Sherman Tex.; Ogden, Utah; Everett, Wash.; Bi Lewis, Mo.; Atlantic City, N. J., and Longsport, Ind.

"The following central bodies have since complied with the constitution, and their charters have been restored: Logansport St. Louis, Albany and Jamestown."

Reporting upon the work of the federation in the crusade against tuberculosis the council urgently recommends the adoption of laws or regulations prohibiting the sale of second-hand clothing or second-hand bedding unless they have been cleansed and renovated under the direction and supervision of a representative of the board of health.

The executive council in its report declares Francisco Ferrer, the radical teacher of Barcelona, Spain, who was executed after being convicted of inciting riots in Spain last July, a martyr.

You see the AMERICAN everywhere—in the homes, clubs, restaurants, hotels, cars and boats.

'FATHER WELL,' CABLES MRS. ROOSEVELT

THOMPSONVILLE, Ct., Nov. 9.—"Father is perfectly well, Mother." This was the message received here to-day by Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., from his mother, who is now in Rome, Italy.

Young Roosevelt, who is working in a carpet factory here, was much disturbed over the false rumors spread last week that his father had been injured or was ill in Africa, but to-day he received the assurance that his distinguished parent was all right.

This is the first direct word of assurance from any member of the Roosevelt family that Mr. Roosevelt was not injured, as reported. It is accepted as definite and final proof that the rumors were utterly without foundation.

MRS. ROCKEFELLER STILL SERIOUSLY ILL

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8.—John D. Rockefeller's departure from Cleveland for New York has been delayed by the serious illness of Mrs. Rockefeller. She is improving in health, but slowly, it is said. W. C. Rudd, Mrs. Rockefeller's brother-in-law, said to-day that she had been suffering from a severe cold and from a cold which settled on her lungs.

FUNK FINDS NORTH POLE, TOO—ON MARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Rev. Dr. Isaac Funk, dictionary editor and investigator of psychic mysteries, says of the telescope in his home in Montclair: "I do not expect to see the spirits. I have discovered the North Pole of Mars with my instrument. There is a white dot, but I have been unable to determine whether it is the igloo of Dr. Cook or of Commander Peary."

THIS BOY IS AN OWL.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 9.—Nottaway county has an owl boy. He is Andrew Wilson, fifteen years old, and he can see only in the dark. Physicians are puzzled by his case and to-day took steps to make a thorough examination. Wilson, whose eyes are markedly lacking in color, has had the peculiarity since he was an infant.

COOPER'S DERBY RIBBED

UNDERWEAR

These Famous Garments Sell Regularly at $1.00 per Garment. . . . . Special at 79c

As long as we insist on your giving us real money we think we ought to give you real values in every sense of the word. At any rate we're doing it, and it ought to make you feel safe in buying here. This "Cooper's" Grade-de-Luxe Derby Ribbed Underwear at 79c. a garment is without doubt the biggest value in town. You'll need a suit or two.

VORENBERG'S

Washington, Hanover and Elm Sts.

Pittsfield Nurse, Tried To-day on Assault Charge

Mrs. Allen Read, formerly Miss Campbell.

Residents of Boston who spend their threatening letters and a few days later vacations in the Berkshires are keenly interested in the case of Mrs. Allen F. Read, who is placed on trial in Denver, Col., to-day, in answer to the serious charge of attempting to assault with dynamite Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Philips, the beautiful divorced wife of Lawrence C. Philips, a Pittsburg multi-millionaire. The attempt to assault was accompanied, the prosecution alleges, by an effort to extort $70,000.

Scores of members of Boston's most exclusive social set know the attractive trained nurse who to-day faced this serious charge, and to them sympathy for her is lost to the cause by their acquaintance with the Misses Butler, two wealthy women who entertain in the summer colony at Stockbridge, and befriended the defendant and have announced their purse strings for substantial financial backing in her effort to obtain her liberty.

Mrs. Allen F. Read was formerly Miss Frances Campbell, daughter of Grocer Campbell, a Pittsfield mill owner, who left a large estate. Her sister, Miss Josephine Campbell, is a teacher of languages at Vassar college. The defense, it is alleged, will attempt to prove that Mrs. Read was under the influence of powerful drugs at the time of the alleged episode.

Noted Divorce Recalled.

The Philips divorce attracted wide attention from the report that the wife was offered $6,000,000 to relinquish all claim to her two beautiful children and allow her husband to obtain an absolute decree. She refused and won her point, being allowed the custody of the children pro tem of time. She also received $500,000 in cash and the income from $750,000 in trust so long as she remains unmarried. In the event of her remarriage, she will receive the income from a quarter million investment only.

Just a year ago Mrs. Philips received

PARROT RESCUES FAMILY FROM FIRE

The terrified, but highly intelligent screams of a parrot saved the family of William H. Crafts from incineration or asphyxiation in their home at No. 81 Taxiera street, Roxbury, "Pretty Polly!" Oh, what are we going to do now?" its cries rang out, and as the bewildered family awakened the halls of the house were found filled with flame and smoke.

Defective insulation on the electric light wiring leading to the bath room caused the blaze. The damage wrought will cost $500 to repair.

TWO DAYS TO GET $34,000 FOR Y. M. C. A.

With only two more days to go and with nearly $34,000 still needed to complete the $150,000 Y. M. C. A. building fund, the various collecting committees and team captains are working overtime in the Newtons to-day.

Among the larger subscriptions reported during the day were the following: Charles E. Riley, $2,500; Charles L. Tirrell, $1,000; Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Sleeper, $1,000, and $500 each from William E. Jones, Charles W. Emerson, Lewis H. Ainsworth, E. W. Converse, Charles S. Dewson, G. Fred Simpson and Josiah H. Bacon.

The banner team of the day was that in charge of Mr. Follett, which reported a total of $6,016 for the day's work.

Perhaps the most interesting donation received was one of $5 from Mrs. Helen Day Montanari, a former Newton girl, who is the wife of Captain Montanari of Turin, Italy.

She is the daughter of Frank A. Day, who has been the prime mover in the campaign.

Another $500 subscription was given by a friend, as a memorial to the late Edward Nickels.

The total of $18,150 for the day moved the dollar hand of the illuminated clock on the front of the building around to $116,850.

Chelsea Has $22,248.

One-third of the $50,000 wanted by the Chelsea Y. M. C. A. for the new building fund has been raised, the latest check-up showing that the total amount received to date is $17,248. The largest check received was $5,000, and the largest loan $1,000, which was given by Captain Walter L. Means, which secured $2,000.

A check for $500 was received from Frank A. Day, chairman of the ultimate committee of the Newtons in the campaign, which is raising $150,000.

Quincy Nears End.

With the seventy-day campaign due to end tomorrow night, the $50,000 fund that is being raised by the Quincy Y. M. C. A. to cancel the indebtedness and construct a new swimming pool had climbed to $46,000, when Secretary J. A. Sedgwick read his daily reports to the committee in charge at the usual luncheon hour to-day.

Theophilus King's ultimate committee reported $1,000, his junior men's committee $1,322 and the young men's committee $1,000.

The committee in exciting general interest in Quincy, and everybody believes that the $50,000 will be in hand when the time is up.

NEW DISCOVERY IN PHOTOGRAPHY

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9.—Dr. Robert W. Woods, professor of experimental physics at Johns Hopkins University, has photographed light waves or colors invisible to the human eye. He had planned to-night to-night Professor Wood will exhibit these photographs for the first time and explain the method of their making. They explain the mystery of the rainbow, in which the seven visible colors, never before have been photographed and never seen, produce a startling and beautiful effects, some like snow scenes.

HOUSE WILL TAKE UP GALVIN CONTEST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The three election committees of the House will not be very busy this coming session, as there are only two contests to be heard. Five are in the South. The sixth is that against Joseph P. O'Connell of Mitchel Galvin, contestant. The O'Connell case is particularly interesting as the sitting member has but a plurality of four votes.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. Pazo Ointment is guaranteed to cure any case of Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

WATTERS CO.

566 WASHINGTON STREET OPPOSITE ADAMS HOUSE

SPECIAL BARGAINS

For WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY in our BASEMENT SALESROOM

This group of PARISIAN MODELS, up to the minute in fashion, black or colors; actual value $12.00 to $15.00. Special Wednesday and Thursday $4.98

TRIMMED MILLINERY

Our Prices and Workmanship Are Unsurpassed in This City.

500 Kimonas in Persian and Oriental Stripe Effects made in JAPANESE and GRECIAN styles, with plain band of contrasting colors to match; FULL negligee garment. Value $1.98. Special 53c

We have been able to secure another lot of the Persian Short Kimonas made of soft light flitting, with Bishop sleeves, others JAPANESE SLEEVES, in a beautiful line of colorings. Values 98c. Special 37c

We have also secured from a New York Manufacturer his entire sample line of SOFA PILLOWS, LAUNDRY BAGS, TAPESTRY ART SQUARES, ETC. Prices on these goods are as high as $1.50; special, while they last . . . 15c

Ask to see our line of high-grade Muslin Underwear, Corsets, Negligees, Blanket Wrappers, House Dresses, Children's Coats and Headwear.

These articles are MISS HOLLAND'S own selections, and this fact alone should insure you of perfect satisfaction.

"If Mr. Russell has many more singers in reserve like the baritone, George Baklanoff, New Yorkers may soon be coming over to hear the Bostonians, instead of Bostonians coming over to New York. The performance would have done credit to the most famous European house."—Charles Henry Meltzer.

BRILLIANT PREMIER AT BOSTON'S OWN OPERA HOUSE

New Opera House Thronged With Society Leaders and Founders of Enterprise Get Ovation.

"LA GIOCONDA"

In Italian, an opera in four acts by A. Ponchielli.

La Gioconda ..... Lillian Nordica
Laura ..... Louise Homer
La Cieca ..... Anna Meitschick
Enzo ..... Florencio Constantino
Barnaba ..... George Baklanoff
Alvise ..... Hinton Nevitte
Zuane ..... Albert Reiss
Isepo ..... Arnaldo Conti
Grand Corps de Ballet.

Musical Director ..... Arnaldo Conti
Stage Director ..... Arthur Mees

By CHARLES HENRY MELTZER

When they last finished the fine old pipes flattered through the cloak-rooms, and gloried exstatic at the vast, dignified and decorous auditorium. The three thousand, more or less, who had had the good fortune to secure tickets for the opening of the new opera house, leant back in their seats, ran their eyes over their programmes, and prepared to enjoy the treat.

In honor of the occasion, Mr. Russell had selected "La Gioconda" for performance. He had done wisely, too. For "La Gioconda," like "Aida", "Faust", "Les Huguenots" and a few other works, is pre-eminently suited for production on a night marked out as one of social and artistic moment.

The master work of Ponchielli is just serious enough to compel the attention of the critical, and not heavy or dull or "highbrow" enough to annoy the general.

It gives managers unusual opportunities for displaying the resources of their theatres. It calls for pageantry and pomp, for charming ballets, for picturesque backgrounds and for tasteful costuming.

Music Is Interesting.

Chiefly, however, it has value on an opening night because it is one of the fewer than six roles which, as a rule, are sung and played by artists of importance.

The music, on the whole, is really interesting. Many of the effects, phrases and ideas found in "La Gioconda" have been borrowed and "conducted" by other composers, by younger men, mostly pupils, of Ponchielli. Like "Hamlet," it is therefore full of "quotations."

Puccini, Mascagni, Leoncavallo, Cilea and Giordano all owe something, perhaps much, to the composer of the opera which we heard sung last night in the new Boston temple of the art divine. But not all of them have gone out of their way to acknowledge their indebtedness. Some did some of them admit that they owed aught to Catalani whose "La Wally" was produced last season in New York.

"La Gioconda," for me and though the fact is quite self-evident, is not an opera to be presented lightly or with a minimum of thought. Cheap and flashy, it appears cheap and tawdry by comparison with some other works in the Italian repertory. It demands a singer-actress of commanding and good dancers, besides handsome scenery, correct dresses and appropriate "properties."

Story of the Opera.

Thirty-three years ago, when it was first produced at the Scala, the work seemed far in advance of the conventional Italian opera. And the although it need little or nothing to the genius of the master who just then had begun to sway the entire world, as he had stirred all Germany.

The story of it can be recalled to you in the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

Founded on one of the most sordid and, in Victor Hugo's romance, repellent plots it seems a somewhat blood-stained business for the purpose of opera. But at least it gives the singers a chance. There is, as nearly always, something happening on the stage, something, at least, interesting, exciting or pulsating.

No one in the opera, with the exception of the street singer known as "La Gioconda," the artist-girl, and her mother, the old but fortunate blind woman whom in the first act Barnaba, the spy-villain, threatens to have arrested as a sorceress, excites or incites any appeal to one's sympathy.

Enzo Grimaldi, the prince who is only only a tenor, not a hero in a sculptor who poses first and loves with women, the unfortunate young singer and now courting Laura, wife of Alvise, the dread villain of the piece.

Alvise, who if he had been human, might have had some claims on one's regard, forfeits all rights to our esteem or sorrow, ful consideration through his cruelty.

Laura, again, is too dignity and unfaithful to arouse pity, while for her inability to obtain a divorce, on the approved plan of modern society.

Light Conquers Dark.

As for Barnaba, he is a fiend, a beast, merciless and bloodthirsty.

As the plot unwinds itself, only to become knotted again, and at the end to "untie" itself, horror upon horror is piled, till at the close of the third act one hitherto guess. But the horrors are all framed by goodness. Virtue, in the person of the hapless Prince, the great nature of the Alvise suffers in the ugliness of the deeds done by the characters.

And then the ballets—those ravishing ballets under Berthelmy, the justly heralded "Honor of the Horns," are a relief.

The latter divertissement, by the bye, should not be treated merely as a preliminary to dancing. It is a symbolic episode, even more emphatically than are the ballets.

Have you ever stopped to remind yourself that there is a meaning, a purpose, a shape in many be, in the ballets of opera? If so, by all means you should see a performance of "La Gioconda," when you will find, if you look carefully enough, that the artists who take part in it convey to one's ear and eye a definite, logical, consistent story.

The Grand Opening.

That may seem much to read into a mere series of posturings and gyrations. Yet it is all there, for those who will only look for it. And even those who are not so careless to seek under-meanings in such trifles as opera, there is the beautiful, brilliant, delicate and expressive music which accompanies the pantomime.

Very delightful did it seem to us, after wandering in the waste spaces bordering on the Opera House and plodding off the miles which had clung to the bottom of our trousers and wraps on the way from our cozy lodges for, in my own my own one modest cottage, to find ourselves in the cozy, handsome, auditorium, with its two tiers of boxes filled with well-groomed men and comely women.

And how well set, the conductor for all they call him on the Opera House play-bills, the assistant director, Mr. Arnaldo Conti, was lifting his baton as a signal for the overture to begin. The lights of the first and most memorable public performance in the new building, in which the great house were down, the audience had already assumed a decorous silence, and as the curtain was about to rise on the scene of the Piazza di San Marco, the orchestra, nearly always, something happening on the stage, beginning, and most brilliantly, to sing, or pulsating.

Then the curtain went up on Monday next. the Metropolitan, when the season were there, too, with "La Gioconda."

Nordica as the Heroine.

And soon we were all bowing to the radiant and attractive face of Lillian Nordica, who as a New England girl I believe, was christened "Lillian Norton." And Nordica was a good choice. She had brilliantly been chosen for the trying part of the heroine. In my opinion, which can only differ of course from that best suited to her of all the many roles in her repertory.

Beside her, in the beggar's dress of the blind mother, was the Italian singer, Anna Meitschick, a stranger to us, but a favorite of Europe, in her own land.

Soon, also, we made out the handsome face and shapely figure of the popular Spanish tenor, Florencio Constantino, in the part of Enzo.

And then again we looked, with expectant wonderment, at the stranger, be much talked of Russian baritone, George Baklanoff, who, so far as America is concerned of Mr. Russell's.

The two women artists had been best for the evening by the Metropolitan, Boston Opera Company for this event. Of the splendid appreciation of the opera and the singers, I need declare. "If it were not the trouble and toil which the director and the conductor and the company have expended. It repays me for my part in Boston's opera house. This is a wonderful sight—to look over this great audience, and this will probably be a memorable occasion to all of us.

"We all owe thanks to Director Russell for his efforts in building up a company. I never realized what a great task it was. I doubt if many Odin realize. To Mr. Conti, who trained and practiced this splendid orchestra, very many thanks are due. To Mr. Menotti, who made the production, we cannot be too grateful.

"Mr. Harris, the architect, has done some work two and all agree. This great building will be a monument to him. To Mr. Peirce & Carpenter, who interested the people of Boston in the undertaking, we are grateful. Last, but not for last, we might not have had a Boston opera. To Mme. Maschetti, who trained this superb band, we are very thankful.

Victory After Hard Work.

"I thank you for your kind greeting to me. I have worked hard in this undertaking. At times it looked as though we would not have an opera after all, but we won through.

"I beg you to remember that this is first performance. Do not criticise us too harshly. There have been insufficient rehearsals and not enough time for aggregating. We shall not stand still, but improve, and later we shall ask your most serious criticism.

"I know that the cause of music in Boston is dear to you and we shall all work to the end of helping it along."

Governor Draper Speaks.

The audience coincided that with the Governor of Massachusetts on the scene, he must and his statements to the evening's record, and Mr. Draper was obliged to say in this speech:

"I think that the Boston Opera House is a tremendous success and the company and production wonderful. The opera house is beautiful and the most comfortable I ever sat in. The acoustics are excellent, which I can judge from not only the stage but from the orchestra pit from the speeches made from the stage.

"I feel that the entire city of Boston and the New England States ought to feel proud of the work of Mr. Elson H. Jordan and the gentlemen who worked with him for the success of the opening edition. I am glad to see that the public supports it so heartily."

Brilliant Procession.

"Why didn't we have an opera long ago? This was the query which was heard on every hand in the spacious corridors during the intermissions. We shall never be able to get along without it," was the general sentiment. This was heard on all sides. Certainly Boston has proved that its Opera House like a duck to water.

As soon as the curtain fell and the music of the first act ceased the doors of the boxes and lobbies opened and from the orchestra and balcony came a throng of people. A great procession and dress parade formed immediately, exactly as it exists in the Paris opera houses where opera is a permanent institution.

The corridors of the Opera House are spacious and well fitted for promenading, and they were soon crowded by a brilliant throng. The refreshment roofs with their inviting tables greeted immediately the eyes and the various smoking rooms and ladies' parlors.

A pleasing contrast was afforded by the fact that a crowd of poorly dressed men and women crowded to enter the outer lobby, and they pressed their noses against the plate glass doors, on the side of which passed a most brilliant procession.

Entire House Filled.

Attractive as was the crowd on the promenade, the appearance of the audience when seated was spectacular in the extreme. Looking from one of the upper tier boxes down upon the house, it was bewildering in its brilliancy. The two rows of boxes forming the horseshoe, the lodges rising tier on tier up to the roof, the deep balconies, where white shirt-fronts and bare shoulders were as plentiful as on the floor, and away up close under the roof, the tiny space where there was standing room, all were a full of spectators as they could possibly be. The whole mass seemed sparkling, and the eye was dazzled by the scene.

To convey this wonderful crowd to the Opera House, which is, after all, in a rather out of the way place, nearly a thousand automobiles must have been required, and this great array of vehicles stretched in a long line down Huntington avenue as far as Massachusetts.

The width of the boulevard and the existence of side streets prevented a congestion, and the carriages and automobiles moved along without a hitch or unnecessary delay.

Balcony Elevators Needed.

Fully a thousand people assembled outside the Opera House to see the audience arrive, and these were kept back by four deep along the edge of the carpet laid adjacent to the Opera House. Every piece into the carriages which moved slowly by, and when any of the occupants were recognized their names passed along the whole line.

A great many of the people remained outside the Opera House until midnight, when the final curtain fell and the audience streamed out.

Among the conveniences of the Opera House which was heard on every hand there was one frequent criticism. There should be elevators to the balconies. The seats in the first and second balconies are expensive and sold by the season, you the occupants are compelled to climb to some cases nearly ninety feet to their seats.

CAVALIERI STAR IN OPERA PREMIERE AT THE MANHATTAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—In the "Heroiade" of Jules Massenet, the first production of which in America signalled the opening of this year's grand opera season in New York, the audience that filled Oscar Hammerstein's house, heard and saw maiden "Alda."

Indeed it was the subject of much comment in the lobbies last night, how expressly parallel ran the casting of the characters in "Alda" and "Heroiade."

Though the opera is called "Heroiade" after the queen mother, It is Salome, the dancing girl, who is the prime theme, and it fell to the lot of Lina Cavalieri to be the star for Hammerstein's production of the beautiful Italian not the personal resemblance to the pale queen which Sophia Dramatically, Mlle. Cavalieri was all that the part demanded. Her pleading with John in the cell was delightfully naive; her despair and passionate dominance in the later scenes were convincing and effective.

More AMERICANS are read in the homes in Boston than any other paper.

SPITBALL VICTIM 'IS OUT OF DANGER

WORCESTER, Nov. 9.—Victor Desautels, 17 years old, of 7 Oread street, who was stricken i nthe neck by one of his fellow students in the Webster street night school, in a quarrel starting over a spitball fired during the session, is out of danger today. Surgeons say the boy had a narrow escape from death when one of the blade twice went but a inch's width from the carotid artery. Desautels and several of the larger vetns of the body. They say he was crowded by a fellow student throng. The refreshment roofs with their inviting tables greeted immediately the eyes and the various smoking rooms and ladies' parlors.

BIG DICTIONARY OFFER

Readers of the Boston American are invited to subscribe for a copy of the issue by the publishers of Webster's New International Dictionary. Just issued new from type to cover, and containing over 400,000 defined words and phrases. The thousand readers have the advantage of this special offer will receive absolutely free a copy of the 1909 New Standard Dictionary of the World, containing new colored maps showing every country and civil division on the face of the globe, fully indexed and published by one of the best-known map publishers in the world at $2 a copy. This is a chance to get the newest dictionary and atlas together, forming a table reference library at a remarkably small price and easy terms. Cut out the coupon in the lower right hand of the advertisement, fill in name and address, and forward it to J. Q. Adams & Co., 120 Boylston street, Boston, Mass.

DRAPER, JORDAN AND RUSSELL TELL OF ADVANCE IN MUSIC

THE great audience which witnessed the birth of the Boston Opera Company, which was the first to "go" the Boston Opera House, will be the home of opera in this city, and which participated in the wonderful demonstration at the conclusion of the third act of "La Gioconda" will probably remit the event with pleasure for a long time to come.

Never before in this city has such a brilliantly costumed audience witnessed a stage performance. Never before did so many have such an opportunity for display as is afforded by the great double horseshoe. And probably never before did such a fashionable audience contain the same proportion of music lovers as last night.

The audience was cold at first, and applause was light during the earlier scenes. It was a typical Boston house. But as the opera progressed enthusiasm awakened at the superb work of Nordica, Constantino, Baklanoff, Homer and Meltschick and culminated at the conclusion of the third act in tumultuous applause.

Riot of Enthusiasm.

When the last tones of the music died away and the curtain descended upon the gorgeous setting of the "House of Gold," a riot of enthusiasm broke forth in all parts of the house, and the hand-clapping, cheering and shouting was prolonged.

The singers came forward and bowed their thanks when the curtain rose again, and then from the wings came a long line of liveried attendants bearing flowers which they laid at the feet of the principals.

The sounds grew until there were two mountains of fragrant blossoms on the stage. Nordica in a frenzy of enthusiasm reached her basket of the stage and looked into the death chamber where Homer had been lying on her the a few moments before.

She was gone and a second later tripped out from the wings to receive a storm of applause. Now there were shouts for the director and the conductor and the stage manager, and for Elson Jordan.

Russell Well Repaid.

Mr. Russell must have been well repaid for his long years of labor when he heard this great audience showing the appreciation which it felt for him and called his name. He responded after a short time and as soon as he could obtain quiet said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this wonderful occasion will remain memorable long in our minds. We all thank you for this great ovation, and we hope you that the success is due to you, that the great response and support of the people of Boston has enabled us to meet here to-night. We assure you also that we will make you the return, that we will do our best to establish what I hope will be a permanent institution of music in the city of Boston.

"The opening night has come and you have seen the beginning of an organization which has necessitated a lot of hard work, but I have done it with all the enthusiasm in my heart for the success of grand opera in Boston.

"I sincerely hope that you will not be too quick or harsh in criticising. Please come again later.

"Everybody has done his best, and the people responsible in a great way for the success of the opera house are Mr. Sherman Rogers, who will continue to be connected with her mother, M. Baklanoff and Mr. Arnaldo Conti, splendid conductor, not only with his clear and wonderful voice, but also as his intelligence as an artist. He has excellent diction and his virility. I hear that he is still in the early twenties. He should have a future to look forward to which many singers on the stage might envy him.

"On the whole, M. Baklanoff was the surprise and the most noteworthy surprise of the performance.

"Yet it had many rivals, with her glorious voice, Nordica would cheerfully have sung her part had been praying that they would possess to be. And it was with a sigh of regret as we learned from the evidences of our ears that though not perhaps as free from flaws as the old Boston Theatre or the Manhattan Opera House, the new theatre was likely to be success, being a thing for the future, for the present training and as a guide of fashion.

"The management of the Metropolitan, the palace opened by the New York million-aires three years ago, would thank heaven if their costly structure had proved nearly as successful as this Boston house.

"Upstairs, in the balconies, I found the acoustics even more convincing than in the orchestra.

"But—"

Ah, there is a "but."

The delicacies of the orchestration were reproduced less brilliantly than the vocal effects from the artists on the boards. To be candid, the fine lights and shades of Ponchielli's instrumentation came to us but dimly, mezzanine and in the balconies slightly more so.

Possibly some remedy can be found for this defect. But, if it is done, as I imagine it is, to the material of which the opera house has been constructed to make it more reproof, improvements may be difficult. And we have still to learn how music, vocal and instrumental, will sound in a half-filled auditorium.

What the artistic management could do to secure the trimness of the opening function was evident thoroughly.

The interpretation of "La Gioconda," by nearly all who were concerned in it, would have done credit to the most famous European opera house.

If Mr. Russell has many more singers in reserve like the baritone, George Baklanoff, New Yorkers may soon be coming over to hear the Bostonians, instead of Bostonians coming over to New York.

I do not hesitate to say that, without exception, M. Baklanoff is one of the most remarkable dramatic baritones who has been heard in a long, long many years. His voice may not be quite as smooth, or quite as velvety in quality as that of Amato, or be faultlessly handled as Sammarco's, but it has strength, sureness, temperament and power. In the duo with Enzo, in the first act, and later in the aria which precedes the entrance of Gioconda with her mother, M. Baklanoff was the artist, the consummate artist. He showed his clear and wonderful voice, but also his intelligence as an actor, his excellent diction and his virility. I hear that he is still in the early twenties. He should have a future to look forward to which many singers on the stage might envy him.

On the whole, M. Baklanoff was the surprise and the most noteworthy surprise of the performance.

Yet it had many rivals, with her glorious voice, Nordica would cheerfully have sung her part had been praying that they would possess to be. And it was with a sigh of regret as we learned from the evidences of our ears that though not perhaps as free from flaws as the old Boston Theatre or the Manhattan Opera House, the new theatre was likely to be success, being a thing for the future, for the present training and as a guide of fashion.

"The management of the Metropolitan, the palace opened by the New York million-aires three years ago, would thank heaven if their costly structure had proved nearly as successful as this Boston house.

"Upstairs, in the balconies, I found the acoustics even more convincing than in the orchestra.

"But—"

Ah, there is a "but."

The delicacies of the orchestration were reproduced less brilliantly than the vocal effects from the artists on the boards. To be candid, the fine lights and shades of Ponchielli's instrumentation came to us but dimly, mezzanine and in the balconies slightly more so.

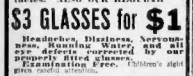
Possibly some remedy can be found for this defect. But, if it is done, as I imagine it is, to the material of which the opera house has been constructed to make it more reproof, improvements may be difficult. And we have still to learn how music, vocal and instrumental, will sound in a half-filled auditorium.

What the artistic management could do to secure the trimness of the opening function was evident thoroughly.

The interpretation of "La Gioconda," by nearly all who were concerned in it, would have done credit to the most famous European opera house.

If Mr. Russell has many more singers in reserve like the baritone, George Baklanoff,

12 DAYS ONLY



We will offer our regular
$5 GLASSES for $2
In 12 kt. gold filled mountings, warranted to wear 10 years, your choice of over 1000 styles. Same as SOLD OUR REGULAR
$3 GLASSES for $1
Headaches, Dizziness, Nervousness, Ringing Noises and all eye defects corrected by our properly fitted glasses.
Examination Free. Children's sight given careful attention.
LUBY BROS.
37 Tremont St. Up One Flight
5 Doors from Houghton & Dutton.
Open 9 a. m. until 8 p. m. Sat. until 9 p. m.

IT HAS STOOD THE TEST OF TIME.
WOODBURY'S
Facial Soap
If you don't use Woodbury's Soap on the basis of a one-cake test, it's your loss.

The CROWN PIANO
One Grade Only—The Highest
FIRST and foremost in tone and durability
SECOND to none in construction and design
The only piano having a practice clavier
C. C. HARVEY Co.
144 BOYLSTON ST
Pianos to Rent

SHOWS GYM PLANS BY STEREOPTICON

Edward T. P. Graham of Boston, the architect, explained to the men of St. Mary's parish, Cambridge, past night, the plans for their new gymnasium building, which he illustrated with a stereopticon. The building is to have four stories. In the basement are to be eight bowling alleys and the "gym." The women of the parish have been invited to view the plans tonight.

Uneeda Biscuit
are made from the finest flour and the best materials obtainable—
That Makes them an ideal
FOOD

Uneeda Biscuit
are baked in surroundings where cleanliness and precision are supreme—
That Makes them
PURE

Uneeda Biscuit
are touched only once by human hands —when the pretty girls pack them—
That Makes them
CLEAN

Uneeda Biscuit
are sealed in a moisture proof package—
That Keeps them
FRESH

5¢

GREAT DISPLAY OF FASHION

Wealth and Beauty of Boston Represented in the Audience Presents a Most Dazzling Scene.

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

Out-soaring all previous flights into realms-starrial, the society women of Boston amazed themselves and augmented the triumphal opening of grand opera last night by emerging like a myriad of butterflies from their chrysalis of conservative gowning in array such as Solomon in all his glory must not have even glimpsed.

To the marvel of unrivalled melody was added the magic much human beauty—the dainty blossoming kind of beauty for which Boston femininity is famed.

When the supreme setting and occasion comes, as it did last night, the Boston woman proves that she can queen it in robes royally fit.

Like terraced tropical flower gardens were the tiers of boxes, where beautiful women in gorgeous gowns and blazing jewels gave the lie forever to the calumny that Boston could not adopt the ways and wiles of fashion should she choose.

The Night of Nights.

"Why, it was revelation. It was romance. It was prophesy—yes really"—and that from a blase New Yorker.

But the sentiment was unanimous, and Boston just bows and smiles and wears her blushing honors with the ultimate coquetry and calm that only Boston can.

It was especially the night of nights—the one grand, glorious occasion for the debutantes.

It was the prelude to their season in town and gave the critics and authorities the first opportunity to select the belle and make proper note. All the entrees of every mother and child who passed in knew there was criticism, appreciation and recognition.

But debutantes alike Cornelia's jewels were what both men and women were occupied with. Bachelors with gray hair or shining bald heads, doubtless felt suddenly old when they looked at the grown-up daughter of some pretty girl they "used" married," while the older girls shared none too willingly the evening's honors with the "buds."

Grand Show of Gowns.

As the wraps were removed and all comfortably seated only the gowns had attention, and matrons as well as debutantes had their admirers. It was during the intermission, however, that we caught the real glimpse—or rather the glimpses—of real society, for in no other mass formation made for the promenade at the end of the first act.

It was in the corridors that the real gown showed took place, and quick parade was a seething, blazing, vari-colored mass of flowers of fashion in all the glory of diamonds, decollete, shimmering satins, and, in fact, the most gorgeous of array.

Coronets of jewels were the most notable features of the matrons' attire, while the younger girls wore bands of pearls or gold in their hair and the genuine debutantes the simple bandeau of flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben D. Jordan occupied the family box. The prowess and pride of father of grand opera for Boston felt that the night was one of real triumph for him. His wife fully shared his feelings of satisfaction. With Mr. and Mrs. Jordan in their box were Robert Jordan and Miss Dorothy Jordan, their son and daughter; Mrs. Arthur Foster, sister of Mr. Jordan, and Mrs. Henry Russell, both of whom had come as guests of the Jordans and to share their triumph with them.

Some Handsome Costumes.

Mrs. Jordan looked charming in a magnificent gown of liberty satin, beautifully ornamented with lace, diamonds and pearls. Mrs. Foster wore a gown of black net heavily jetted. Miss Dorothy wore white muslin with embroidery of white silk, interwoven with pearl, crystal and blue beads, and Miss Russell, white satin and tulle, with corsage bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. James A. Garland had a supper party of guests with her. Among her guests were her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Sines, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Faircloth and Wilmot Gray. Mrs. Faircloth and Garland was magnificently gowned in black brocaded satin. Her jewels were diamonds and sapphires. Miss Sines wore yellow embroidered satin and lace, and Mrs. Gray, a child, black satin with bodice outlined in white.

Mrs. Susan Thayer and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Von Rensselaer Crosby were a party. Mr. and Mrs. Crosby were guests of Mrs. Thayer. They formed one of the most striking box parties of the first night. Mrs. Thayer wore white satin covered with lace; Miss Thayer, white satin and tulle; Mrs. Crosby, electric blue satin, under self-toned lace, pearls and diamonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Hayden occupied the box of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Linden. They had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farley Clark and Miss Hayden, in white satin and lace trimmed with diamond ornaments; Mrs. Clark, white satin under black lace.

Yellow Satin and Diamonds.

The Bryce Allan box immediately adjoins the box of Eben D. Jordan. Among others in this box were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Norman. Mrs. Allan wore primrose yellow satin and lace, with rich diamond ornaments, and Mrs. Norman white satin almost buried under lace.

With Mr. and Mrs. Norman, Sr., were their daughters, Miss Ulsthelme and Paul Hunt. Harvey S. Leeds, assistant Professor Rubner of the Columbia University department of physiology, and Miss Leeds were best in cloth of gold covered with gold chrysanthemums and Miss Stimson in ivory satin and lace, with touches of gold.

Professor and Mrs. Schofield had as their guests President Lowell of Harvard University and Mrs. Lowell, and Professor and Mrs. Barrett Wendell. Mrs. Wendell wore pale blue satin and clothed with white lace.

Assisting the sixteen year boy was that accomplished lady, Charles F. Wright. Her guests included Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rotch, Mrs. A. P. Peirce, Colonel and Mrs. Peirce, Miss Helen MacNichol, and Miss Gordon Peirce. Mrs. Peirce wore gray embroidered satin with lace. Some of her diamonds were pearls gathered in her hair and at her neck. Mrs. Peirce wore white and blue satin, with lace trimmed. Miss Rotch, in white satin with jet ornaments, and Miss Peirce, in white satin and shirt which was draped with ropes of pearls. Miss MacNichol looked beautiful in pale blue satin with embroidery of cut steel and blue paillettes, turquoise and diamond ornaments.

Julia Arthur Was There.

Mrs. Benjamin H. Cheney, formerly Julia Arthur, entertained many guests. She wore white satin and lace white Miss Elizabeth Cheney wore pale blue satin with embroidery. Both wore magnificent diamonds.

Mrs. Stanley McCormick had with her mother, Mrs. Wier Dexter, Charles Fitzgerald, who is to be from St. Paul. Miss, to be an usher at the wedding of his cousin, Arthur S. Fley, and Miss Hall, on Thursday, and the Butler Ames. Mrs. McCormick wore blue satin elaborately wrought in gold, covered with cream lace, and her mother, white brocade with lace and gold ropes of pearls and diamond ornaments.

Among those who were Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Stevens entertained were Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lloner, the latter in pale blue satin with embroidery of gold and pearl beads.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames had a party including the latter's mother, Mrs. Preston Wier. Mrs. Wier wore yellow satin with lace and a dog-collar of diamonds and pearls, and Mrs. West, dove gray velvet, a profusion of white lace and touches of black.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bird had with them their daughter, Miss Edith, Lamb Agassiz Shaw, Miss Elizabeth Lamb and her brother, Morris Gray, Jr. Mrs. Bird was in black velvet, with white lace and diamonds. Miss Bird in rose colored silk and lace.

Other Box Parties.

With Mr. and Mrs. William Wood were Mr. and Mrs. William Lindsey, Miss Leslie Lindsey, Miss Caroline Wheaton and Miss Esther Pickering. Mrs. Wood wore white satin with overdress of black Mrs. Lindsey, with a paris gown of white satin and very white tulle richly embroidered in silver, pearls and diamonds; Miss Lindsey, coral colored satin, with pearl embroidery; Miss Wheaton, white satin, with gold embroidery, and Miss Pickering, pompadour silk.

Mrs. Horatio G. Curtis, with the Curtis family occupying the box, had a very gay party and lace with touches of cerise; pearl and diamond ornaments.

With Mrs. Charles R. Hayden were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Merriman. The hostess wore black velvet with white lace; Mrs. Stanton, white satin with gold embroidery, and Mrs. Merriman, yellow satin covered with black jetted lace.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Reed Anthony had a family party, including Mrs. Nathan Anthony and Miss Ruth and Mr. Andrew Anthony. The hostess wore black liberty covered with tulle, several diamond and pearl stone ornaments on the bodice; and her daughter a gown of white satin and very spangled pulletted tulle, over her shoulders a scarf of French blue embroidered in silver. Mrs. Nathan Anthony was in black satin and lace.

Norfolk Hunters Present.

In the box as guests of members of the Norfolk Hunt were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lothrop Ames, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rice, Jr. Mrs. Contesse wore old gold satin with lace, and Mrs. Rice black velvet and lace, with diamonds. Mrs. Ames' dress, which was bought by several of the Norfolk Hill colony, were, among others, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Webster, the last named in white satin and lace with pink roses and diamonds.

Thomas W. Lawson entertained a family party—Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Eben H. Sturtevant, Gilbert Lawson, and Mr. and Mrs. James Potter Lord (Marion Lawson). Mrs. Lord wore pale blue satin striped chiffon with emeralds and diamonds; her sister, black velvet and diamonds with corsage bouquet of maney orchids; and Mrs. Lawson, pink velvet, with black pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ayer had a family party, including their daughter, Miss Beatrice Ayer. Miss Banning of California and Frederick Ayer, Jr. The hostess wore white satin embroidered; her daughter, yellow satin and tulle with touches of dark brown, and Miss Banning, old rose moire with lace.

The Hunnewells Attend.

With Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Hunnewell were their daughters, Miss Ulsthelme and Paul Hunt. Harvey S. Leeds, assistant Professor Rubner of the Columbia University department of physiology, and Miss Leeds were best in cloth of gold covered with gold chrysanthemums and Miss Stimson in ivory satin and lace, with touches of gold.

Professor and Mrs. Schofield had as their guests President Lowell of Harvard University and Mrs. Lowell, and Professor and Mrs. Barrett Wendell. Mrs. Wendell wore pale blue satin and clothed with white lace.

Assisting the sixteen year boy was that accomplished lady, Charles F. Wright. Her guests included Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rotch, Mrs. A. P. Peirce, Colonel and Mrs. Peirce, Miss Helen MacNichol, and Miss Gordon Peirce. Mrs. Peirce wore gray embroidered satin with lace. Some of her diamonds were pearls gathered in her hair and at her neck. Mrs. Peirce wore white and blue satin, with lace trimmed. Miss Rotch, in white satin with jet ornaments, and Miss Peirce, in white satin and shirt which was draped with ropes of pearls. Miss MacNichol looked beautiful in pale blue satin with embroidery of cut steel and blue paillettes, turquoise and diamond ornaments.

Julia Arthur Was There.

Mrs. Benjamin H. Cheney, formerly Julia Arthur, entertained many guests. She wore white satin and lace white Miss Elizabeth Cheney wore pale blue satin with embroidery. Both wore magnificent diamonds.

Mrs. Stanley McCormick had with her mother, Mrs. Wier Dexter, Charles Fitzgerald, who is to be from St. Paul, Minn., to be an usher at the wedding of his cousin, Arthur S. Fley, and Miss Hall, on Thursday, and the Butler Ames. Mrs. McCormick wore blue satin elaborately wrought in gold, covered with cream lace, and her mother, white brocade with lace and gold ropes of pearls and diamond ornaments.

Among those who were Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Stevens entertained were Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lloner, the latter in pale blue satin with embroidery of gold and pearl beads.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames had a party including the latter's mother, Mrs. Preston Wier. Mrs. Wier wore yellow satin with lace and a dog-collar of diamonds and pearls, and Mrs. West, dove gray velvet, a profusion of white lace and touches of black.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bird had with them their daughter, Miss Edith, Lamb Agassiz Shaw, Miss Elizabeth Lamb and her brother, Morris Gray, Jr. Mrs. Bird was in black velvet, with white lace and diamonds. Miss Bird in rose colored silk and lace.

Other Box Parties.

With Mr. and Mrs. William Wood were Mr. and Mrs. William Lindsey, Miss Leslie Lindsey, Miss Caroline Wheaton and Miss Esther Pickering. Mrs. Wood wore white satin with overdress of black Mrs. Lindsey, with a paris gown of white satin and very white tulle richly embroidered in silver, pearls and diamonds; Miss Lindsey, coral colored satin, with pearl embroidery; Miss Wheaton, white satin, with gold embroidery, and Miss Pickering, pompadour silk.

Mrs. Horatio G. Curtis, with the Curtis family occupying the box, had a very gay party and lace with touches of cerise; pearl and diamond ornaments.

With Mrs. Charles R. Hayden were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Merriman. The hostess wore black velvet with white lace; Mrs. Stanton, white satin with gold embroidery, and Mrs. Merriman, yellow satin covered with black jetted lace.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Reed Anthony had a family party, including Mrs. Nathan Anthony and Miss Ruth and Mr. Andrew Anthony. The hostess wore black liberty covered with tulle, several diamond and pearl stone ornaments on the bodice; and her daughter a gown of white satin and very spangled pulletted tulle, over her shoulders a scarf of French blue embroidered in silver. Mrs. Nathan Anthony was in black satin and lace.

Norfolk Hunters Present.

In the box as guests of members of the Norfolk Hunt were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lothrop Ames, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rice, Jr. Mrs. Contesse wore old gold satin with lace, and Mrs. Rice black velvet and lace, with diamonds. Mrs. Ames' dress, which was bought by several of the Norfolk Hill colony, were, among others, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Webster, the last named in white satin and lace with pink roses and diamonds.

Thomas W. Lawson entertained a family party—Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Eben H. Sturtevant, Gilbert Lawson, and Mr. and Mrs. James Potter Lord (Marion Lawson). Mrs. Lord wore pale blue satin striped chiffon with emeralds and diamonds; her sister, black velvet and diamonds with corsage bouquet of maney orchids; and Mrs. Lawson, pink velvet, with black pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ayer had a family party, including their daughter, Miss Beatrice Ayer. Miss Banning of California white satin cut decollete and with a tunic of pearls and crystals. Her earrings were great massive affairs of long pendants in length and one in diameter were set in diamonds and attracted to end of attention.

MRS. CHANDLER HOVEY.

Photo by Garo of prominent society woman present at the opera opening.

Tiers of Boxes Resemble a Terraced Tropical Flower Garden of the Rich and Jeweled Orient.

Her necklace was of pearls with a diamond pendant. Mrs. Cushing, with her distinguished young artist husband, was a guest in the George H. Bunting box.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill and J. Murray Forbes were also guests in the Bunting box.

One of the few lilied young matrons present was the Countess Moira Chapman Clayton, who, in her strikingly handsome gown of raspberry satin, sat forthfront the evening in her father's box, during intermissions she held quite a little court.

But of all the debutantes present none attracted more attention than she the pretty little daughter of our Governor—Dorothy Draper.

She arrived early with her mother, Mrs. Draper, in black satin and tulle trimmed with set and gold, and diamonds and pearls for ornaments, and was a picture in her imported frock of white satin trimmed with touches of lace.

Pearls were her only ornaments and became her vastly.

Miss Josie Bird, one of the many brides to be united in the throng, suggested Carlotta in simpler, more youthful Cleopatra style with her dark hair dressed over her shoulders and her clinging gown of white satin showing to perfection her slender, lithe figure.

During the intermission she left the family party, which included her husband, in a beautifully sacked gown of amber, in a beautifully sacked gown of amber, in a beautifully sacked gown of black velvet; her sister, Edith, in pink, and promenaded with her fiance, Louis Agassiz Shaw.

They're surely a distinguished appearing pair and all eyes were turned in their direction as they passed.

Mrs. Jackson in Green Gown.

Leslie Bradley, the dainty little daughter of Mrs. Harriet Bradlee, was as always much admired, and I have never seen a more looking brother than in his gown of golden satin trimmed with gold lace and pearls. A wisp of gold held her hair in place and gave her whole dainty figure a delightfully virgin look.

In striking contrast to the dainty figure in gold was Miss Rosamond Bradley, the sister, in raspberry satin trimmed with white lace and pearls.

It didn't take long to discover Mrs. James Jackson, Jr., even though not in a box, as her gown of vivid green stood out in bold relief against the paler hues surrounding her.

Her diamonds, which are among the rarest in Boston, eclipsed all other jewels in her vicinity.

One of the most striking gowns was that worn by Mrs. Edward Remington. It was a deep crepe satin made along the lines of the latest mode and trimmed with diamonds.

Mrs. Gardiner, in a gown of black lace, was among the most handsome of all.

Mrs. Bernstein Beal, black chiffon and lace with diamond ornaments, lorded the long collier.

Miss Priscilla Stackpole, in white satin and lace, who was with her sister, Robert Grant, Jr.

Mrs. Olivia Thorndike, blue satin with white tulle and gold embroidery.

Mrs. Richard J. Noddings, rose-colored satin with touches of gold and white lace.

Miss Barbara Higginson, white satin and very spangled overdress.

Miss Margaret Young, green satin and chiffon with gold embroidery.

Mrs. George C. Lee, in lavender crepe with white lace, and her daughter in law, Mrs. James Jackson, Jr., in white chiffon standing to green.

In the Sears Box.

Mrs. J. Montgomery Sears, black satin with a handsome embroidery of jet and diamonds on corsage and in the hair. Her daughter, Miss Helen Sears, in white satin and tulle with crystal embroidery.

Miss Adele Thayer, mauve-colored chiffon and tulle with white lace, many diamonds.

Miss William Minot, white satin and lace with flowered silk.

Miss Ethel Pitch, black jetted lace with diamonds.

Mrs. Theodore Lasell, pink satin with white lace and embroidery.

Mrs. Arthur W. Blake, black lace and chiffon over white satin, diamonds and pearls.

Mrs. Kennetie Hartog, recently returned from a long stay in Europe. Who was in black.

Mrs. Horatio Lamb, white satin and lace with diamonds on the corsage and in the hair.

Mrs. Gardiner M. Lane, black satin and tulle with touches of white and diamond ornaments.

Miss Katharine Warren, white satin and lace.

Mrs. Robert M. Morse, black satin with jet and diamonds.

Mrs. George Monks, salmon pink with lace, white and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. William W. Vaughan, black lace over white satin, diamonds and pearls.

Black Satin and Diamonds.

Mrs. George H. Stoddard, black satin and lace with diamonds.

Miss Elsie Beebe, yellow satin covered with tulle pulletted in brown tones.

Mrs. Ralph Fuller, in Kingston, R. I., of London, black jetted lace with touch of white and diamonds.

Mrs. John H. Morison, pompadour silk with white lace.

Mrs. H. Fay, black with touch of purple; her daughter, Miss Dorothy Fay, white satin and tulle.

Miss Ruth Flint, crepe de chine with silver fittings.

Mrs. Dudley Pickman, black jetted lace and diamonds.

Mrs. Thomas Motley, black satin with lace and diamonds.

Mrs. Charles Barnes, Jr., pale blue satin with fringe trimmings.

Mrs. Mathew Luce, black satin with touches of white.

Mrs. Hugh Bancroft, lavender satin with white lace; her sister, Miss Martha Wolcott, colored satin, and their mother, Mrs. Clarence W. Barron, in black velvet with diamonds.

Camp Out in the Forest.

PINE-LADEN ATMOSPHERE OF GREAT BENEFIT TO THOSE WHO HAVE CONSUMPTION.

Among the mighty pines of the Adirondack Mountains are hundreds, perhaps thousands, of consumptive people, who have returned to the primitive life of the early pioneer in an effort to recover health. They live in camps built of rough logs, and constantly inhale the fragrant, piney, outdoor air, which has a soothing, healing effect upon the affected organs.

There is a peculiar virtue in pine which makes it a splendid remedy for coughs and colds and other affections of the throat and bronchial organs. This valuable medicinal property is present in the Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, which is a combination of the active principles of pine and sanitol balsam.

To break up a cold quickly there is nothing so effective as the mixture of two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, and eight ounces of pure Whiskey. Take a teaspoonful every four hours. The ingredients are not expensive and can easily be mixed at home in a large bottle. It makes enough to last the average family an entire year, and will cure any cough that is curable. If you have any difficulty in securing a pure medicinal Whiskey, send forty cents to the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O., who manufacture the genuine Virgin Oil Pine compound pure, and they will see that you are supplied with a full half pint of pure, straight whiskey by prepaid express

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Every once in a while a discovery is made, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results are had after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use potash for these minor skin troubles should immediately secure one of the special 50-cent packages recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may be obtained in Boston at all Riker-Jaynes drug stores, Houghton & Dutton's drug dept., and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN

Published Daily and Sunday at 50 and 52 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING CO.

Entered as second class matter June 5, 1907, at the postoffice at Boston, Mass.

Terms: Postage included for the United States (outside of Boston) and Mexico.

Daily only:
One year	$6.00
Six months	3.25
One month	.55
Sunday only:
One year	1.50
Six months	.75
Daily and Sunday:
One year	$7.50
Six months	4.00
One month	.65

MAIL AND TELEPHONE ORDERS A SPECIALTY

Boston's Finest Restaurant

HENRY SIEGEL CO.

Washington and Essex Sts., Boston, Mass. Only Strictly Fireproof Store

$4,000 for Charity

Donated by Henry Siegel Co. Write name of Charity you favor on back of sales slips and deposit in Ballot Box, Second Floor, or mail to us.

Closing Out Sale of Fine Thin Imported English Dinner Ware in Open Stock Patterns at Half Price.

Is your dinner set complete for Thanksgiving? If not, you can fill in the missing pieces at this sale for one-half regular prices. Every woman knows what open stock patterns are. This is a sale of such patterns and should bring the largest crowd to our China Department that we have had in many a day. The prices are one-half because these are Patterns that we have decided to discontinue. NOT a complete stock of ALL decorations but SOME of each kind.

Complete Dinner Sets

Our Cecil Pattern, "Cobalt Blue Border with Enamel Spray of Roses-buds.

112 Pieces, were $35.00 Now 17.50

130 Pieces, were $45.00 Now 22.50

Blue Elgar, flow blue, gold lined, very fine, thin grade of English porcelain.

112 Pieces, were $25.00 Now 12.50

130 Pieces, were $35.00 Now 17.50

Odd Dinner Ware

Open Stock Pattern—English Porcelain, Our Brisbane, Pink Flower border decorations, gold lined knobs and handles.

Open Stock Patterns—Our Opaque Dresden Flower, English Porcelain.

Open Stock Patterns—Blue and Red Flaxman, English Porcelain decorations.

5-inch Pie Plates were $2.25 a dozen. Now 10c each

6-inch Tea Plates were $2.50 a dozen. Now 12c each

Odd Dinner Ware

7-inch Breakfast Plates were $3.00 a dozen. Now 15c each

8-inch Dinner Plates were $2.50 a dozen. Now 19c each

7-inch Soup Plates were $2.00 a dozen Now 15c each

4-inch Fruit Saucers were $1.50 a dozen Now 7c each

Individual Butters were $1.25 a dozen Now 5c each

Meat Dishes 9-inch, were 50c. Now 25c

12-inch, were $1.00. Now 50c

14-inch, were $1.50. Now 75c

16-inch, were $2.00. Now 1.00

Round and Oval Open Bakers or Vegetable Dishes

6-inch, were 35c..... Now 19c

7-inch, were 45c..... Now 25c

8-inch, were 60c..... Now 35c

Tea Cups and Saucers were $3.00 and $3.50 a dozen. Now 15c each

Odd Dinner Ware

Coffee Cups and Saucers were $4.00 and $4.50 a dozen. Now 19c each

Sugar Bowls were 75c and $1.00 a dozen. Now 39c each

Butter Dishes were $1.00 and $1.25 a dozen. Now 50c each

Jugs or Pitchers Pint size, were 50c..... Now 25c

Quart size, were 75c..... Now 35c

Half gallon, were $1.00 ... Now 50c

Soup Tureens were $3.00 ..... Now 1.50

Covered Vegetable Dishes were $2.00 ..... Now 1.00

Egg Cups Double wire, were $2.50 doz. Now 10c each

Custard Cups were $2.50 a dozen Now 10c each

Sauce Boats were 65c..... Now 25c each

Oatmeal Dishes were $3.00 a dozen Now 10c each

Wednesday Sale of Blankets and Comforters that will take the frost out of these cold nights and not let you feel the drain upon your purse.

$3.25 Wool Blankets $2.59

Size 11-4 White Wool Blankets, very heavy and warm, finished with pink or blue borders, and wide silk binding.

$5 Wool Blankets $3.69

Size 11-4 White California Wool Blankets, very heavy and warm, finished with pink or blue borders and wide silk binding.

$2 Comforters for $1.49

Full size Comforters, covered with good quality silkoline in light, medium and dark floral patterns and filled with white carded cotton.

$3 Comforters for $2.00

Full size Comforters, covered with the best quality silkoline, pretty floral patterns, and heavily filled with white carded cotton, either tufted or stitched.

$2 Bed Spreads for $1.59

Full size Crochet Bed Spreads, with heavy tasseled fringe and cut-out corners, pretty Marseilles patterns.

This Case of Scotch Madras Fell Off the Dock in N. Y. and Got a Drenching

Every piece is now thoroughly dry and as good as ever, but all such goods are taken over by the Salvage Underwriters and sold to the highest bidder. We secured this shipment at

33½c on the Dollar

Which Means Fine Imported Scotch Madras

At 49c a yd—Value 1.50 | At 29c a yd—Value 75c
At 39c a yd—Value 1.00 | At 15c a yd—Value 35c

Real Renaissance Lace Bed Sets at $1.98

This is the first time a real Renaissance Lace Bed Set was ever offered for $1.98 and you must not fail to secure one at the price while this lot lasts, Wednesday. The spread, $1.98, is of heavy Cluny Lace, consisting of full size spread and roll. We doubt that you have ever seen this set before for less than $3.50. Wednesday $1.98

Mission Rope Portieres for 6-ft. Door $5.75

If we had space to illustrate this value these Portieres would not last until noon Wednesday, as they have always been regarded as a remarkable value at $7.50. The Rope is of heavy Chenille with wide bands of Tapestry, with plain or two-tone colorings. Wednesday $5.75

Choice of These Lace Curtains at $1.98

$3.75 Scotch Lace Curtains
$2.95 Linen Cluny Lace Curtains
$3.50 Cotton Cluny Curtains
$3.00 Embroidered Bonnaz Curtains

24 Designs at $1.98 a Pair

16 of the Many Wed. Bargains in Kitchen Furnishings

Coal Hod, made of heavy galvanized iron, reinforced with wire. Holds 25 lbs. high. 23c

Lindsay Lights, pair complete, for use. 59c

Inverted Lights—Complete, for use by the Lindsay light system, complete with mantle, burner and chimney. Half frosted globe. Regular price $1.00, now 59c

Muffin Pans—Holds six muffins. Tinned iron. Pans, special, each, at 7c

Spice Cabinets of polished wood, japanned Tin, with drawers, one and one-half inches deep. $1.50 value. 89c

Ash Sifter—Heavy galvanized iron, with rotary sifter. Special for this sale, price $4.50. 89c

Dining Room Pans, 2-qt. quality, each, and one 11x16 inches. 25c each

Mrs. Potts' $1.25 Sad Irons, nickel plated, set of 3 pieces. 98c

Extra handles, new style, each 7c
Extra stands, new style 8c

Water Pails of heavy galvanized iron; 10-qt. size, for 25c

Harris Mt. Canary Birds, entirely solid for $2.50. Imported from Germany each, for a trained singer $1.98

Ash Cans—Three-pinched steel galvanized, No. 18, extra strong one piece body, with cover and regular price $2.75. $1.89

Extra heavy round or oblong Fruit or Pickle Preserves, for using potatoes and mashing fruits and vegetables; reg. 35c. 19c

Bread Raisers, en tout, with cover, all over. Reg. 30c. Sale price 25c

Furnace Shovels—Heavy steel shovel, with D handles. Regularly sold for 69c. Special for this sale. 49c

$9.50 Oak Heating Stove $6.95

With the new coal saving back pipe or indirect draft. This is the newest coal saving device and will save many dollars, paying for itself in a season. It easily heats a fire over night.

Size No. 11 $6.95
Size No. 12 $8.95
Size No. 13 $10.95

$5.00 Oil Stove $3.98

Full nickel plated rails, 8-inch wick with smoke and bonnet, solid brass parts, with automatic indicator.

Gas Radiator $1.50

Four tubes, aluminum finish, japan finish, for gas heaters.

4-tube high.. $1.98
6-tube low.. $2.50
6-tube high.. $2.98

Henry Siegel Co. Store Hours, Daily 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS IN BOSTON AMERICAN

MRS. STETSON'S EYE IS BLACKENED IN A FIGHT WITH BUSINESS FRIEND

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Henry F. Toler, formerly a business associate of Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, blacked the woman's eye in a physical encounter between the couple, according to the latest develop-ments in the Christian Science controversy.

Charges that contributions were made to Mrs. Stetson and that she would only accept gold and that she was practically opposed to marriage were made.

It is now believed that the next move in the trouble will be a decisive one and will have for its end the excommunication from the church of Mrs. Stetson. What is being done along this line is being sedulously guarded by the officials of the Mother Church in Boston.

Story Told in Affidavit.

The incidents between Toler and Mrs. Stetson were related in an affidavit made by Mrs. Laura A. Steele in an action to recover money which she lent, she says, by intrusting it to Mrs. Stetson and Mr. Toler.

"On June 16, 1905," says the affidavit, "Henry Pennington Toler said to Mrs. Stetson, 'You are responsible for my having done what I have done to the New Harlem matter' and at that time Henry Pennington Toler and Mrs. Stetson en-gaged in a physical encounter and Mr. Toler, while under the influence of mali-cious animal suggestion, administered a blackened eye to Mrs. Stetson."

Mrs. Steele has brought to the attention of the Boston officials of Christian Science her charges against Mrs. Stetson, and has told those officials that she believes the dis-appearance of certain papers of value to her in a lawsuit she instructed her attor-ney yesterday to begin at once, may be traced to persons whose business operations in connection with their profession of prac-ticing Christian Science are now under in-vestigation by the Boston officials of the church.

Former pupils of Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson and not Virgil O. Strickler were responsible for the charges of mental malpractice which resulted in Mrs. Stetson's deposition from the New York Christian Science Church, according to a statement to-day by Eugene B. Cox, head of the Christian Science Publication Society.

"There is a general feeling," said Mr. Cox, "that this proceeding was instituted by Mr. Strickler and that in being quite generally circulated among the members of the First Church of New York. This be-lief is quite incorrect. For a long time before this incident arose people had been leaving the First Church and going to other Christian Science churches in the city, giving their reasons for so doing more or less publicly. Last Winter a group of Mrs. Stetson's students, all of whom had been in the inner circle of practitioners, talked about the person of the leader of the Fifth Church, came out and gave their reasons why they were forced to di-vorce themselves from her. They severed their connection with Mrs. Stetson entirely."

Mr. Cox gives the names of seven per-sons among this number and says: "It is worthy of note that the charges made by these persons were fully corroborated by evidence of the practitioners under Mrs. Stetson, who testified adversely concern-ing the conduct of Mrs. Stetson and the testi-mony of others of her practitioners who testified there."

BIG ELECTRIC SHOW OPENS HERE MONDAY

A small army of scenic artists, deco-rators, electricians and carpenters are working night and day, under the direction of Chester L. Campbell, for the great Elec-tric Show, which will open in the Mechan-ics Building next Monday. Advance notices are naturally prone to exploit an attraction as the "best ever," but in this, the first electrical exposition ever held in this sec-tion of the country, the management is determined to offer not only one of the most complete exhibits of electrical appli-ances and apparatus, but the most gorge-ously decorated show that has ever been seen.

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for As-similating the Food and Regulat-ing the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion Cheerful-ness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.

NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor

A perfect Remedy for Constipa-tion, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

Guaranteed under the Food &

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

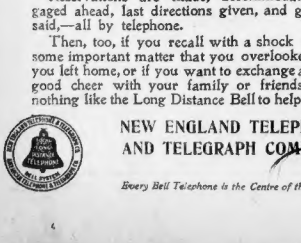
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

MAKING SURE of your ACCOMMODATIONS



"Assure Me a Lower On The First."

IF you are travelling,—it makes no difference by what means, boat, train or automobile,—you'll find the use of the TELEPHONE will smooth over many rough places.

Reservations are made, accommodations engaged ahead, last directions given, and good-bys said,—all by telephone.

Then, too, if you recall with a shock of alarm some important matter that you overlooked before you left home, or if you want to exchange a word of good cheer with your family or friends, there's nothing like the Long Distance Bell to help you out.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

Every Bell Telephone is the Centre of the System

LENA REMINGTON TO UNVEIL SHAFT AT BATON ROUGE

Miss Lena M. Remington.

Miss Lena M. Remington of Somerville, daughter of Capt. Remington, sergeant-at-arms of the Massachusetts Legislature of 1909, who commanded the Ninth Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers, during the Civil war. Miss Remington, accompanied by Governor Draper with two members of his staff and two of the Council, the committee on mili-tary affairs of the State Legislature for 1909, a party of civil war veterans and others will leave the South Station to-night on the trip to Baton Rouge to-morrow morn-ing.

SIGNATURES FIRM AT $.50

The quotation for signatures to papers of nomination in Ward 17 advanced to-day to fifty cents a name. The new market price was established by a bunch of enthusi-pedlethus who refused to affix their "John Hancocks" to a Fitzgerald paper unless they got the half dollar.

Immediately their stand became known, the quotation was firmly established and, unless the price is broken by enough chat-tably inclined voters, it looks as if it would spread to other wards.

The men who set the new figure, based it on the price charged to go to the Tam-many club hall to-morrow night, when Fitzgerald will be seen and heard. They declared that if it was worth fifty cents to see Fitzgerald it was worth fully as much to sign his petition.

Councilman Stephen Welch of Ward 15 is the man who was up to-day at the new quotation. He needed seven names to make his total of five hundred. He found some Ward 17 voters in a Warren street restaurant.

"I have some papers," he said, "that I would like to have you sign for John F. Fitzgerald."

"How much per sheet?" asked Welch.

"Well, you see," said the spokesman, "Fitzgerald is getting such a lot of note-worthy that he feels it is worth fifty cents to see him at the Tammany Club hall. Turn about is a square deal, and that's why we want fifty cents to let him see our auto-graphs on his petition."

Welch knows how was connected with an over row involving the disappearance of a horse in Hollis last Summer.

GAS METER THIEF TRIES TO ESCAPE

Arrested as a suspicious person, John Carroll, a young man recently released from the House of Correction at Deer Is-land, where he had been serving time for robbing coin in the slot gas meters, slipped from his roof in the rear of his home and leaped to the roof of the adjoining house, but the leap proved too much for him and he fell to the ground, breaking his left leg. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he was placed under arrest by Inspector Walker A. Smith and made a desperate attempt to escape. A mob of about 500 people, gath-ered through Pemberton Square, Scollay Square, Court street and Court square, and Saint Overlook and re-arrested Carroll in the window of the Court Square Police Sta-tion.

MRS. FLAGLER ILL FROM AUTO CRASH

PISHKILL LANDING, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Isla Flagler, the first wife of Henry M. Flagler, is reported to a serious condi-tion in the sanitarium of Dr. Charles E. McDonald at Central Valley, as the result of an automobile accident Sunday night.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE YOU SHOULD HAVE THE BEST.

Although there are hundreds of pre-parations advertised, there is only one that really stands out pre-eminent as a remedy for diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proved to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of even the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized. It is a gentle, heal-ing vegetable compound—a physician's prescription for a specific disease.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything.

A Sworn Certificate of Purity is with every bottle.

For sale at all drug stores, in bot-tles of two sizes—fifty cents and one dollar.

SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE BY MAIL

In order to prove what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder remedy will do for you, every reader of the Boston Daily American who has not already tried it, may receive a sample bottle by mail absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bingham-ton, N. Y. Write to-day.

CORNERING SIGNATURES FOR MAYOR

Facing the fact that thirty-six men have already taken out nomination papers, that fourteen are getting signatures and that probably six or seven are bona fide can-didates, the Committee of Twenty-five is to-day up against the proposition of hav-ing to work faster than its organizers had hoped.

The signature-market is being cornered, and the Committee of Twenty-five has not even completed organization, to say noth-ing of selecting a candidate.

At to-night's meeting at Chipman Hall, Tremont Temple, the committee hopes to get nothing to nominations will be made to-night and that the meeting is preliminary to a harmony conference, which, it is pre-dicted, who has been classed as a Storrow man, but who declares that he is not committed to any man, will meet Mr. Rothwell again. Mr. Rothwell has told Mr. Storrow that he will notify him be-fore a nomination is made.

To-night's meeting will be presided over by Richard Olney. It has been announced that Mr. Storrow will be formed to pre-sent and increase the organization and then the committee will go ahead feeling up to the nomination of a city ticket.

The Committee of Twenty-five consists of:

George W. Anderson, Ex-Governor John L. Bates, Moses Blodgett, James J. Carney, Thomas J. Carroll, Charles S. Caulfield, Paul Dresten, Francis W. Fabyan, Desmond Fitz-gerald, Charles S. Hamlin, Grafton D. Hunt, Henry E. Hagan, Henry Jackson, Dr. John Henry E. Hagan, Henry Jackson, Dr. John Homans, Dr. Edward H. Nichols, Richard C. Hom-er, Charles Pelotch, Dr. Charles H. Porter, Dr. Charles L. Scudder, Gustave Magnitzki, James F. Sweeney, Randall G. Morse, Edward Spencer Saltonstall, David P. Tilden and Robert C. Woods.

GALVIN OUT FOR MAYOR

Socialist workers are canvassing for sig-natures to nomination papers for Dr. George H. Galvin, founder of the Legal Aid Bu-reau Agency Hospital, for Mayor. Miss Sarah Sullivan Perkins of No. 18 Autumn street, for member of the Common Council; and a complete list of nominees for the City Council. Miss Perkins's maternal ances-tor, Richard Russell, was among the first settlers of Charlestown. Her paternal uncle founded the Perkins' Institute for the Blind.

Miss Perkins was instrumental in found-ing the Social Science Club and was its sec-retary for several years. She was for a time head worker of the College Settlement of the Massachusetts Infant Asylum, a director of the New England Hospital for Women, and for six years secretary of the Massachusetts Colonial Dames.

You see the AMERICAN everywhere about the city—in cafes, restaurants, hotels, cars and boats.

PAYS FINE, HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE

As his father handed over $50 in pay-ment of his fine in Malden to-day, Benja-min Tirrell of Cambridge was again arrested by State Officer Keating on a charge of selling a farm which he did not own in Hollis to Mrs. Ida B. Goodell of North Reading for $250. Tirrell was turned by the Malden police with receiv-ing a pocketbook and $14 from Walter S. Martin of 10 Greenwich Park, Roxbury. Haskell thinks he was connected with an over row involving the disappearance of a horse in Hollis last Summer.

FIGHTING TRACKS THROUGH CHELSEA

The people of Chelsea are anxiously awaiting an announcement by the Chelsea Board of Control of a public hearing on the petition of Boston & Albany railroad to run four track of the Boston & Albany railway a mile and a half in length on Eastern avenue and along the Highland Park, Ar-gonial and along Marginal street. The people of Chelsea defeated a similar pet-ition two years ago and declare the tracks will decrease the value of property.

JOHN S. KENNEDY WORTH $100,000,000?

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Wall street friends of John Stewart Kennedy said yesterday that, unless he had made very large distributions before his death, the amount of his estate would be nearer $100,000,000 than $50,000,000, at which it has been estimated. In Northern Pa-cific and Great Northern his actual in-vestments in those stocks were about $45,-000,000.

FAVORS FAIRY TALES FOR THE CHILDREN

Mrs. Arthur Frederick Sheldon, wife of Professor Sheldon, principal of the Sheldon school in Chicago, gave a talk on "Child Development for Children" at Huntington Chambers to-day. Mrs. Sheldon emphas-ized the importance of correct training for children. She endeavors to bring home to the children the salient points of character by fairy story illustrations which they are capable of understanding.

RICH SHOE MAN IS SENT TO AN ASYLUM

BROCKTON, Nov. 9.—E. A. Winner, a wealthy shoe manufacturer, was com-mitted to the Taunton Insane Hospital to-day under the orders of Medical Examiner Paine. The medical examiner stated that he believed Mr. Winner's condition to be due to a carriage accident which happened two years ago.

NEW YORK MILK TEN CENTS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A number of dairymen throughout the city to-day put into effect the threatened increase in the price of milk. They fixed the new price at ten cents a quart, and declared that they would continue to enforce this rate. Butter is anywhere from forty-five to fifty cents a pound.

Political Notes of Both Parties

Fifty or more of Alderman Ballantyne's friends will gather to-morrow evening and organize a signature committee. Those who will attend the gathering are mostly members of Beach neighborhoods to which he belongs. Harry Lauder has sent a postal re-questing that he cannot assist in the cam-paign.

There will be a round-up of the Fitzger-ald signature hunters to-day and a corps of clerks in the candidate's office will be on hand to certify the various names. It is ex-pected that the papers will be filed with the Election Commissioners the latter part of the week.

One of James J. Byrne's signature ex-perts found little encouragement and no signatures for his candidate when he visited the headquarters of the Democratic Club in Ward 20. Byrne was the O'Con-nell Club candidate for the local boss' seat, but he is said to be "in bad."

President George C. McCabe of the Common Council is one of those loud and outspoken against the Fitzgerald candi-dacy, and will probably support James F. Storrow. He was one of the most ac-tive supporters of Thos. N. Hart, Jr., on the record as favoring any candidate to beat Fitzgerald.

Alderman W. Dudley Cotton has an-nounced that he will not be a candidate for Councilman-at-large, thereby ending his ambitions for the seat of Congressman Gillett.

Mayor Hibbard's voice has shown mark-ed improvement within the past fortnight in every way, and his friends are confident he is being able to take the stump after election.

William H. McMasters, who has taken out papers for the mayoralty nomination, says that he will start his campaign with a rally in Faneuil Hall, November 15. McMasters is the candidate who, he says he will stump every section of the city.

Alderman "Tom" Gillis is endeavoring to have his nomination papers serve as a petition from the voters of his district, and He has secured 4,000 names and 3,000 of the signatures, are republicans, 1,000 are Democrats, and 1,000 are from the East Boston, representing all parties. Gillis has until midnight to-night to file his papers the latter part of the week.

Three more men who have taken out papers for the mayoralty nomination, are: Joseph A. Conry, ex-Councilman J. Collins of Ward 13, ex-Councilman George Kelly of Ward 18 and Councils-man George Keaney of Ward 18.

J. Mitchell English has taken out nomi-nation papers for the School Committee.

Although the convention system is sup-posed to be abandoned by the defeat of Hon. E. Mills resolutions are being sent in and it looks as if the most of them will be sent to the committee on rules where the fate of nominations is over. President James Donovan of the City Committee has a meeting of some of the ward chalmen this afternoon, for instance Bernard A. Rothwell's committee of 125 meets to-night; Mathew Cummings's friends will have a meeting; South Boston Democratic leaders have had one gathering to nomi-nate James A. Gallivan, and Representa-tive William H. O'Brien of Ward 16 is talking about calling a meeting of the twenty-five Democratic ward chairmen.

John A. Sullivan, chairman of the Finance Committee, refuses to say whether he is the better part of valor. It was suggested that he run for Mayor the week.

Political change have been saying that because of the breach between Mayor Hib-bard and the Republican organization in the city, the Democratic feelings is now in run-ning for re-election—the second being an-nounced by Mayor Hibbard from the field. The Mayor says this is untrue; that he will be a candidate to the end.

While the other candidates are debating whether they will go in or stay out, or whether they will support this organiza-tion or that, Nathaniel H. Taylor is lay-ing low and saying nothing. He is getting his papers signed under a plan of campaign laid out months and months ago, and he says he is in the field to stick, regardless of what the others may or may not do.

Mayor Hibbard's campaign committee is headed by a man in each of the twenty-five wards next week. William A. Bodfish is the chairman for Ward 20, and he should has 2,500 of the 5,000 signers he needs.

Another landmark in the getting of nomi-nating signatures has been passed. Fitzgerald has 12,000 signers already, but 3,500 more is the total of those now required properly, leaving the ex Mayor only 8,500 to go. The note in the record of Malden Democrats was supposed to win by a plurality of 1,200.

Another loss to the Democrats appear from the recount in Wards 6, 12, 14, 22 and 24 to-day. Two Republicans, Republican, who by twelve votes over Alexander B. Tolland, Democrat, and Gerald Sandberg, defeated by the recount in Ward 12. Tolland also has lost his seat in the Legislature, leaving so that the district returns two Republicans.

The friends of Matthew Cummings, for-mer Superintendent of Street Cleaning, who is a candidate for Mayor, are to hold a meeting at the Langham Hotel Thursday night.

MAY QUARANTINE 1,230 TWO WEEKS

Whether or not the 1,230 steerage pas-sengers on the Canopic will be quarantined for two weeks will be decided at the con-clusion of a thorough examination of the vessel being made by Dr. Paul Carson and Dr. Gay. It is learned that the Greek immigrants aroused considerable indignant days with the other steerage passengers.

COOPER'S FOLLOWERS GIVE REASON FOR THEIR BELIEF

With a theory that human health is dependent on the stomach and with a medicine which he says proves this theory, T. T. Cooper has built up an immense following during the past year.

Cooper has visited most of the lead-ing cities of the country, and in each city has aroused a storm of discussion over his theories and his medicine. Wherever he has gone, people have called upon him by thousands, and his preparation has sold in immense quantities.

The sale of this medicine has now spread over the entire country, and is being extensively used. From a re-view of this, the following statement from Mrs. Nettie C. Harris, living at 15 S. Second avenue, Mount Vernon City, N. Y., with reference to her re-cent recovery from a severe affliction, will be of uncommon interest. Mrs. Harris says:

"For the past five years I have been in suffering from acute indigestion, ner-vousness, constipation and hemorr-hoids. On December 22nd, 1906, my husband, thinking I might at any time die in one of the spells of indigestion, took me to London, Ohio, in order that I might be near my relatives. While there I had twenty-seven attacks, in each of which my life was despaired of.

"Finding that the change had not been beneficial, and that he could af-ford me no relief, my physician ad-vised me to return to the ocean. I would find nothing that would help me, and almost gave up in despair. On reading in our daily papers of Cooper's Great Discovery, I sent for a bottle in order to try it.

"Before taking half of the first bot-tle, I felt relief, believing it was do-ing me good, I continued taking it. I am now on the fourth bottle, and am feeling well and healthy. I am now eat food that I have not been able to eat for years without bringing on one of these terrible spells of indigestion.

"I have also been a great sufferer for many years from an aching in my lower limbs, caused by nervousness and preventing me from sleeping, but I have had no distress in that way for the past few weeks, for which I give Mr. Cooper's medicine credit. The hem-orrhoids, which were very distressing, have not troubled me since using the Cooper medicine.

"I feel so much better in every way that I am confident this medicine will completely restore me to good health. Words fail to express my gratitude for the benefit I have thus far received. I consider it marvelous."

Cooper's New Discovery can be ob-tained from all druggists.

LEAHY UNDER SIEGE IN HUNT FOR PELLETIER

If ever a Boston man is glad that he is out of politics that man is Attorney John P. Leahy, law partner of District Attorney-elect Joseph C. Pelletier. That was when Mr. Leahy was very much in politics. Now he declares fervently that he is a case of "never again" with him.

And it's all because of his law partner, the district attorney elect. The very next day after he was elected District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier fled the town, leaving his partner to bear the brunt of the storm of politicians, favor-hunters and all the others who follow in the wake of a man who is elected to an influential office.

Night and day since Mr. Pelletier es-caped from Boston there has been a con-stant stream of callers assailing his office, either after one of the places he will have to dispose of in his office or in the interest of aspirants for these places. The office simply is not big enough for them—all seeking Mr. Pelletier, and failing to find him, they have decided to see his partner.

Oftentimes in the week past, the office has been crowded and Mr. Leahy has found it simply impossible to do any ac-tive work, for that office is a perfect in-ustitute how often he has secured his visi-tors that they are looking for them, and that he is not in touch with his absen-tee, but they simply take their chances and their seekers continue to pester him.

Mr. Leahy expects Mr. Pelletier to re-turn to the city on Tuesday night. At that time he will open an office on Friday. It is believed that when Mr. Pelletier returns he will have decided upon all of his ap-pointments, but he will announce them on Friday upon taking the oath of office as district attorney.

TAMMANY CLUB IS STRONG FOR FITZ

There isn't any doubt where the Ward 17 Tammany Club stands. If there should be it will be settled conclusively to-night when the club gives a reception to John F. Fitz-gerald.

The club has sent out invitations for a ball at Intercolonial Hall, No. 214 Dudley street, and they are signed by Francis L. Daly as president and James M. Curley as secretary. It is going to be some affair if the name attached to any office lower than president.

The Fitzgerald reception will take place from 8 to 9 o'clock, and John F. will be given a warm welcome by the club.

Then comes the grand ball.

DUTCH KERMISS IN AID OF A CHURCH

A varied and attractive program has been arranged by the women of the First Congregational (Unitarian) Society of Jamaica Plain for the Dutch kermiss to be given in the parish house, Eliot street, to-morrow afternoon and evening, and Wednesday evening. The booths and Dutch show for the little folks, a sale of fancy work and homemade candy, and a Dutch cafe, where supper will be served both evenings from 5:30 o'clock to 7:30. For the vocalistic performance both even-ings members of the Vincent Club will sing. Miss Grace Barrett Russell, violin-ist, of Wellesley College will sing, and there will be a mu-sical programme.

SOME B. C. GERMS ON ALL MUMMIES

In a lecture on the long life of certain of the bacteria found in the soil, Professor Bo-logical class, Professor S. C. Prescott de-clared that if experiments were made for all the Egyptian mummies cases he be-lieved that germs would still be found on them which were preserved in the earliest times. The Tech scientist explained that as it was to be expected certain germs in the resting spore stage defied all time and weather conditions and that many existed in the ground for the general ignorance concerning the long life of germs caused the finding of germs from the dormant state by heat and light.

JONES, OF "FREIGHT" FAME, NEAR DEATH

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 9.—General Edward F. Jones, known throughout the country as "Jones pays the freight," is lying critically ill at a private hospital in this city of a complication of diseases. It was stated to-day that he is dying. Gen-eral Jones made a fine record in the Civil war, where he was colonel of the 109th reg-iment of the Fifth Massachusetts Regi-ment and was in charge of troops in Baltimore. For this he received the thanks of President Lincoln. For several years the general has been blind, but he has at-tended business.

THE SUNDAY AMERICAN is the Seventh Day Wonder of New England.

REQUIEM MASS FOR ORPHANS' HELPERS

Archbishop O'Connell will offer a high mass of requiem at 9 o'clock next Friday morning for the deceased benefactors of St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum. The ser-vice will be in the chapel of the orphanage. The friends and relatives of the benefac-tors who have died during the past year, and of the asylum corporation and lodges and societies which in the helpless little ones who are cared for in the institution.

AFTER-EFFECTS OF THE GRIP

Tonic Treatment Is Necessary After the Acute Stage of the Disease Is Past Before the Health Can Be Fully Restored.

A single attack of the grip may mean a lifetime of misery if proper precautions are not taken to restore the blood and drive out the lingering poisons that cause the so-called "after-effects" of the disease.

The danger from the grip is seldom over when the characteristic symptoms, the fever, the catarrh, the headache and the depression of spirits pass away. The grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, ner-vous prostration, and even consumption. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence.

This tonic treatment quickly restored Mrs. J. G. Reid, of No. 253 1-2 Fifth street, Jersey City, N. J., to health. She says:

"After an attack of the grip, which confined me to bed for about three weeks, I was left in a weak, run-down condi-tion. I was short of breath and had palpitation of the heart upon any little exertion. After going up stairs I would have to rest for several minutes. I was subject to splitting headaches and my kidneys were affected.

"The doctor's medicine was very slow in benefiting me and I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they had cured my daughter of weakness. It was relieved while taking the first box and continued with the pills until cured. I have not suffered from the grip since and have great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I cheerfully recommend them to anyone suffering from ill health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are always the same and are sold only in packages bear-ing the well-known trade-mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Pills sold in any other package, or loose, by the dozen of hundred are not the same, wherever the clerk tells you. The genuine are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt or price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Fraudulent Hair Remedies.

In the Cosmopolitan Magazine for February, 1909, there is a long article on the Hair and Scalp by Woods Hutchinson, M. D., a copy of which we received, and in it he says: "The strongest and most powerful curative element of scalp-tonics and hair re-storers in their power to do the next powerful is their color. Most of them are frauds, pure and simple, and pro-duce their whole effect upon the imagination and the nostrils of the users. The most common constit-uent of them all is alcohol, and the next common probably ammonia or some aromatic oil or extract which has the double advantage of the pro-duction and of producing a mild sense of warmth and local irritation. All of this class are mild irritants to the skin and the temporary reddening by an increase in the amount of blood circulating through the part that has about as much effect on the hair-bulbs as the beams of the harvest moon have upon grow-ing cabbages. It is hardly to be hoping that falling hair, itching scalp and dandruff cannot be cured by these fakes and frauds—but that they don't make sure as a belief in the hair and scalp is to keep them clean and free from dust and disease germs. For this pur-pose Dirtz's Head Wash, the new scien-tific preparation, is most highly recom-mended because it is made of Refined Soap, White of Eggs, Cocoanut Cocoan Oil, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. Any doctor will tell you there are no bet-ter things known than these for clean-ing the hair and scalp.

Vigor and Strength

can be obtained only by the use of reg-ulated food. The right kind of food, Any one who has lost the nour-ishment that looks like sense, and that is the first thing to do. Nothing is more invigorating than Dr. Dirtz's Head Wash. It is red and sure. It makes the hair grow, stops dandruff, makes it soft and glossy, and gives the scalp a healthy tone. Call on wife for book of, and particulars of our Half Price offer, explaining this need.

H. G. SANDEN CO.,
301 Washington St., Boston.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Evenings, 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 1.

FRANKLIN HOWES CHARM

For Chapped Skin

Franklin Howes charm acts like magic; relieves all burning and smarting and re-stores the skin to health and soft. Contains no grease to clog the pores. Cures chapped hands in 15 minutes.

Tubes 25c. Bottle 35c
At all good drug stores.
For a free sample send postal to Howes, 414 Atlantic Ave. Boston.

IT SAVES THE COMPLEXION.
WOODBURY'S Facial Soap

If you don't use Woodbury's Face on the to-let, it's an in-stinct-ion.

Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP

can be given with perfect safety to the youngest child. It is the best. Buy no substitute. 25c.

PHOTOGRAPHS ENLARGED

FINISHED in crayon, sepia or water colors; regular $5.00 & $6.00, according to size; if not developed, 10c. any size picture framed. STRAUSS, 8 Music Hall Bldg., Boston.

EXCEPTIONAL STRENGTH IN REALTY MART

Two sales of important downtown properties in Bolyston street, and the purchase by the city of Boston of the former school of the Academy of the Sacred Heart on Massachusetts avenue for an industrial school for girls, were included in a large and exceptionally strong report of trading in the real estate market today.

C. W. Whittier & Brother have sold the two estates numbered 314 and 318 Boylston street to Robert H. Gardiner, trustee. These are both located between Church and Berkeley streets and extend back to Providence street. They have a combined total assessed valuation of $250,000. No. 314 was owned by William H. Rothwell and consists of a five-story brick building and 2,375 square feet of land, all taxed for $197,000, of which $97,000 is on the land. No. 318 was owned by G. Gorham Peters et al, trustees, and comprises the same sized building and 3,325 square feet of land. This latter estate is taxed on a total valuation of $142,000, of which $101,000 is on the land. These leases on these two estates expire next Summer, and it is understood that extensive alterations will be made at that time.

In purchasing the school property of the Boston Academy of the Sacred Heart at Nos. 416 and 418 Massachusetts avenue, near Washington street, for $125,000 or $2,000 less than the city of Boston paid for it a very cheap figure. The property, which comprises four-story and basement brick and frame structures and 8,480 square feet of land, is assessed on a total valuation of $90,000, of which $70,900 is on the land. On the interior the brick buildings are now being altered to adapt the school for girls under the direction of the Boston school committee. It was agreed that the sale and the purchase of the property by the city not only just been closed.

In the West End the double three-story and basement brick house and 1,320 square feet of land, all assessed for $1,000, at Nos. 7 and 9 Revere street between Allen and Phillips streets have been sold by Ike Brodsky et ux to Jabez M. Price. The land is rated for $2,500.

Joseph N. Drew has sold to Mamie Gilmore, the pending change, Charles Street, 20 feet wide, 4-6 volume house and 4,266 square feet of land on the northerly side of Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, with extensions, and at a total valuation of $7,200, of which $4,000 is on the land.

In the same estate the frame house and 2,926 square feet of land at No. 6 Wyoming street, Melrose Highlands, have been purchased by Pauline H. Simons from Mr. and Mrs. Isaac H. Simons. It is all rated for $2,100, of which $2,100 is on the land.

The two and one-half-story frame house and 5,850 square feet of land at Nos. 9-11 Alton street, near Blue street, Roxbury, and land have been sold for the sum of $6,000, have been sold by Frances A. Wheeler et al to the Suffolk Savings Bank. The land is taxed for $4,500.

In West Roxbury a frame house and 4,681 square feet of land on Sycamore street, near Hazelhurst street, have been purchased by Alice C. Mellon from Edward Wilkie and wife. It is all assessed for $2,200, of which $1,000 is on the land.

Annie L. Webb has sold to George O. White the frame house and 4,250 square feet of land erected on a total valuation of $3,000, at Nos. 25-27 Sawyer avenue, Mount Street, Roxbury. The land is taxed for $900.

RECOVERS LOST PURSE BY WIRELESS AT SEA

Dr. F. Bacon, a prominent physician of Nashua, N. H., and a returning saloon passenger on the White Star liner Canopic from the Mediterranean, won $2,100 by wireless a few days out from Gibraltar. He had lost his purse there. While in the middle was several hundred miles at sea Purser Dempsey sent a wireless message to the Gibraltar chief of police, which was relayed by the Canopic's sister ship, the Romanic. The Chief replied in an hour or two that the money had been recovered.

WOMAN HELD IN "JOY RIDE" CASE

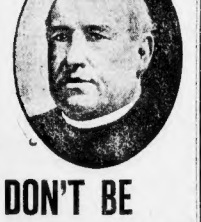
As the result of an alleged joy ride for which it is claimed, she did not pay, Miss Mary M. Bowen, who lives in Massachusetts avenue, near Lafayette square, Cambridge, appeared before Judge Almy today, charged with the larceny of $8.50 by J. Charles Lenhoman, a taxicab driver. The case was continued until November 18, and Miss Bowen was held in bonds of $100.

HELD FOR JURY ON BREAKING CHARGE

Terrence Morris, no home, and Anthony Lucross of West Dedham street were held in the Municipal Court in $1,200 each for the Grand Jury on a charge of breaking and entering a boarding house on Warren avenue. Miss Louise M. Gambert testified she was awakened by a man attempting to take a ring from her finger. She thought she recognized Martin.

STATESMAN OF PERU DEAD.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 9.—Miguel Iglesias, the Peruvian general and statesman, is dead. He was minister of war in 1880, and took a principal part in the defense of Lima in January, 1881. In 1883 he assumed the presidency.



DON'T BE DECEIVED

If you feel exhausted and weak or tire easily, don't try to brace up on liquor or some patent medicine that will produce the same effect.

It is only temporary, and the reaction leaves you in worse shape than before.

What you want is more strength. Father John's Medicine is a pure food medicine; its ingredients are nourishing and strengthening. Nothing equals it as a tonic and body builder for all throat and lung troubles.

Contains no alcohol or injurious drugs. Get a bottle today; it will make you strong. Remember, it has been in use fifty years.

PINCHED TWO KID BURGLARS, IN FIVE BREAKS

Two thirteen-year old Charlestown boys are accused by the police of being the busiest burglars they ever knew and of breaking into five places in the Bunker Hill territory between midnight and 3 a. m. today. The boys stored enough liquor and cigars, their captors say, under the platform of a blacksmith shop in the rear of Rutherford avenue to stock a whole sale establishment.

After the arrest and "the third degree" the police went to the blacksmith shop in a patrol wagon and returned to the City Square Police Station with the vehicle laden with all kinds of wet goods, for rooms heaps of cigars and no end of cigarettes.

According to police statements the thirteen-year-old burglars stole $10 in cash and goods valued at $250.50.

Douglas Silva of No. 56 Baldwin street and Richard Devlin of No. 9 Jefferson place are the prisoners. In the Charlestown police court to-day Judge Bragg put them into the custody of the State Board of Charities until Saturday, when they will be arraigned before the juvenile session. Both boys have been in the same police court before on criminal charges.

"What did you make these breaks for?" asked the police inquisitor, who gave them the third degree.

"To get money for go ter de theatre," one of them is said to have replied.

"What you steal the booze, the cigars and the cigarettes for?"

"For de gang."

Patrolmen Montague and Bartlemes heard the sound of breaking glass. They found a broken window in the rear door of Edward Tansey's saloon at No. 529 Main street. They pulled their guns and expected a battle with two grown-up desperate housebreakers. Instead they found the two kids crowding under the bar.

The plans entered are: Thomas Hart's blacksmith shop at No. 563 Rutherford avenue, the store of Otis Desche, No. 2[illegible] Main street, Harris's barroom, No. 546 Main street, James E. Keenan's barroom styles of sand coating the finance. Over at No. 548 Main street and James's place, $75,000 gallons of crude oil went up.

GIRL NAMES PRISONER AS BRIDGE THUG

Miss Catherine Foy, with her sister Anna, today in the South Boston court told Judge Fallon that Frank Bowes was the man who had waylaid them on the lower street bridge late last night. The young women live at No. 180 West Fourth street and Bowes at No. 56 Catherine and Anna were going over the bridge when a man jumped out from behind a pillar and grabbed Catherine.

He held her with one hand and tried to tear her watch from her waist. When she screamed he struck her a savage blow on the left ear in the floor of the bridge. Anna fled shrieking and attracted the attention of a man. The pair of the pursue and the footpad hurried away toward South Boston.

The girls and their rescuer chased the fleeing man and saw him rush into No. 54 West Fourth street. They hurried to Policeman John Powers and they all entered the house with a search warrant. There the girls pointed out Bowes as the man who attacked them. He was arrested and locked up. Today Judge Fallon held him for the grand jury in $1,000 bail on a charge of assault and battery with intent to rob.

METROPOLITAN CO. SALE IS CONFIRMED

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Judge Lacombe to-day, in the United States Circuit Court, handed down an order confirming the sale of the Metropolitan Steamship Company to John W. Mackinson, which was ordered by a decree of the court granted on August 7 last. The sale was made under foreclosure proceedings threatened by the Berwind Company and the American Trust Company.

OIL FIRE IS CHECKED.

BEAUMONT, Tex., Nov. 9.—A flight to prevent the spread of a Kinsloe oil well fire near here ended today when a force of one hundred or more men after working through the night succeeded in shutting off the flow. Two million barrels of crude oil were lost. Over $75,000 gallons of crude oil went up.

MANY INJURED IN FRENCH CAR STRIKE

PARIS, Nov. 9.—Not a trolley car in Bordeaux was operated to-day as a result of the strike of traction employees. Several clashes between strikers and the police, some assuming the proportions of riots, have occurred and many were hurt to-day. A general strike is probable.

R .C. VANDERBILT OPENS AN OFFICE

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Reginald C. Vanderbilt has leased through Moore & Wyckoff a suite of office rooms in the Site Building, No. 346 Fifth avenue, and there his secretary may hereafter be seen on any weekday from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

EMPRESS'S FUNERAL COVERS 80 MILES

PEKIN, Nov. 9.—After a great preparation the funeral of the late Dowager Empress of China, Tzu Hsi, was held today. The body was carried to the Eastern tombs, eighty miles through unbroken lines of soldiers. The ceremonies were witnessed by the diplomatic corps.

BOSTON MAN, BIGAMIST, IN GERMAN JAIL

Dr. Robert Paull, a wealthy young German, well known in university and club circles in Boston, to-day begins an eight months' sentence for bigamy in Leipzig, Germany, because he deserted the young woman he wed in Boston in 1895 and married another.

Paull graduated from the University of Leipzig in 1892 and wanted to marry the child of his affections, a young German girl named Maybel. His parents objected and he fled to the United States. He came to Boston with his sweetheart, married her here and took a post graduate engineering course in the Institute of Technology.

At the institute he became well acquainted with Professors Berry and Sayles. Professor Goodwin knew him as an odd acquaintance in the University of Leipzig. George W. Harden of the New England Telephone Company was a classmate and a boon friend.

Paull says that his wife and two children deserted him in 1907 and that his Boston wedding was illegal. In 1907 he appeared in London "with a fountain girl named Lydia Thorne. They were married Yesterday, in Leipsig, Paull was convicted of bigamy.

He told a fantastic tale, too fantastic, in fact, for the judges to believe. He said somebody put him and the girl in a cab, took them to a saloon, intoxicated him, drove him away and had Miss Thorne lured by a strange man. If this was a frame up, strange, a real one was performed later at the Registrar's office in London. Paull said somebody impersonated him at this marriage, but the bride told a different story in court and the signatures in the Registrar's office tallies with his, so he was held to prison.

3 DEAD, 35 HURT IN RAIL COLLISION

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—As the result of a collision between a freight and a passenger train at Kidwarts three men are dead and thirty-five are injured. Firemen Bowman and Lemmons and Engineer Pierce were killed.

DOUBLE STAMPS EVERY FORENOON

GILCHRIST Co

Washington and Winter Streets

Black and Colored Moire Waists

Style exactly as illustrated, all sizes in navy, royal, resida, cardinal, smoke and black, lustrous silk finished moire, looks equal to any 5.00 waist. (Mail Orders Filled). $1.95

Hand Embroidered Pure Irish Linen Waists, Special at $1.95

Cross Bar Corset Covers 29c

With neat embroidery and ribbon trimming—in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 bust—very special, at.....

Allover Combinations $1.49

Either cover and drawer or cover and skirt style, regular price $2.50, special at .....

We are New England Headquarters

For Klosfit and Jersey Top Petticoats . . . . . $1.50 to $10.00

We carry the largest and most complete stock of Nemo Corset Specialties to be found in all New England. Sizes of all styles constantly on hand.

Special November Sale of Ornamental Renaissance

FORTY-FIVE TO FIFTY-FOUR INCH DINING ROOM TABLE COVERS—SOME ROUND AND OTHERS SQUARE.

70 Pieces of Round and Square Table Covers, from 1½ to 17 different styles to choose from.

Size 45 inch	Regular Price	7.00	9.00	5.00
	Sale Price	4.00	5.00	3.75
Size 54 inch	Regular Price	10.00	12.00	16.00
	Sale Price	7.00	8.00	10.00
Two Pieces	Size seventy-two inch, worth $18.00 each, at choice			$10.00

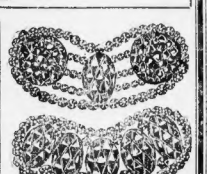
IMPORTED FRENCH CLUNY TABLE COVERS

SIZE 36-INCH, SPECIAL AT..... 6.00, 8.00 and 10.00
SIZE 45-INCH, AT, CHOICE..... 4.50 and 12.00
SIZE 54-INCH, AT, CHOICE .....
.....6.00 17.00, 18.00, 20.00, and 30.00

IMPORTED FRENCH CLUNY SCARFS (28 Pieces)
No two alike.

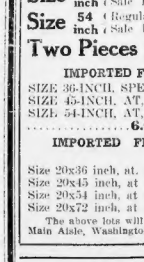
Size 20x36 inch, at, choice.....4.00 and 6.00
Size 20x45 inch, at choice.....5.00 and 8.00
Size 20x54 inch, at choice....4.25, 6.00, 8.00 and 10.00
Size 20x72 inch, at choice.....8.00 and 10.00

The above lots will be placed on sale on large Bargain Counter, Main Aisle, Washington Street Section.



Imported Jet Barrettes

Imported Jet Barrettes (two illustrated), in many pretty designs. Value 75c each, special for Wednesday 39c



Women's 3.50 Shoes

Six most popular styles in all leathers, gun metal and patent colt, button with cloth tops and Cuban heels, also broad toe and low heel styles, in kid, calf and patent leather. Special for Wednesday and Thursday only. 2.49

49c Overgaiters Special

A cash purchase of a New York Manufacturer's stock of six-button gaiters for women, in mode, blue black and steel gray, at pair while they last ..... At 29c

1.00 Women's Two-Clasp Kid Gloves

89c

Women's two clasp Kid Gloves, in all the desirable street colors, Paris Point embroidered backs, guaranteed perfect, both as to fit and wear.

DOUBLE STAMPS EVERY FORENOON

GILCHRIST Co

Washington and Winter Streets

Important Price Reductions In ONE-PIECE DRESSES

16.75 DRESSES NOW SELLING AT	10.00
25.00 DRESSES NOW SELLING AT	15.00
35.00 DRESSES NOW SELLING AT	22.50
55.00 DRESSES NOW SELLING AT	25.00

FOUR HUNDRED of the highest grade one-piece dresses, SOME IMPORTED MODELS, will be sold WEDNESDAY at this great sacrifice in price. Made in every conceivable style from only the finest of materials, some in rich, lustrous French broadcloths, others in serges, prunellas, worsteds, wide wale diagonals and voiles. Lavishly trimmed and embroidered to the plainly tailored style.

These dresses were not bought for this sale, but are taken from our own regular stock and marked down from the prices quoted above.

The Best Dress Goods Bargains Ever Offered in New England

This great sale started with a rush and the interest has kept up to date. Not any more so than we expected, however, for this dress goods department has, in one season taken the lead among all Boston's departments.

The best American and foreign manufacturers are represented and the losses they have taken on these fashionable dress goods will be to your interest to investigate.

$1.50 Rainproof Coating
Guaranteed waterproof coating in two shades of gray; one of the best bargains; 54 inches wide 79c

$1.50 Pencil Stripe Broadcloths
Elegant lustrous fabric in small pencil stripe, canard, smoke, catawba, stone green, wistaria and black. All wool and 50 to 54 inches wide 89c

$2 Fashionable Diagonal Coating
Heavy wide wale diagonals are the most popular coatings just now. This in gray and dull green, all wool and 54 inches wide 1.50

Read's $1.25 Checked Glorias
A silk and wool fabric known to every woman who reads the advertising in women's magazines. These are neat checks, mostly on white groundwork. We are not allowed to advertise the name, but everyone knows Read's most famous fabric. Special at 79c

$1.00 Fancy Striped Serges
Fine crisp finished suiting serges, in navy, Edison brown, tan, myrtle, Burgundy, catawba, raisin and black. All wool and 44 to 50 inches wide 59c

$1.00 Fancy Stripe Serges
A discontinued line of an American manufacturer, myrtle, brown, olive and black, some with black stripe. All wool and 42 to 46 inches wide 49c

$1.25 Black Storm Serges
Just imagine what a bargain this is. Elegant black, all wool and 54 inches wide..... 79c

$1.50 Worsted Storm Serges
The best serge ever offered at such a price. Navy, myrtle and royal. All wool and 54 inches wide 98c

Odd Lengths and Remnants of Dress Goods 49c yd

All odd lengths from 2 yards to 6 yards. Accumulations of an active season's business. Remnants of $1.00 to $1.50 dress fabrics in broadcloths, serges, worsted suitings, panamas, mohairs and other popular fabrics. Black and popular colors.

Special Table.

$1.00 Striped Venetian Suitings
Elegant weight suitings, showing neat stripe, black, smoke, olive, French blue and brown; all wool and 54 inches wide..... 59c

$1.50 Black Melton Coating
Extra heavy coating, but in perfect black. All-wool and 54 inches wide..... 79c

$1.50 Black Striped Serges
One of the best bargains we have ever seen. Almost invisible stripe in this fine suiting serge. All wool and 54 inches wide 79c

$3.50 Black Seal Plush
Here is a bargain in the most popular coating of the day. Beautiful lustre, extra weight and 50 inches wide 2.50

$1.00 Black Broadcloths
Fine black broadcloth, in correct suiting weights; all wool and 50 inches wide..... 65c

$1.00 Fine Melange Suitings
Pretty gray and navy mixtures in this fine suiting. All wool and 50 inches wide..... 69c

$1.00 French Serges
Fine twilled fabric, in the popular colors and black, all wool and 42 inches wide 59c

$1.25 All Wool Cheviots
Fashionable rough effects in olive, green, navy, royal and black, all wool and 54 inches wide 69c

$1.00 to $1.50 Dress Goods
Broken lines and odd pieces, but you'll find some of the best bargains ever offered among them. New shades and black, all wool and 44 to 50 inches wide 69c

Odd Lengths and Remnants of Dress Goods 39c yd

Odd lengths of some of our best sellers in panamas, batistes, serges, broadcloths, suitings, prunellas and other fabrics. Good assortment of colors and black. Length from 2 to 6 yards. None of these sold for less than 75c and most of them for $1.00 and $1.25.

Special Counter.

STIFF PRACTICE FOR HARVARD TO MEET DARTMOUTH

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

IN FIERCE FIGHT ROLFE LOSES TO KYLE WHITNEY

They Got Mutt Coming and Going--He Can't Even Win as a Bookmaker--By Bud Fisher

ROLFE LOSES DECISION TO KYLE WHITNEY

Billy Rolfe, the sturdy South Boston welterweight, took one of the worst beatings in his ring career when he lined up with Kyle Whitney, the colored scrapper from California, who has a recent record draw with Mike Twin Sullivan, in their twelve round bout at the National A. C.

It was a hard fought battle for eight rounds, with Rolfe making all the trouble for the court fighter that he could wish for by pounding him hard on the body, and his friends who filled the house thought that he would hand over a haymaker which would settle the colored man's hash, but he wasn't there when it came to the final rounds in the real test of the fight.

Whitney scored as often as Rolfe in the body hammering in the early sessions and did more execution at close range, getting over some telling short-arm jolts that were missing. He cut loose during the last half of the distance, connecting with several telling left hooks to the jaw, which proved too much for Rolfe, who went down for the count in the tenth round, and Whitney tired himself out trying to put on the knockout finish, allowing Rolfe to come well for the next round.

It was only Rolfe's gameness which carried him through the remaining periods. With the title of battle going against him, Rolfe never showed any sign of wilting, but kept coming back at Whitney, though his stamina was apparently all gone, and he was bleeding badly from the mouth when the colored boy shot his right hand smashed as he hooked it on with all his power.

In the opening bout Jim Quinlan of Dearness was given the award over Jack Meyer of England in six rounds. George Bluefox Maurice and Sam Browne, the two rivals along the fish shores, went six rounds to a draw. Andrew Morris and Jerry Gaines posed in the semi-final and for six rounds they toiled hard and fast, but Morris was too strong for Gaines and won the decision.

STAR BILLIARD PLAYERS IN PRACTICE

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Billiardists from New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Paris will meet in the 18.2 balk line billiard tournament in the Madison Square Garden Concert Hall in a series of games beginning Nov. 22, to decide the world's championship. George F. Slosson will represent New York; A. G. Cutler will represent Boston, and H. P. Cline will represent Philadelphia. Chicago will have two representatives, George Sutton and Calvin Demarest. Firmin Cassignol will uphold the billiard prestige of Paris.

Each of the six players has won more or less renown as a billiard player. Their names are familiar to all followers of the game. The Americans in the tournament have either won championships or been close runners up. Cassignol is the leading billiardist of France. He is now on his way to this country and will arrive tomorrow.

Slosson, Demarest and Cutler are all present in New York. Slosson is playing as good a game as he ever played in his life, and "the student" is being watched in his daily practices in his own academy by a crowd of admirers, who think he will carry off the championship. Cutler will practice at Doyle's or Keeney's in Brooklyn. Demarest has been busy getting in shape the past week at Doyle's.

Each game in the tournament will be for 500 points, subject to the playing rules governing at least the 18.2 balk-line game. With half a dozen of the star billiard players in the world entered every indication that the tournament will be one of the most successful ever held in this country. Interest in the game seems to have increased.

In addition to striving for the glory of it all, the billiardists will strive for prize money to the amount of $5,000. In addition to the prize money the entrance fees and the net gate receipts will be divided among the players. The winner of the greatest number of games will receive 60 per cent. of the money. Thirty per cent. will go to the second man, 20 per cent. to the third and 10 per cent. to the fourth.

HARVARD COACHES RUSH ELEVEN IN HARD WORK FOR DARTMOUTH GAME

This afternoon the Harvard coaches will put the varsity team through some fast paces in the first period that will prepare the eleven to successfully cope with Dartmouth next Saturday in the Stadium, with expectations of making a better score than a year ago, when the Crimson won out by the small score of 6 to 0.

All the regulars will be back in the lineup with the exception of Hooper, the substitute tackle, who has made such a splendid impression in the games he has played in the place that McKay is slated to hold down at left tackle.

Harvard's battle with Dartmouth will give the football dopesters the first live matter for their auto-betting solution of the Harvard-Yale game. Dartmouth men do not expect to rechristen the Stadium this year, but they do expect to put up a better fight than last year. This is the first year of the Freshman rule at Hanover and the year of a new coach, but nevertheless the rooters of the Green have showed little, if any, deterioration in form.

Judging from the Princeton game, the Crimson is a great deal stronger than Dartmouth on offense. Dartmouth's defense, however, is the equal of Brown's and it is to be remembered that the Crimson had trouble with the Providence boys. Providence boys were twice able to get through Crimson's line last Saturday, twice succeeded in stopping the Crimson.

Part V. Long, the hard-hitting fullback on the Harvard team, who is familiarly known as "Pineapple," is no longer acting as a waiter at Randall Hall as he did last year. Long is reported to have put-outside jobs than any other man in Harvard College. He went to the Holy Land and Egypt last Summer on the money he earned, and this summer he is planning to go to New Mexico.

The practice was very light, the first day back consisting chiefly of signal work. The team lined up with Needham at centre, Parham and Tolan guards; Elcock and Long tackles, Dacey and Bankart ends, Brady quarterback, Marks fullback, Ryan and Burley halfbacks.

Ingersoll, who sustained a muscle bruise instead of the injured ankle, did several laps on the oval. He will probably take his place in the line-up today. Sherwin spent the afternoon in practicing drop kicks. In this he showed some of his last season's form, dropping several pretty ones over the posts from the 30 and 35-yard lines.

The plucky stand made by Dartmouth in the recent Princeton game has aroused a great amount of interest in the team and every available coach will be seen on the field this week.

Dr. John O'Connor and Jesse Hawley are here; John Glaze and Charlie Bayle are reported to-morrow and a number of others will appear during the next few days.

YALE TEAM BEING RUSHED TO BE FIT FOR TIGERS

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 9.—Three times a day is the schedule practice for the Yale football players getting ready to meet the Princeton Tigers on Saturday. The varsity backs and ends report in the morning for signal practice, and then in the afternoon at the gymnasium; then comes the regular field work in the afternoon, and the evening hours are utilized for drill and the hard head explanations by the tireless coaches. The coaching faculty is one of the most formidable ever seen on the Yale campus, and the students have become almost overconfident in the team's prospects, with the array of talent building up an invincible eleven.

The only mishap the team has suffered is the loss of Logan, the end player, whose injury in the Brown game will probably put him out for the rest of the season. Jay Vaughn, the Exeter star, is being fitted for the place. He is rounding fully the equal of Logan in every department and excels in taking forward passes on the jump.

The football managers returned about $1,000 seat in by Yale men with applications for the Princeton game. The total number of applications is over 7,000, in excess of any previous year. The management was short just about 3,000 seats to take care of the Yale crowd.

Princeton took 9,000 seats this year, which is just twice as many as in former years. Many Yale men who borrowed applications and asked for more than three seats will be cut down to three tickets and others will be shut out altogether.

WELCH BEATS SUMMERS FOR ENGLISH TITLE

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Freddie Welch gained the undisputed right to the lightweight championship of England by defeating Johnny Summers in a twenty round battle before the National Sporting Club.

From the very start there was no question of the victor's superiority, for he outgeneraled his foe at every turn. Summers's plunging tactics earned him the plaudits of the spectators, but there was no compensation for the stunning blows dealt out to him by his clever adversary.

Welch fought a well planned battle, timing his blows correctly and landing repeatedly. Welch forced the milling from the outset, but Summers was ever ready for Welch's attack. It was the case of a slugger pitted against a ring general, and the latter won.

Welch outpointed Summers all the way and in the first ten rounds piled enough points to gain him the verdict. He fought cautiously at the start, and finished with a burst of speed that almost carried Summers off his feet. The winner finished apparently fresh, for, in fact, he finished the last round stronger and faster than the first.

In the early rounds much clinching prevailed. Summers being the chief offender. The referee warned them both repeatedly and the last ten rounds were free of any fouling. Many of the contestants, Welch ruled a slight favorite in the betting.

Lord Lonsdale was gratified by Welch's splendid showing and presented the victor with a gold beflamonded belt, emblematic of the title. Welch's manager will begin at once negotiations for a battle with Ritchie Mitchell, the world's featherweight champion.

Welch announces that he is prepared to box any lightweight in the world for $5,000 or $10,000 a side.

POLICE THERE, BUT BOUT IS HELD IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—While two score policemen hung around the front door, four boxing bouts were held in the club rooms of the Olympic A. C. The exhibitions were witnessed by about 150 members.

Harry Engle outpointed "Kid" Daniel in the first bout. In the other three bouts the boys boxed under the names of Harry Smith and Tommy Jones. Tim Dempsey and Pete Erhardt and Charley Harigan and Mike Halloran. In the opinion of the majority of the members present Smith, Dempsey and Harigan had the better of their respective contests.

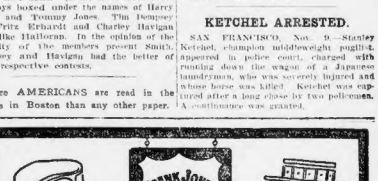
More AMERICANS are read in the homes in Boston than any other paper.

$80,000 OFFER FOR BIG CHAMP BOUT

OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 9.—Jimmie Dunn, on behalf of a local syndicate, has telegraphed to James J. Jeffries and to Jack Johnson, offering a purse of $80,000 for the fight in Ogden during the meeting of the National Wool Growers' Association and the Live Stock Show, to be held January 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1910.

KETCHEL ARRESTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Stanley Ketchel, champion middleweight pugilist, appeared in police court, charged with running down the person of Barnes laundryman, who was severely injured and whose horse was killed. Ketchel was captured after a long chase by two policemen. A continuance was granted.



EVERY MAN to his own taste, but Frank Jones Ale for all. It hits the right spot every time. Tastes better because it IS better.

At the Sign of the Shield 5c

BOSTON BOY WILL PLAY QUARTERBACK FOR GREEN ELEVEN

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 9.—An X-ray examination of "Spuddy" Pisbon's injured ankle shows that Dartmouth's midget quarterback was suffering from a torn ligament and not from a broken bone, as was first thought. That he will be in Saturday's battle is now certain, and with his presence the Green is better off. Pisbon's are the only cases reported resulting from the Princeton game. The team will be in the best possible shape when it faces Harvard.

FOOTBALL OF COLLEGES

Dartmouth scouts who witnessed the game between Harvard and Cornell, at the Stadium, Saturday, went away strongly impressed with the work of the Harvard team, despite the fumbling and mistakes, for these two somethings plainly happened in the way the Crimson got together in the first few minutes of play. Cornell started the ball by rushing through a team which had been fighting from behind.

Last year Dartmouth lost to Harvard, after playing them about as close as possible, owing to the fact that Harvard got together in the last fifteen minutes as they did Saturday and went over for a touchdown. Harvard showed that ability one game earlier this season and it looks now as if Dartmouth and Yale were up against hard work providing they are looking for touchdowns on the coming two Saturday nights.

* * *

How the Dartmouth quarterbacks of the past must have felt when they read the stories of the experts who echo that the "secrets of the game" lost because of poor quarterback play. Shades of Walter McCornack, Myron Witham, Joe Wentworth and Johnnie Glaze. All-American stars in their days with a system acknowledged to be the best ever and then there's Dartmouth team lose by poor play in their line. There is something wrong when one of these men can't come back and coach the quarterback material sometime during the season.

* * *

The Princeton-Dartmouth game seemed to show that Princeton is really holding something mighty in reserve for the last few minutes of play. If the contest Saturday will be much closer than anticipated by the early season game of Princeton and Stoughton is dangerous anywhere within the thirty yard line and when they met in a game who followed Eddie Hart's work since he was at Exeter are fooling, I guess what he is to do. Hart can carry a ball as well through the line or around side tackle as Coy or Minot and he is not being used. Perhaps he will be given loose against Yale and if he does the Blue will be kept busy.

BOSTON YACHTSMEN BUY AND SELL BOATS

The Hollis, Burgess Yacht Agency has sold the forty foot auxiliary fishing sloop Sabine, owned by Ex Commodore Edward H. Boynton of the Boston Yacht Club, to Manuel J. DeSilva of Boston; the twenty five foot auxiliary sloop Jingo, owned by Augustus P. Loring of Boston, to Simeon C. Andrews of Gloucester, and the twenty one foot knockabout Kanaka, owned by William J. Aylward, Jr., of Boston, to William J. McHugh, Jr., of South Norwalk, Ct.

* * *

CORNELL EXETER'S CAPTAIN

EXETER, N. H., Nov. 9.—Phillips Exeter's football captain next Fall will be Thomas H. Cornell, '11, of Prospect, Pa., unanimously elected. Cornell was a half back on Exeter's 1908 eleven, and at full back in last Saturday's game. He was captain of last Spring's track team. He excels in the sprints.

WILL COACH NEWTON HIGH.

Harry McDevitt, formerly of the Dartmouth College football and baseball teams, has been engaged to coach the Newton High Football team for the remainder of the season, succeeding Wendell P. Holman of Bates, who has resigned.

BOXING NOTES BRIEFLY TOLD

Charley Goldman wants a crack at Charley Harvey's latest importation from England, Harry Thomas. Goldman's manager, J. Dougherty, Esq., has $200 up to show that his end of the affair is on the level.

* * *

The Eureka A. C. of Baltimore is ready to put on the Goldman-Thomas fight as soon as the match is made. Sam Harris, the boss banker of the club, having told Dougherty to clinch the bout.

* * *

Thomas has been in New York for some time eating his head off, so the chances are that the Harvey-Goldman affair will accept this match in order to let the boy earn some out money.

* * *

Mike Glover has been signed up to meet Kid Sullivan of Washington at the Kaiserhof Club of Brooklyn one week from to-day. They will go ten rounds.

* * *

Glover also is to meet Young Nitchie the bout being carded for the Nonpareil Club of Philadelphia next Friday evening.

* * *

Jimmy Kelly has received an offer to pit Young O'Leary against Charley Goldman before the American A. C., Albany, in the near future and will accept the match if there is any money in the bout. Goldman had already accepted.

* * *

Bert Keyes is to hook up with Matty Baldwin at Schenectady on November 13 in a ten round bout. After that match Keyes will meet Carey at the Utica A. C. November 25.

* * *

Bat Nelson favors a modification of the football rules so as to cut out the rough stuff. The game never favored anything rough in the line of sport.

"Plums" Win Everybody—Everywhere

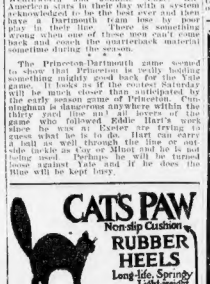
9 Smooth Mellow Cigars for 15 CENTS

If you were a millionaire you couldn't buy more for the money. "PLUMS" stack up in Flavor, Taste, Tobacco with any cigar. Rough to look at, but smooth to smoke. Little enough in price, big enough in quality to please YOU—if you do smoke ten centers.

HAVANA "PLUMS"

have created a sensation. Four inches of imported filler, with thirty-two inches added in every package. Minus trimmings and furbelows—but—well—

"PLUMS" Make Friends



R-E-P-E-T-I-T-I-O-N

Haven't you noticed how often we repeat in our ads the features of the Newman made garments? When a man tells the truth, and tells about tailoring or anything else, he tells the same thing in the same way as often as he talks about it! So with us, we repeat and repeat and repeat—that Newman made COLLARS HUG THE NECK, that the Newman hand-worked COAT FRONT WILL NOT CURL—is unbreakable and still flexible, that the LAPELS lay perfectly—and so on we keep telling you just what you get when Newman makes the suit or overcoat. DARE OTHERS say as much? They don't—isn't that sufficient? And again we repeat—a Newman made $20 suit or overcoat is difficult to duplicate elsewhere at $30.

$20

H. NEWMAN & SON, Inc.

POPULAR PRICE TAILORS FOR 35 YEARS

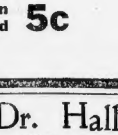
224-226 Washington St. Opp. Thompson's Spa Open Evenings Till 8

I CURE MEN! Dr. Killory

FREE CONSULTATIO
Dr. Killory
914 Court St., Cor. Crawford House
SPECIALIST
ALL DISEASES & WEAKNESSES

Blood Poisoning positively cured in the worst cases.
Ulcers, sores or ill are quickly healed.
Nervous Debility, Weak Back, Melancholy positively cured.
Rupture and Piles permanently cured.
Kidney and Bladder Complaints. Pains in Back, Painful Swellings successfully treated in a short time.
Expert Treatment. Lowest Charges
Call terms of payment within the reach of all for the cure of chronic and difficult cases. Ordinary cases $2. No loss of time. No cutting no pain. Quick results. A written guarantee given in curable cases. Hrs. 9-8. Sun. 10-1. Private entrance.
N. B. Dr. Killory is Absolutely Reliable.

Dr. Hallock's



Famous Remedies CURE TO STAY CURED
Men's Diseases and Weaknesses

Expert specialists, oldest in years, largest in experience; acute and chronic diseases, weaknesses from whatever cause arising, nervous and physical debility, exhaust-ed vitality, melancholy, spells of the blues, dark rings under the eyes, weak back, kidney poison, ulcers and sores, falling hair, urinary, bladder and kidney complaints. Skin diseases cured to stay cured. The only properly equipped office in Boston for the cure of chronic and difficult cases. No loss of time. A written guarantee given in the curable cases for as is stipulated fee, payable as patient is able. Advice free. Our medical book should be read by every man. Sent sealed by mail free, with question list. Hours: Daily, 9 to 9; Sundays, 10 to 1.

DR. HALLOCK CO.,
114 Court St., Boston, Mass.
Office located 60 years at the same old stand, corner Court and Cornhill Square, one minute's walk from Scollay square to-day. Established 1849. The oldest, most modern and most reliable in the country. Any city paper show and all residents know.

FLIGHT, BUT EVERY STEP EASY ONE UP

Means a Step Toward Health

A safe, painless cure for chronic troubles, kidney and bladder ailments of all by sores, skin and nervous diseases. The sick made well, strong and healthy.

Don't give up hope; consult me at once. Advice free.

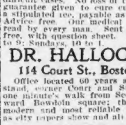
DR. JOSEPH GRADY
236 Tremont St., Boston
Hrs. 10-12, 2-5, 7-8. Sun. 10-12.

Every Woman

is interested and should know about the wonderful

MARVEL Whirling Spray

The new vaginal Syringe. Best—Safest—Most convenient. It cleanses



Free your druggist for it, or send 4c. in stamps for illustrated book—sealed. It gives full particulars and directions. Invaluable to ladies. MARVEL CO. 44 East 23d Street, New York.

For sale by Miss Jaynes Drug Store, agent in Boston. Mail order solicited.

Dr. James C. Ayer Diplomate of the American Board of Medical and Surgical Specialists, Specialist and Surgeon in Diseases of Women and Children. Rectal and Nervous Diseases and Tumor of the Breasts, Hysteria, Blood Diseases, Nervous Debility and Impotency. Skin Diseases. Diseases of the Urinary Organs &c. Cures Guaranteed, Established 1878. Medicine Free and consultation Free. Hours 9 to 8. Sundays 10 to 1. Office on Emergency cases, 10-9. Sunday 10-8. Suite 1, 90 Tremont St.

MEDICAL and SURGICAL Specialist. Long experience, most reliable, 614 Columbus Av., cor. Upham's Corner. Special treatment. All diseases of men and women. Terms low. Consultation free. Hours 10 to 8.

Dr. J. BLACKMER, Lock Box 103, Arlington, Mass. While my new office is being prepared, appointments should be made by writing to above address.

DR. ROTHFUCHS, Grad. Harvard Medical School, Specialist in nervous and genital diseases and weakness. Blood Poisoning, Skin Diseases, Kidney and Bladder troubles cured to stay cured. Blood Poisoning, Rheumatism, Piles a specialty. Reasonable terms. NO PAY UNTIL CURED. Consultation free. No loss of time. Dr. ROTHFUCHS, Parlors 204-205, 167 Tremont St., Boston. Hours daily, 9-8. Sunday, 10-1.

JACK M'AULIFFE SAYS JEFF WILL HAVE TO TRAIN

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

FREDDIE WELSH BEATS SUMMERS IN 20 ROUNDS

STRAIGHT DOPE
FOR SPORT FANS

JIMMY WALSH, THE BANTAM CHAMPION, has a tough job on his hands tonight when he goes out of his class to meet Tommy O'Toole, one of the fastest youngsters in the featherweight class, at the Armory A. A. It's hard to dope the winner, but it's a safe bet that the local boy will give the best he's got and his best will keep the bigger boy busy from the time the gong rings. Jimmy is a Boston product and has never been defeated at the bantam weight, despite the fact that he has mixed with the best of them. His only defeats were when he went after the boys in the class above. Here's pulling hard for Jimmy.

THERE ARE A NUMBER OF LESSONS to be learned from watching the Johnson-Ketchel fight pictures, now being shown at the American Music Hall. The one most firmly impressed on my mind was that Jim Coffroth, the California promoter, would do almost anything for money. There is little question about Coffroth being the best dictator behind the making of matches for both Johnson and Ketchel, and it was little less than a crime to send the game middleweight against the giant negro for a slaughter that was inevitable. Ketchel never had a chance, and Coffroth undoubtedly knew it, but they all needed the money. It is such matches as that which kill the game. Here are some of the other things the pictures show to me: Johnson simply toyed with Ketchel until he got ready to put him out. The knockdown, which landed the champion on the canvas in the twelfth round was no fake; Johnson is a great fighter that many people give him credit of being; he has a system of defence which will prevent a shorter man from hurting him, especially in clinches; he is a good in-fighter as well as a good boxer; Jeff will have to be in as good condition as he ever was in his life and then will have to go some to win from Johnson. The pictures are the best ever shown in Boston and are well worth seeing.

BOXING ENTHUSIAST, DORCHESTER—Sam Langford is twenty-three years of age in spite of what the dope book says. He was born in Nova Scotia February 12, 1880. Andrews' record book has him born in 1883, but the publisher occurred by the "0" being taken for a cipher. He is five feet six and one-half inches tall and now weighs in the neighborhood of 165 or 170 pounds. He weighed 158 when he was defeated by Johnson, the latter weighing 196 pounds. You're welcome.

MANY OF THE MEMBERS OF THE Armory A. A. who have seen "Tommy" West perform credibly several times in bouts recently, do not know that the youngster is a semi-pro. He is, so the boy informed us in action, pass up the cheap advice. He can't hear you.

Young West's ability was the basis for a good laugh during a bout a few weeks ago when one unfortunate knocked out by Frank Perron. Always-There-Johnny Mooney pulled it over. West had deftly backed one opponent with his jab, and when he came to be was sitting on the floor in his corner with his glove off. Everybody else had left the ring but the seconds, and the next bad was furnished with chunks of resin for the next bout.

The mone came back to earth, and his eyes did the rolling act as he shook his head and took another look, then stooped down and flicked again. With a puzzled expression on his face he went to one of his seconds and made signs. The second wig-wagged back to him.

A short sitting next the irrepressible Mooney remarked:

"I wonder what the dummy is saying to his second."

"He's just asking him if that's his teeth or his brains on the mat. He don't know it's resin," replied the Beau Brummel manager.

Even Old Dr. Stewart smiled.

EDWARD A. McDONALD, ELECTRIC avenue, Somerville, Mass.:—Steve O'Donnell is a good boxing referee and has a good gymnasium at the corner of Concord and Washington streets, Boston. I do not know what his terms are. Fleishmann and Corbett never fought in Halifax, N. S.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO SETTLE A championship title which is causing no little discussion among the members of the clan—hanger coat brigade. One of the readers of this column suggests that while Jim Coffroth is in the East he get the Johnson-Jeff fight, he match up Mr. Dorsey Biddle and Mr. Tuxedo Barbour, the New York society pug, for the pink tea boxing championship. I hope Coffroth goes to it.

Straight Dope, Boston American:
Can you give us a description of the Amoskeag Canal, and tell us what it is for? Yours truly, JOHN GALLAGHER.
Dear Doper, how do you explain the terrific zeal and determination of the gamble Doper? Hoping to see an answer in this dope column I remain, A. DOPE.

P. S.—Your dope is the goods.

You've got me almost stumped. Get your dictionary and hunt up the word "refrousse," and you'll have a better understanding of what I wrote about Bat.

JOHN GALLAGHER, CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—You're sure a man of mystery, John. Better look in the glass and see if you're not wearing a false beard or some other disguise. Why don't you spring the name of this world beater of yours who is out after the bust 105 flip-pound boys in the country?

Straight Dope, Boston American:
Dear Sir—Being a constant reader of your Straight Dope column, I would like to ask you a few questions.
Did Bartley Nelson trail Joe Gans with his fist, feet or head, and was Nelson drunk or was he hung down when Nelson would land on him to get Gans's goat?
Yours truly, H. C. I.
Worcester, Mass.

Can't say about this. I never talked with anyone who saw the fight, and never heard of any one who saw it except the referee and Gans's seconds.

Straight Dope, Boston American:
Dear Sir—Please decide a claim the bout recently held at the Armory A. A. between Johnny Lynch and Matty Baldwin was one declared a main bout. It was it wasn't. Who is right? Thanking you in the kindness for your answer, Dope.
Manchester, N. H. A READER.

The bout was one of a double event. Baldwin and Lynch were carded for twelve rounds, and Method and Rolfe for twelve. Size it up any way you want, but either was good enough for a main bout

BOSTON AMERICANS DOUBLE

"Be Not Easily Offended" Is An Excellent Motto

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1909, by American-Journal-Examiner

A MOST beautiful calendar opens with the lines:

"Till not easily offend,
Nor be easily offended;
What's amiss I'll try to mend.
And endure what can't be mended."

One could hardly start the year with a better resolution than is contained in these words.

"To not easily offend" is to be continually considerate. To think before speaking; to restrain the careless word and the useless criticism; to forego the pleasure of a laugh when it would fall as ridicule on sensitive ears, and to avoid the little slur of omission which may friendship—the unanswered letter, the unpaid call, the word of approval or congratulation for achievement or success, and the word of sympathy for trouble or loss.

Then, too, even more admirable still, it seems to me, is the resolve:

"Nor be easily offended."

One of the most expensive luxuries of life, and the least profitable as an investment for happiness, is the friend who is "easily offended" and to whom you are forever apologizing for the mistakes you did not mean to make, and the slights you did not know you had given until they were forced upon your unwilling attention.

One Man's Character.

The easily offended nature is usually the selfish and self-centred nature; yet it may be found, too, with those who have been neglected in early youth, and who have formed the habit of morbid self-dissection.

I have known a successful and broad-minded business man to be supersensitive regarding the small things of life, and to imagine he was "neglected" and "slighted" if a friend passed him, absorbed in thought, with only an ordinary salutation.

But this man had been an orphan boy. Being a lonely childhood among people who had no time to bestow on a child, and who made him realize that he was not an important factor in their lives.

So he had shaped his mind to gloomy thoughts of neglect, and after he became important to the lives of many people and a man of large affairs and wide interests, still his brain continued to work in the old groove and he was "easily offended."

More frequently, however, this fault is associated with the selfish and the vain, who find no happiness unless given the centre of life's stage, and with the full force of the calcium light thrown upon them. And if one individual in the audience looks at any other of God's company for a brief moment, they here are "offended" and want to resign from the role and compel the curtain to ring down.

Make Yourself Worth While.

Difficult, indeed, is life with such people, and therefore the motto which bids us to be "not easily offended" should be written in letters of light and hung where all may read. Love your friends, trust them, believe in them, and when any events arise which seem inexplicable and such belief calls for an explanation before becoming offended.

In nine cases out of ten the explanation will be forthcoming, and if your friends are a worth-while, valuable and loyal friend it stands to reason that you are not going to be suspected or ill-used by those whose friendship you value.

"Be not easily offended." You can help to sweeten the world for yourself and others if you live true to this motto.

Put it into practice, first of all, where every great virtue and accomplishment should be practiced—in the home.

As a wife, a daughter, a sister, a mother. "Be not easily offended."

The touchy woman can destroy an Eden almost as easily as can the serpent.

Not a Sign of Love.

There is usually a lamentable lack of a sense of humor in a woman who is easily offended. She takes every least act, every look and every failure to speak or look as a serious intent on the part of somebody to "wound her feelings."

How she suffers, poor thing! Yet how she makes the others suffer by her silly self-consciousness and her eternal sensitiveness.

She will tell you that because she gives so much and is so unselfish she suffers more keenly through the lack of others to return in like measure.

But this is not true of love. The truly loving nature is so occupied with the giving that it does not find time to be offended over small neglects.

The really loving nature is not "touchy." It is not suspicious. It is not easily offended.

It is cheerful, it is generous, it is optimistic, it is amiable.

And these are qualities which help women to build earthly heavens, and to keep husband, children, friends true, loyal and admiring.

"Be not easily offended."

Men Have No Business to Shop

By KENNETT HARRIS

I.

CONCERNING her I made no ill-timed jest,
I hope, indeed, that I am too well bred.
Nor did I heap dire insult on her head.
I made a perfectly polite request;
I'm sure I've not the aspect of a pest
Or anything to cause disgust or dread.
Had it been so she might have turned and fled.
'Twas strange, 'twas passing strange, I do protest;
My presence she seemed wholly to ignore
For quite a while, and then, by slow degrees,
Became aware of me, and this I bore,
Although her stare had caused my blood to freeze.
All that I could have said to make her sore
Was, "Have you time to wait upon me, please?"

II.

I walked into that store, proud and erect,
Feeling I had led a life quite free from blame
And that there were no spots upon my fame,
That is, as far as I could recollect.
I could not see my garb had one defect
To bring into my cheeks the blush of shame:
Entirely calm and confident I came,
And then I got just what you would expect.
One instant, and I felt my face grow pink,
A clammy perspiration dewed my brow,
My portly person straightway 'gan to shrink;
My knees shake at the recollection now.
A tough experience! And still I think
Men have no business shopping anyhow.

Doing the Work That Lies Nearest To Us

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

DO you have inspired moments when you feel that nothing is so big or so important but that you might make a success of it if given a fair chance?

Don't you feel that you might write the greatest love story in the world because you really have a true appreciation of what love means or that you might sing the sweetest song if only you had a chance to cultivate your voice, or paint the greatest picture if you could only leave a chance to study art?

We all feel like that at times; we have the liveliest appreciation of our undeveloped qualities.

In fact, we think so much of the chances that we don't get that we neglect those that we do.

I know a little girl who is a born housewife and mother and she is living in a hall bedroom spending her entire income on cultivating a voice which will never amount to a row of pins.

But you could not make her see it in that light. As she sits there in her shabby little room she sings trills fade away and she sees the great scarlet and gold horseshoe of the grand opera house, and on the stage holding the great throng spellbound she sees a glorified picture of herself.

That is her dream day and night, but I who love her dream of her in another fashion.

The Dream I See.

I see a room where the fire light flickers softly, and in its glow a gracious little figure rocks slowly to and fro. In her arms there nestles a sweet smelling bundle of flannel and lace, and cuddled against her heart is a crumpled pink face as wise as eternity and as sweet as heaven.

That is the vocation that girl is born for if only she will be wise enough to open her career-dazzled eyes and seize her opportunity.

I know many girls who are sighing and pining for big chances and hourly neglecting the small ones which surround them on every side.

A stenographer bemoans the fact that she is not on the stage—she knows she would make a great actress. In the meantime she is neglecting her employer's interests and making a mighty poor stenographer.

I know just how it is; we all love to think ourselves capable of the romantic, exciting opportunities, the opportunities that place us in the limelight.

The other opportunities we look for are as dull routine, and we think they are of small importance.

Do What You Do Well.

But you know, dears, that most of us are just ordinary, everyday women, only capable or filling ordinary, everyday roles. The great actress is one of a hundred, also the great artist or singer. Most of us, however, have the chance to make a success of our ordinary everyday vocations. So why not go at them wholeheartedly and enthusiastically?

If you have undertaken stenography be a fearless stenographer, make yourself invaluable to your employer.

And if some earnest, industrious young fellow wants you to marry him think twice before you choose. A hall room and a failure on the stage is preferable to the shelter and protection of his love. A vocation is what we all must have if we would be happy, but it must find the right one. It's all very well to say "Catch your chariot to a star," but to get to the star we must not neglect the path of glow worms which light our way.

Keep your eyes open for the chance that is close at hand, dear girls.

$$$

Revere Beach Life Saver Tops Vaudeville Bill at Keith's Theatre This Week

The frozen North with big Sam Mahoney, the former Revere life guard, as the leading inhabitant, is the big hit at Keith's Theatre this week. Considering the prominence that the Arctic regions have enjoyed of late, the feature is decidedly up to date. The scenic effects called forth much applause from the audience, and when Mr. Mahoney emerged from the icy waters and announced that he had been there for the last five minutes the ovation was tremendous.

J. T. Hayward and Fred Mee, in "The Friend from Home" act, were unusually good. The act is full of new features and remarkable dances. Willard Simms and Edith Conrad, in "The Faker Hanger," keep the audience in such gales of laughter that you almost wish they would spare their antics for a minute to give your aching sides a rest.

Well known and well loved Trixie Gulbert charmed the people with her inimitable rendition of songs in both English and French. Her manner and personality send a striking appeal across the footlights and the only regret was that she did not sing more.

The bill also includes Spissell Brothers and Company in their wonderful contortion feats; Geiger and Walters with their violins, the Dale Sextette; James and Sadie Lowrard and Richard Anderson in a travesty on "Caesar and Cleopatra," and Paul La Croix, juggler.

Castle Square.

A "Bachelor's Honeymoon," which opened at the Castle Square last night, proved to be one of the fun-producers of the season. The house rang with merriment from the first lines of the play until the curtain came down on the drawn-out and peals of laughter.

The play itself is one of those creations in which situations are continually occurring which are so absurd and yet so amusing that one never knows when the limit is reached of laughter-compelling scenes.

The members of the John Craig company are in their element in the play, and each member of the cast will lose no life in the portrayal of the several characters.

George Russell, Donald Meek, Alice Gertrude Rainey and Miss Mary Young have the chief roles. That the audience was delighted with their work was amply testified by certain calls and almost continuous laughter. Miss Young was called to the footlights and bowed a beautiful bouquet of thanks while the house clapped its appreciation.

American Music Hall.

Boston's boxing fans and, incidentally, many other hundreds of theatre-goers are this week enjoying at the American Music Hall the moving pictures of the Johnson-Ketchel fight at Colma. From the first to the last round every blow is distinctly registered. Whatever views Boston fight fans may have formed of the Ketchel-Johnson bout, according to the decision rendered by the concensus of opinion among the boxing enthusiasts who have seen the cinematograph views give the dusky boxer credit for playing with his opponent.

Dull care vanishes when Ann J. Curtis and Miss Bertha De Hollie and company produce their mirth provoking sketch, "A Session of School," and it is difficult not to witness the work of Carlmell and Harris in their bicycle act without a smile. Nelson Jackson, an English comedian, pleases with his songs and stories and Hal Stagamy more good-natured goodness never heavily. Some original feats of juggling are introduced by the Nonpareils, who finally meets a just death at the hands of a long-missing fellow-juggler. The Three Sisters, if ben Carroll was excellent while Harry Handsworth as Curtis York, the villain, was everything that could be expected. Others who help to make the vest a delightful one were Earl McLellan, Clark Ross, Gertrude Boss and George Currie.

Hollis.

Miss Grace George in "A Woman's Way" began her second and final week at the Hollis Street Theatre last night. The amusing comedy by Thompson Buchanan, with its novel domestic problem, entertained audiences highly while the real comedy work of the organization was far equally pleasing. Next Monday Lillian Russell comes in "A Widow's Might" for her regular Boston engagement.

Bowdoin Square.

"The Heart of a Hero," at the Bowdoin Square Theatre, is a melodrama relating to a young girl who is driven to commit a desperate crime. In the action of the play is a surprising revelation of life in our large cities. The leading roles are well taken by Frederick Van Rensselaer, Edytha Ketchum, James Neill, Beatrice Prentiss and Tommy Sheehan. The feature film in the moving pictures is "Drink," which is the name of the play to be given at the Bowdoin Square next week.

Tremont.

That Bostonians rightly appreciate good operetta is shown by the attendance at the Tremont Theatre, where "The Love Chaser" is on its second week. Lina Abarbanell, the prima donna, and Charles J. Ross, the comedian, are politely featured in this latest Henry W. Savage importation from musical Vienna.

Majestic.

Ethel Green's melodious song, "Ask Her While the Band Is Playing" is one of the hits in "The Rose of Algeria," which is on its second and final week at the Majestic Theatre. The singing of Lillian Herlein, the new prima donna from Berlin, and of Eugene Cowles, the favorite basso, are other features in the Victor Herbert score. Miss Vida Allen comes next week in "The White Sister."

Colonial.

The second week of Miss Elsie Janis in "The Fair Co-Ed," at the Colonial Theatre began last night with capacity attendance. The popularity of Miss Janis in Boston and the merry lines and situations of the George Ade comedy make a strong combination. Miss Janis's delightful impersonations are among the chief charms of the play.

Boston.

"Three Twins" is on its sixth week at the Boston Theatre. The varied features of this sparkling musical comedy make it highly popular. Among the new are the comedy specialties and singing of Clifton Crawford, the dancing of Bessie Mercer and the singing of Ethel Leon. "The Land of Nana" and "Cuddle Up a Little Closer, Lovey Mine," songs are being whistled about town.

Globe.

The announcement Sunday that the original engagement of "The Blue Moon" at the Globe Theatre had been indefinitely extended was warranted by the big attendance which marked the first performance of the beginning of the fourth week at the local play. The Clyde Fitch comedy, as interpreted by Mabel Barrison in the title role, Harry Conor, Zelda Sears and others won its accustomed laugh-fest.

Park.

"A Gentleman from Mississippi" is approaching the end of its second month at the Park Theatre, but with patronage keeping up steadily. The comedy draws on no point of its political interest and the acting of Wise and Fairbanks, the co-stars, with their able supporting company.

Columbia.

The Nelson Hyland light plays, Pattling Nelson himself and Sam T. Jack's burlesque troupe formed one of the greatest drawing attractions at the Columbia last week. Nelson and the pictures were applauded by the sports and the burlesque show proved a hummer. To-morrow night Carl Anderson and Willoughby will meet on the wrestling mat. Friday the amateurs will be seen.

Gaiety.

Two big honors greeted Fred Irwin's Majesties at the Gaiety Theatre yesterday, special features of the show intended to "Fill the Bill of Honor," being two fair duel bouts; the prison scene with Amazons and the grand operatic chorus and the new burlesque. The troupe is headed by Fred Irwin, Two fair duellists, Jim Fay, Joe Hollander, Flo Bennett, Marie Hartman, Edith Hollander, Marie Revere, Adele Meredith, Marie Melville, and Magda Dahl, known as "The American Nightingale."

Howard Athenaeum.

"The Bat Mankichi Japs with the Frolic some Lambs proved the hit of the bill at the Howard Athenaeum yesterday. Mike Kelly, leading comedian for the Lambs, was good and human on the house bill Frankell and Lewis, singers, Dunbar and Sibley in a sketch and the Lamonds round especial applause.

Comique.

Gertrude Mann in songs, assisted by Arthur Hoffman at the piano, is the big feature of the week's bill at the Comique. Other numbers include Eva Vaughn Gordon Richards and Albert Capron in illustrated ballads, John Lee, the character artist, and new moving pictures, among the latter is "The Cattle Thieves," a powerful story of the Northwest.

Hub.

Kichi Hashimoto in a Jap novelty act, Beverly and Mack in a comedy skit and Buckley and Martin Company in "A Race Manager" are features at the Hub this week, moving pictures are shown. Buckley and Martin Company last through the week. New acts Thursday include Ralio Brothers in Mexican serenading and Floyd and Russell in blackface.

Scenic Temple.

The hit of the Scenic Temple bill is Lee Ying Gan, said to be the only English-speaking Chinese entertainer on the American stage. His impersonations of Harry Lauder in kilts, is is celestial knockout. Other features include Ned Dandy in monologue, Miss Alle Vivian, comedienne; Ira Kessner, tenor; Arthur Ireland, boy soprano, and moving pictures.

Premier.

The "Talking Pictures" continue in high favor at the Premier. Among the films are J. Fenimore Cooper's "Leather Stocking," "The Cuban and Ten Pirates," "Uncle Tom's Cabin Boy to Klug," Lillian Melcher, Luther Ray, Fenne Mills, Annette Van Vine, Loud and Cummings, Schaffer and Beasley are among the musical artists. The bill changes Thursday.

Pastime.

"The Stage Driver" flies is the leading card at the Pastime this week. It shows a real Western holdup. On the bill are the Trents, roller skaters and dancers, Lem and Dolly Wells in fun, Hazel Auburn, character changes; Charles McNaughton, Murphy and Turner.

Oh, New England Housewives! Tell Us How You Will Provide for the Holiday.

Well, maybe the Thanksgiving Editor is having his troubles. About 600 letters arrived yesterday. He was completely swamped in bills of fare.

You know, the AMERICAN offers $25 in prizes of $10, $5 and ten of $1 for the best Thanksgiving turkey dinner bills of fare.

There are few rules to the contest:

The bills of fare must be arranged on a scale for a family of six, and must not exceed $3.50 as a total cost.

Turkey must, of course, be included.

Send in your letters giving the best bills of fare you can prepare for the price. Write only on one side of the paper and as clearly as possible.

Send your letters to the Thanksgiving Editor, BOSTON AMERICAN, Boston.

Here are some of the latest replies:

Easily Prepared.

Thanksgiving Editor:

Here is the menu of the dinner served to four family every year. Just a plain, wholesome dinner, easily prepared and within the $3.50 limit:

Roast Turkey with Stuffing.

White Potatoes.	Sweet Potatoes.	Turnips
Squash.	Boiled Onions.
Bread and Butter Pudding.
Mince and Squash Pies.
Nuts.	Candy.	Fruit.
Coffee.

MRS. C. R. OLIVER.
No. 9 Norman street, Cambridge.

Cape Cod Dinner.

Thanksgiving Editor:

This is a Thanksgiving dinner I enjoyed two years ago down on the Cape:

Chicken soup	$ .60
Roast stuffed duck	.90
Mashed potatoes, baked sweet potatoes, creamed onions, mashed white turnips.
Squash	.45
Cranberry sauce, celery, pickles	.20
Pumpkin pie, mince and apple	.50
Oranges, nuts, raisins	.50
Dark fruit cake, cheese	.20
Tea, coffee	.10
Total	$4.35

MISS R. M. WYER.
No. 121 Brook avenue, Dorchester, Mass.

Just a Plain Dinner.

Thanksgiving Editor:

Here is just a good, plain Thanksgiving dinner:

Chicken soup, 2½ pounds	$ .45
Roast turkey, 7 pounds	1.45
Mashed potatoes	.10
Squash	.05
Turkey dressing	.05
Turkey stuffing	.20
Cranberry sauce	.10
Celery	.05
Oranges	.05
Grapes, one pound	.10
Nuts, one pound	.15
Candy	.10
Coffee	.10
Cheese	.10
Squash pie	.10
Mince pie	.10
Candy	.25
Total	$3.30

MRS. F. LEE.
No. 168 Sixth street, South Boston.

How Does This Strike You?

Thanksgiving Editor:

Eight pound hen turkey	$1.60
Celery	.15
Cranberry sauce	.10
Onions	.05
Yellow turnip	.10
Half-pck potatoes	.10
Two quarts of sweet potatoes	.10
Squash pie	.10
Mince pie	.12
Plum pudding	.10
Nuts and raisins	.10
One-half dozen oranges	.13
Apples	.05
Two loaves of bread	.10
Cake and butter	.20
Tea, sugar and milk	.25
Total	$3.40

MRS. JANE McNULTY.
No. 46 Cooper street.

How to Cook It.

Thanksgiving Editor:

Will willingly send full directions how to cook this dinner to any reader of the BOSTON AMERICAN:

Roast Turkey	$2.60
Cracker crumb dressing	.10
Giblet gravy
Cranberry sauce	.10
Potatoes	.10
Squash	.09
Onions	.05
Celery	.10
Plum pudding	.10
Hard sauce	.10
Pumpkin pie	.12
Mince pie	.12
Nuts	.12
Fruit	.20
Total	$3.50

MRS. C. J. CELLINGTON,
28 Princeton street, East Boston.

And Plum Pudding.

Thanksgiving Editor:

Milk soup
Roast turkey with giblet sauce.
Mashed potatoes. Sweet potatoes.
Squash.
Celery. Cranberry jelly.
Mince and pumpkin pies.
Plum pudding with glass sauce.
Cheese. Crackers. Oranges and nuts
Tea. Bread and Butter.

COST OF DINNER.

Milk soup	$ .06
Seven pounds of turkey, at 20 cents pound	1.40
Two quarts of white potatoes	.05
Two pounds of sweet potatoes	.05
One quart of onions	.05
Two quarts of apples	.05
Squash	.08
Two pounds of sugar	.04
One-half pound of lard	.06
Four pounds of flour	.10
Two loaves of bread	.10
Celery	.10
Cheese	.05
Crackers	.05
One eight pound of tea	.65
One package of mincemeat	.25
Milk	.04
Pumpkin	.05
Oranges	.10
Nuts	.10
Condiments	.05
Plum pudding	.25
Total	$3.10

MRS. AGNES McCREADY.
No. 1 Ward court, South Boston.

Double Legal Stamps will be given with every purchase mornings, until 12 o'clock noon, at Wolf's, "My Clothier," corner Hanover and Portland streets. Single stamps thereafter.

Oysters on the Side.

Thanksgiving Editor:

6½ lbs. turkey, 25c. lb. giblet sauce	$1.62
Bread dressing	.10
Potatoes (white)	.05
Potatoes (sweet), baked	.05
Celery	.10
Bread	.05
Butter	.05
Flour (for thickening)	.01
Milk	.03
Scalloped oysters	.05
Crackers for oysters	.05
Squash	.05
Onions	.05
Cranberries	.10
Cream	.05
Coffee	.10
Cream (for coffee)	.05
Mince Pie	.10
Pumpkin pie	.10
Nuts	.05
Fruit and Nuts	.15
Total	$3.00

LOUISE PURPLE.
No. 57 Willow avenue, West Somerville

Oysters and Cider.

Thanksgiving Editor:

Here is a menu for a $3.50 dinner:

Chowder	$ .25
Sliced lemons.
Roast turkey. Bread dressing.
Cranberry sauce. Celery.
Mashed potatoes. Mashed turnips.
Creamed onions.
Cream cheese and olive salad.
White and brown bread.
Plum pudding. Wine sauce.
Pumpkin pie. Cheese.
Coffee. Nuts. Cider.

MRS. R. K. MacLEAIN.
No. 3 Oxford Terrace.

Old-Fashioned Way.

Thanksgiving Editor:

An old-fashioned dinner:

Turkey, eight pounds	$2.00
Stuffing	.10
Sweet potatoes	.06
Common potatoes	.06
Squash	.05
Beets	.05
Cranberry sauce	.15
DESSERT.
Mince pie	.10
Pumpkin pie	.12
Oranges	.20
Grapes	.15
Plum pudding	.20
Total	$3.09

EMILY GILE.
No. 28 Ashford street, Allston.

"Like Mother Made."

Thanksgiving Editor:

Here's a dinner like mother used to make:

Turkey, 8 pounds	$2.00
Plum pudding	.25
Cranberry jelly	.10
Mince pie	.10
Pumpkin pie	.10
Onions	.05
Oranges	.10
Grapes, one pound	.15
Nuts, one pound	.15
Candy	.10
Celery	.10
Squash pie	.10
Stuffing	.10
Total	$3.25

MARGARET BARNES.
No. 128 Ninth street, South Boston.

One Cent Left Over.

Turkey	$1.60
Tomato soup	$ .10
Bread stuffed turkey	.10
Cranberry sauce	.10
Boiled onions	.10
Squash	.10
Celery	.15
White potatoes	.06
Sweet potatoes	.06
Graham bread	.08
¼ lb. creamery butter	.18
Lettuce and tomato salad	.15
French dressing	.10
Mince pie	.15
¼ lb. English cheese	.15
One quart of apple cider	.25
Oranges	.20
Mixed nuts	.15
Total	$3.49

MRS. LENA CARBERRY.
No. 84 Romsel street, Dorchester.

Even Money for This.

Thanksgiving Editor:

Oyster soup	$0.28
Turkey	2.00
Cranberry sauce	.08
Celery	.18
Sweet potatoes	.06
String beans	.05
White onions	.10
Butter 1 lb.	.35
Bread, 1 loaf	.05
Plum Pudding	.30
Total	$3.50

MRS. RICHARD LEE, JR.
No. 9 Walnut street, Boston.

Two Kinds of Pie.

Thanksgiving Editor:

Turkey, 8 pounds	$1.60
Dressing	.05
Squash	.10
Potatoes	.10
Sweet potatoes	.07
Turnips	.07
Celery	.10
Bread	.10
Butter	.15
Mince pie	.10
Cranberry pie	.10
Pudding	.15
Nuts	.15
Oranges	.15
Bananas	.15
Grapes	.10
Candy	.15
Total	$3.49

RENE JEFFREY.
No. 660 Saratoga street, East Boston.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

The Boston American Offers $25 in Prizes for the Best Dinner Bills of Fare.

Who Can Beat This?

Thanksgiving Editor:

This is what I call an ideal Thanksgiving dinner:

Raw oysters	$2.00
Two quarts potatoes (mashed)	.05
Three pounds sweet potatoes (baked)	.06
Turnips (mashed)	.05
Three pounds squash	.09
One quart onions (creamed)	.05
One can of peas	.10
One pint cranberries for sauce	.05
One pint celery	.05
Pumpkin Pie	.15
Two quarts cider	.10
One pound nuts, mixed	.10
One pint milk	.04
Two pounds sugar	.04
One-half pound butter	.15
Dressing for turkey	.05
Total	$3.00

MRS. D. FLEMING.
No. 237A Highland avenue, Somerville.

Old Boston Bill of Fare

An old fashioned Boston Thanksgiving dinner:

Seven pounds turkey	$1.40
Sausage meat and mashed potatoes for dressing	.60
Giblet gravy	.10
Two pounds squash	.06
Two pounds turnips	.06
Two quarts potatoes	.05
Two pounds sweet potatoes	.06
One bunch celery	.05
Cranberry jelly	.10
Lettuce salad with French dressing	.12
Crackers and cheese	.15
Mince pie	.12
Plum pudding	.15
Ice cream	.20
Cake	.10
Six oranges	.12
One pound grapes	.10
One pound mixed nuts	.12
Package raisins	.10
Mixed chocolates	.50
Coffee and whipped cream	.15
Total	$3.68

MRS. M. J. WELSH.
No. 1100 Harrison avenue.

KEEPING CUPID ON THE JOB.

That widow is a good manager, isn't she?

Manager? I should say so. She got that house of hers practically hired up three now for nothing."

"How did she manage it?"

"She was engaged to the carpenter till the woodwork was finished, and then she broke it off and married the plumber."—Baltimore American.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR.

Little Charles was sent to Miss K.'s to return a basket. He was received very cordially and invited to come "some time and stay to dinner."

"Thank you," said Charles very solemnly, "I will; I'll stay to-day.—The Delineator.

POLICY.

Satan gloomingly watched the heat unloading on the dock.

"We've got to make hell more exciting, or the best people simply won't come here any more," he remarked, and gave orders accordingly.—Life.

Boston Society Girls Have Longing to Shine in Leading Stage Roles

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

Whether or not all the world's a stage, all the younger members of society seem bound to take the part of players. In fact, there's hardly a young girl in the exclusive set who deep down in her heart doesn't at times long to disregard all conventions, give up every thing in the way of home and friends and go in search of fame and fortune as an actress.

In some way this longing must be satisfied, so that's the reason why Boston, above any other city in the country, abounds in society amateurs. Just think of the private theatricals given every Winter, besides the public ones by the cream of society and think of the actresses who have been taken up by the girls of the smart set.

There's Maud Adams, whom Phyllis Robbins, the pretty little prima donna of the Vincent Club and likewise one of the wealthiest young women in town, idolizes; the pretty little star of "The Love Cure," Miss Abarbanell, who is the pet of the Cabot and Brighton girls and others of that exclusive set; Ethel Barrymore, who was the intimate of Eleanora Sears, and numberless others who find in Boston a warmest of welcomes into the most exclusive sets.

Well, the Faint and Powder Club of Brookline is the latest exclusive organizations where the ambitious work off a certain amount of their zeal and it is soon to come forward with a new and clever production. The performance of "The School Mistress," one of Pinero's cleverest farces, will be given at Whitney Hall, Brookline, on the evening of November 23. The rehearsals are already going on and are progressing beautifully.

Lowell D. McNeil, the club comedian, will be seen in his inimitable characterization of the Englishman, and Miss Margaret Conrad on this occasion makes her debut in the part of Peggy, the artless pupil of Yokumnita College.

Miss Bertha Converse is to play the part of the school mistress; Miss Conrad Gerlarch of Brookline, D. S. Adler and others equally prominent will be seen in the cast.

* * *

There will be a number of representative society folk at the reception given by the President and Trustees of the Museum of Fine Arts at the opening of the building on the Fenway this afternoon. The reception is from 2 until 4.

* * *

Mrs. Charles Amory West and Mrs. Richmond Bradlee Cowles are to be the hostesses at a reception on Tuesday afternoon, November 26, from 4 until 6 at the Somerset Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. West and Mr. and Mrs. Cowles have been staying at the Somerset since they gave up their town house.

* * *

The dates for the series of Friday evening assemblies at the Tuileries are November 26, December 10 and January 7 and 21, February 18 and March 4. These affairs are for the junior members of society, the buds to be. The group of matrons is made up of Mrs. C. Minot Weld, Mrs. Philip Saltonstall, Mrs. Henry P. Hunnewell and Mrs. John Lowell.

* * *

January is the wedding month which Miss Mary L. Gurnee, sister of Mrs. Harry Hill Thorndike of this city, has settled upon for her marriage to Francis V. D. Hopkins of New York city. Their engagement was announced from Bar Harbor last Summer, where both the Gurnees and the Hoppins have had Summer homes for many years.

* * *

One of the Boston weddings of the near future, for which many New Yorkers will come to town, is that of Miss Fanny Dwight to Grenville Clarke. Miss Dwight is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Dwight of Hereford street. Mr. Clarke is to give his bachelor dinner at Delmonico's next Saturday evening.

The wedding is to take place on the last Saturday of the month, November 27, in the First Church, on the corner of Berkeley and Marlboro streets. The ceremony will be performed at 3:30 in the afternoon, which seems to be a favorite hour for the season's brides.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Stair Macomber will give a ring and reception at her home on Beacon street on the second day of December. The affair will be given in honor of Miss Constance Wilcock, who is the fiancee of her son, Frank Stair Macomber.

* * *

At the reception which Mrs. William Minard Richardson is to give for the presentation of her daughter, Miss Margaret Richardson, on Thursday afternoon, the same day the younger set who will assist at the tea tables are Francesca Warren, Dorothy Draper, Mary Parkman, Geraldine Zerrahn, Helen Eustis, Katherine Daly, Margery Prescott, Katherine Saltonstall, Margaret Warner, Marian Swan, Erica Thorp and Marie Prankle.

* * *

November 29 is the date set for the presentation of Miss Chilton Alexander, daughter of Mrs. John E. Alexander, who have been among the Summer colony at Lenox this season. Miss Alexander was very popular with the members of the Boston Summer colony in the Berkshires this season, and doubtless a number of her set from here will go out to attend the reception and tea which her mother is to give.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Winsor of Chestnut Hill have announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Anna Winsor, to Dr. John Parker Bullard, Jr., of Boston street. Dr. Swift is a graduate of Harvard University of the class of 1904.

* * *

A number of Boston people were in New York yesterday for the large and fashionable church wedding of Miss Eleanor S. Whipple, daughter of Major and Mrs. Samuel Parker Whipple, to Francis R. Shedard, Jr., Robert Fulton Blake of this city was one of the ushers.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. William Appleton of this city have gone to New York for a brief visit and are stopping at the Hotel Belmont.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Frick and their family are not expected at their house before the middle of December.

* * *

The Frances W. Fabens are again settled in their Boston residence for the season. They have but recently returned from a Summer and Autumn at West Manchester.

* * *

Mrs. I. B. Silsbee of Marlboro street is at home again for a long session at Pride's. She will entertain considerably this season according to present plans.

YOU can build brain and muscle better by eating frequently and plentifully of Quaker Oats than with any other food.

This is the opinion of the greatest food expert among the famous physicians of England—Sir James Crichton Browne, LL.D., F.R.S. He says: "Oats is the most nourishing of all cereals."

Eat more Quaker Oats!

Regular size package 10 cents.

A Complete Assortment of the Best Foreign and American Styles in

Women's Coats and Capes For Stormy Weather Wear

Included in this remarkable showing are:

Raincoats of English Waterproof Tweeds and fancy mixtures.
New smart models made by Burberry, London.
Coats and Capes of rubberized silk, satin moire and mohair in new models.
White or black rubber coats, cut with mannish collar and sleeves.

These items indicate the strong values being shown:

English Raglan Raincoats — Imported cravenette, mannish style. Price 18.50

Smart White Rubber Raincoats — Mannish sleeve; black satin collar and cuffs. Price 7.50

Jaunty Rain Capes — Full circular model. Price 18.50

Cravenette Capes — Very stylish model. Price 18.50

Mohair Raincoats — In novelty stripe, tan, olive, blue, smoke and black. Price ... 7.50

Mannish Coats — In tan; double texture box coats. Price 15.00

English Cravenette Coats — Semi-fitted or loose. Price 18.50

Rubberized Mohair Coats — In new two-tone fabric, mannish sleeve, loose coat. Price 12.50

Serge Raincoats — All colors, plain and novelties, with the famous "Presto" collar. Semi or loose. Price 15.00

Rubberized Taffeta Coats — Heavy Taffeta, with broad satin stripe, loose model. Price 15.00

Imported French Satin Coats — Rubberized in pearl, gray, navy and rose shades. Price 25.00

Black Rubber Coats — Mannish sleeve, velvet collar and cuffs. Price 8.75

See our new Garment Protector at 5.00

(Shown here exclusively)

A large assortment of Raincoats and Capes from 7.50 up to 65.00

Jordan Marsh Company

SECOND FLOOR—REAR

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKETS; LATEST FINANCIAL NEWS

DULLNESS IN LOCAL STOCKS

STATE STREET, Nov. 9.—Copper shares lapsed into dullness this forenoon and were inclined to ease a point. There is a fair borrowing demand for such New York copper stocks as carry changes, Butte Coalition and one or two others that are listed here, while industries that unlisted in New York has sold them Boston are bought them.

Daily conferences are reported as being held, leading toward the declined copper condition, but as yet nothing official is signaled. The continued strength of copper securities in London is in anticipation of favorable points maturing and considerable buying of them by American speculators is reported.

Amalgamated yielded slightly the forenoon session, which is not quite a point below the high of yesterday. Lake Copper was in slight demand for Wednesday shipment and rose to 21¾. The run of Lake ore at the docks today will demonstrate the value of the property.

Nothing succeeds like circulation. The AMERICAN has quantity and quality.

BOSTON STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices to noon for leading Boston stocks.

RAILROADS.	High.	Low.	Noon.
Boston Elevated	120	119½	120
Boston & Lowell	100	100	100
N. Y., N. H. & H.	58	57¾	58
LAND COMPANIES.
East Boston	10½	10½	10½
TELEPHONES.
American	140	140	140½
ELECTRIC COMPANIES.
Boston Suburban pf. ...	77¾	77¾	77¾
Mass. Electric	18¾	18¾	18¾
MINING STOCKS.
Adventure	9½	9½	9½
Arizona Commercial	35	35	35
Butte Coalition	20¾	20¾	20¾
Calumet & Arizona	107	107	107
Iron Blossom	1	1	1
Granby	98	98	98
La Salle Copper	15	15	15
Mass	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Nevada Con.	20¾	20¾	20¾
Nevada Con.	27¾	27¾	27¾
North Butte	71¾	71¾	71¾
Old Dominion	52½	52½	52½
Osceola	85	85	85
Santa Fe	1¾	1¾	1¾
Shannon	10¼	10¼	10¼
Superior	66	65½	65½
Superior & Pitts.	11	11	11
Utah Con.	41	41	41
MISCELLANEOUS.
Miss. Gas Pf.	95	93	94
United Fruit	144½	144½	144½
United Shoe Mach.	49¾	49¾	49¾
UNLISTED SECURITIES.
Amalgamated	88½	88¼	88¼
Am. Agric. Chem.	48	48	48
Am. Zinc	28¼	28¼	28¼
Boston & Montana	43	43	43
Butte & Boston	87	87	87
Chino Copper	47¾	47¾	47¾
Copper Range	57¾	57¾	57¾
Davis-Daly	27¾	27¾	27¾
Ely Consolidated	27¾	27¾	27¾
Nipissing Mines	8¾	8¾	8¾
Northern Mines	52½	52½	52½
Rep. I. & Steel	17¾	17¾	17¾
Rep. I. & Steel pf.	94¾	94¾	94¾
U. S. Rubber 1st pf. ...	104¾	104¾	104¾
U. S. Steel	91¾	90¾	91¼
U. S. Steel pf.	122¾	120½	121¾
Utah Copper	49¼	48¾	49¼
West. El. & Mfg.	86½	86¼	86¼

Special Notice.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day. Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on every box. 25c

COPPER SHARES LEAD MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Copper shares, with Amalgamated at their head, continued to lead the stock market in Wall street today in activity and strength. Amalgamated gained half a point in the early trading, while Anaconda rose three-eighths and Smelters three-quarters.

The Standard railroad and industrial shares all showed fractional gains at the opening, but before the end of the first hour most of the rainbows had declined to the closing figures of yesterday. The copper shares held firm. Pennsylvania was heavy, but only a fraction below its closing price of yesterday. Specialties were steady, with Colorado Fuel and Iron the most active issue. Intermediate Metropolitan common rose five-eighths of a point and the preferred one-eighth. Steel was firm around its closing price of yesterday.

Gilt edged copper stocks were active and strong on the Curb. Cumberland Ely, Nevada Consolidated and Miami were most active and higher. Silver shares were quiet with no material change in prices.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices to noon for leading New York stocks.

RAILROADS.	High.	Low.	Noon.
Atch., T. & S. F.	120	119½	120
Atl. T. & S. F. pf.	104½	104½	104½
Balt. & Ohio	116	115⅝	116
Brooklyn Rap. Tr.	75¾	75¼	75¾
Canadian Pac.	183½	183⅝	183½
Ches. & Ohio	77¾	77¼	77¾
Chi. M. & St. P.	157⅝	157⅛	157⅜
Chi. G. W. & St. L.	18	17¾	18
Del., Lack. & W.	510	509	510
Denver & Rio G.	48	48	48
Erie	32¾	32¼	32¾
Erie, 1st pf.	44¾	44⅜	44¾
Int. Metropol.	20	20	20
Int. met. pf.	56½	56⅜	56½
Kan. City So.	34¾	34½	34¾
Mo., Kan. & Tex.	47	46⅞	47
Missouri Pac.	69½	69¼	69½
N. Y. Cent. & Hud.	125⅞	125⅝	125⅞
Northern Pac.	144¾	144¼	144¾
Pennsylvania	140½	140¼	140¼
Reading	165⅝	162⅝	165⅝
Rock Island	29¾	29¾	29¾
Rock Island pf.	79¾	79¾	79¾
Southern Pac.	129¼	129¼	129¼
Southern Ry.	31	30⅝	30⅝
Union Pacific	202½	201½	202½
Union Pacific pf.	102½	102	102½
Wabash pf.	51¾	51¼	51¾
INDUSTRIALS AND MISCELLANEOUS.
Amal. Copper	89½	88⅞	89⅛
Am. Ag. Chem.	48¾	48¾	48¾
Am. Car & Fdy.	74¾	74¼	74¾
Am. Cotton Oil	59¾	59¾	59¾
Am. Beet Sugar	36½	36½	36½
Am. Ice Securities	23¾	23¾	23¾
Am. Locomo.	62¾	62¼	62¾
Am. Sm. & R.	98¾	98¼	98¾
Am. Sm. & R. pf.	107¾	107¾	107¾
Am. Tel. & T.	140¾	140	140¾
Amalgamated Copper	88¾	88¼	88¼
Col. Fuel & Iron	49¾	49¼	49¾
Consol. Gas (N. Y.) ...	137¾	137¼	137¾
Corn. Leather	47¾	47¾	47¾
Corn. Leather pf.	93¾	93¾	93¾
Northern Ore	83¾	81	81
Pacific Mail	43¾	43¼	43¾
Press Steel Car	52	51½	51½
People Gas	102¾	102¼	102¾
Rep. I. & Steel	17¾	17⅜	17¾
Rep. I. & Steel pf.	94¾	94¼	94¾
U. S. Rubber 1st pf. ...	104¾	104¾	104¾
U. S. Steel	91¾	90¾	91¼
U. S. Steel pf.	122¾	120½	121¾
Utah Copper	49¼	48¾	49¼
West. El. & Mfg.	86½	86¼	86¼

FIRE IN GROCERY.

Fire early today did $200 damage in the grocery store in the basement of the four-story brick building at No. 58 Vernon street, Roxbury, which is owned by Sarah Codrich. The grocery store was formerly occupied by Moses Zisman, who had been recently ordered out by Mrs. Codrich. Part of his stock was still in the store.

STATE STREET NEWS OF INTEREST TO INVESTORS

The market while fairly active at times is largely professional and necessarily following the trend of events abroad in the money situation.

$ $ $

Foreign monetary advices are more cheerful, but there is still sufficient uncertainty to cause those high in finance to prevent any over speculative outbreak.

$ $ $

It appears now that the House of Lords will accept the budget rather than risk a popular election that will certainly weaken their position. Germany has just advanced its bank rate, and probably will not do so now unless England takes further action. France is disposed to ease gold and the Bank of England got all the metal that came to market yesterday.

$ $ $

An attempt was made to create the impression that the Harriman estate is liquidating Southern Pacific and Union Pacific. Nothing of the kind is under way, and it is not probable that any liquidation of importance of this source from this source for four years, at least. It is more likely that the Harriman people are buying Southern Pacific than selling it. There is no certainty of an increase of Southern Pacific's dividend this quarter. A concession may be made to the bankers who are worried about the money market.

$ $ $

Amalgamated Copper and Steel are the features of the stock market. It appears to be the programme of the campaigners to put Steel and Amalgamated and then put them up together as an example of the "conservation of the manipulation, because Steel is earning about 17 per cent, and paying 4, while Amalgamated is earning about 3 per cent. and paying 2. This partnership of Steel and Amalgamated also proves the good faith of the campaigners, for it is a perpetual notice to purchasers that if they lose any money in the market they can blame no one but themselves.

$

Word comes from Ely that the Giroux Consolidated has just penetrated a body of commercial copper ore one hundred feet thick. It is announced that Thomas F. Cole and Col. D. Bruce Whe have maintained a representation in Salt Lake City for several months, are about to open what they are pleased to call a "general western headquarters" in that city. This is taken to mean that all of the leaders of the Cole-Bruce crowd, so-called, so far as they relate to Utah, Montana, Nevada or Arizona, will be directed from that point.

$ $ $

Behind the Steel movement is the solid fact of tremendous business. The Trust earned, say $14,500,000 net for October, and enthusiasts believe it will earn $45,000,000 net for the current quarter, although no official of the company has made any estimate. New records are being established from day to day in all departments of the steel trade, and granting an easy money situation and freedom from political excitement this Winter, the Steel manipulators will evidently be justified in their enthusiasm.

$ $ $

In regard to Copper, State street feels that perhaps the Cole-Bruce outfit will be able to make good after all. These men have a great reputation as peacemakers. They settled the war at Butte and saved something out of the wreck of the Greene properties. They have the confidence of the street in general and the co-operation of J. P. Morgan. While many persons do not agree with the figures they use as a basis for estimating the copper consumption and production, a feeling is widespread that a community of interest among copper producers will help the price of the metal and help the stocks in the market.

$ $ $

The Pennsylvania and the New York Central, in asking for authority to issue more stock, have created the conjecture whether they were anticipating action by Congress in the matter of giving to the Interstate Commerce Commission right supervision over securities issued by the railroads. The railroads, in respect of earnings, are certainly offsetting anxiety on the score of the money situation. For the three weeks of October the increase in gross is 11 per cent. over last year and 5.7 per cent. in excess of 1907.

BOSTON CURB MARKET.

Sales. Prices. Div. 10 a. m. 12 m.

Stocks.	High.	Low.	Last.
Bay State Gas	4¾	4½	4¾
Boston Ely	1⅞	1⅝	1⅞
Bonanza	3⅛	3	3⅛
Brunswick	11⅝	11⅜	11⅝
Butte Coalition	15 3-16	15	15 3-16
Chino	48¾	48	48¾
Cobalt Central	58¾	57¾	58¾
Cobalt Contact	8	7¾	8
Consolidated Ely	3 7-16	3⅜	3 7-16
Davis-Daly	27¾	27¾	27¾
Elm Ridge Oil	2¾	2¾	2¾
Ely Consolidated	11 11-16	11	11 11-16
Ely Extend.	9⅝	9⅜	9⅝
Ely Mines	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
First Nat'l Copper	6¾	6¾	6¾
Gila	8	7¾	8
Giroux	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Island Creek	5 7-16	5 3-16	5 7-16
Mexico	5 7-16	5 3-16	5 7-16
Miami	14	13¾	14
Moon Valley	1	1	1
Nat'l Reduc.	5¾	5½	5¾
Nev. Utah	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Nipissing	8¾	8⅝	8¾
Raven	8¼	8¼	8¼
Rawhide Coal	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Rawhide Min.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Santa Fe Cobalt	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Silver Queen	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Southwest Devel.	100	100	100
Union Copper	3 15-16	3¾	3 15-16
Volcano	8¾	8¾	8¾
Weber	1¼	1¼	1¼
Yukon	5	5	5

$3.00 ATLAS (1909 Edition) Given FREE

To the 1000 Readers of The Boston American who take advantage of the Special Offer now made in connection with the

JUST PUBLISHED NEW FROM COVER TO COVER

Webster's NEW International Dictionary

Over 400,000 Words and Phrases

Gazetteer of the World Biographical Dictionary

About 3,000 pages, 6,000 illustrations and with Atlas of the World it embraces the Complete Circle of human knowledge for easy reference.

The Publishers now offer to readers of The Boston American the opportunity of securing this Newest and Most COMPLETE REFERENCE WORK on the following remarkably easy terms: The entire work in full leather (with Atlas)

Delivered for $1.00

and easy payments thereafter of only a few cents a week. Furthermore, the publishers have secured

1000 New Modern Atlases of the World

See Description Below

which will be given ABSOLUTELY FREE to the 1000 readers of the Boston American who take advantage of this Special Offer.

In Rich, Full Red, Leather Binding

The Greatest Single Volume Dictionary Published

JAMES B. DAY, Chancellor Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "It is the best in place as the greatest of all the single volume dictionaries."

PRESIDENT FAUNCE, Brown University, Providence, says: "It is an encyclopedia covering the entire territory of the World's knowledge, and is wonderfully accurate."

W. DEWITT HYDE, President Bowdoin College, Me., says: "It is up to date and embodies the results of the latest developments in science."

NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER, President Columbia University, says: "This familiar volume will remain my constant book companion."

J. M. TAYLOR, President of Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, says: "The new book is certainly all that one could hope for."

NOW IS THE BEST TIME TO SECURE THIS NEW DICTIONARY BECAUSE

The First orders will be filled from the First impressions of the new plates. The $1.00 NEW MODERN ATLAS will be included Free on early orders.

THE ATLAS

is the 1909 "New Modern Atlas of the World," containing new Indexed colored maps showing every country and civil division upon the face of the globe. It contains over 180 pages, size 10½x13½ inches, including an Index-Gazetteer to all the principal places of the world, and is published by one of the best known map publishers in the world at the price of $3 a copy.

To those who respond at once we will send a copy of an amusing "Test in Pronunciation" (with key) entitled "A Visit to the Deering High School," and also a "Red Facsimile Booklet" of interesting questions with references to their answers.

Mail This Coupon at Once

J. Q. ADAMS & CO.

120 Eoy ston St., Foston, Mass.

(Coupon)

J. Q. ADAMS & CO.,
120 Boylston St., Boston

Please send me free of all obligation or expense, a copy of "Test in Pronunciation," and also "Red Facsimile Booklet," with special terms of your Day Atlas offer on the Webster New International Dictionary.

Name .....

Address .....

10. A.

COME EVENINGS

And See the Handsome

HOUSEHOLD PREMIUMS

OFFERED BY THE

BOSTON AMERICAN

PREMIUM DISPLAY ROOM

Fifth Floor, Boston American Building

Open every day until 9 P. M.

OR SEE SPECIAL DISPLAYS AT

KIMBALL & CO., Prescription Druggists, Everett Sq., Everett
N. A. MILLER, Cigars, Papers, 428 Main St., Malden
BOSWORTH & CO., Stationery and Candy, 200 Washington St., Dorchester
A. E. DOUGLAS, Dorchester Transfer Station, 468 Broadway, South Boston
FRANK H. PEAK, Gents' Furnisher and Newsdealer, Medford Sq., Medford
N. E. WILBER, General Store, 476-8 High St., West Medford
M. M. MERRITT, Cigars and Tobacco, 216 Broadway, Chelsea

Theatres.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

Boston Opera Company

HENRY RUSSELL ..... Managing Director

TOMORROW EVE'G, NOV. 10, AT 8, Aida. Destinn, Zenatello, Claessens, Dufranne, Mmes. Lelia, Archambault, Baklanoff, Members, Giaconia, Vivalda, Conductor Cimini.

THURSDAY EVE'G, NOV. 11, AT 8. Extra Performance.

LA BOHEME. Music, Nielsen, Lewicka, MM. Constantino, Bourgat, Mardones, Puliesi, Fucito, Mmes. Magini, Heath, Strienz, Conductor Cotti.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 12, AT 8. PARSIFAL. Music, Leskowska, Pinsuti, Perini, Rains, Mmes. Mohl, Rosenberg, Fornari, Nivette, Strienz, Conductor Cotti.

SATURDAY MAT., NOV. 13, AT 2 P. M. LA BOHEME. Music, Nielsen, Lewicka, MM. Constantino, Bourgat, Mardones, Puliesi, Fucito, Magini, Heath, Strienz, Conductor Cotti.

SATURDAY EVE'G, NOV. 13, AT 8. AIDA. Music, Parnell, Leveroni, Fiveman, MM. Lewis, Dufranne, Bonhoure, Perini, Strienz, Conductor Cotti.

Price OF BOXES 15 Thursday Evenings $800 Each Performance $30

Prices: $3.00, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.00. Special prices for the Debutante evenings: $2.00, $1.50 and 50c.

Sunday, Nov. 14, at 8 P. M.—GRAND OPERATIC CONCERT at popular prices.

Seats Now on Sale

From 10 A. M. to 6 P. M.

For the convenience of our patrons a down-town office is established,

H. Smith Piano Co., Boston Talking Machine Company, 117 Tremont street. Tel. H. B. 4500. The office is open every day from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Mason & Hamlin Pianos used.

Amusements.

"1915" BOSTON EXPOSITION

Thousands Throng the Old Art Museum Every One Astonished!

TWO HUNDRED EXHIBITS

Wonderful Models of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, etc. Marvellous Talking Are Light.

ORIGINAL CURTIS AEROPLANE

Winner of the World's Flying Prize. $10000 paid for this attraction.

ITALIAN PERFORMING MARIONETTES

In real pasa, 6 times daily. Concerts by

BOSTON "1915" WOMEN'S ORCHESTRA

Edna Frances Simmons, Leader.

SCIENTIFIC MOVING PICTURES

Lectures tonight by Robert Brown on "Garden Cities," and Prof. Ezra P. Baker of Harvard on "The Educative Value of the Theatre."

Ask at Tech exhibit for cards to visit the Laboratories on Wed. and Fri. eves.

All Entertainments and Lectures Free

Cook's Dutch Restaurant and Tea Room

Copley Sq., Boston Nov. 1 to 27, 1909 10A.M. to 10P.M.

ADMISSION 25c CHILDREN 15c

THE GREAT Electric Show

Most Spectacular Exposition Ever Held

Mechanics Building

November 15 to 25

Watch Sat. & Sun. Papers for Attractions.

Everything Electrical

Most Elaborate Decorations Ever Seen

Opens Monday Eve., 8 P.M.
Thereafter 10 A.M. to 10.30 P.M.

25c ADMITS TO ALL

Management Chester I. Campbell

JOY LINE 2.40 BOSTON TO NEW YORK

Via Rail and Boat. Daily except Sunday. Ticket Office, 314 Washington St., Boston.

Theatres.

After Dinner Go to the HOWARD

PLAN 2. Take someone with you and see the broadest bunch of female burlesquers that ever brightened into this living room for season. You won't find any political flutfers in this bunch that hand you the blinks at glare of the ivy ball—not on your life. Clothes and shoes aren't missing but the coolest kind of shapely, girlishness and when it comes to shaking the kick, they've never a few things that can't be found in the dream book. Then you want to give your mouth the slide for a few days and get some of the calories out of your belt. If so, here's the chance that doesn't come every day. The merry girls with the Penlesome Ladies Company have a few spaces left in their date books. Are you one of 'em and doing? Then beat it while your fans are good to the oil.

HOWARD

Keep your powers peeled for the Fire Manikibi Japs, sensational Oriental acrobats.

Always Something Doing from 1 till 11—Smoking Allowed

Theatres.

GLOBE TONIGHT

A Call to Arms. All Good and Loyal Citizens Should Not Miss

THE BLUE MOUSE

BY CLYDE FITCH

Original New York Cast, MABEL BARRISON, HARRY CONOR ZELDA SEARS, HALLEN MACALISTER. 20 OTHERS

Boston only engagement. Stock Company in New England.

Wednesday Mats. Always 25c to $1
Nights and Sat. Mat. 25c to $1.50

COLONIAL THEATRE TONIGHT

Farewell Matinee Thanksgiving Day

ELSIE JANIS

And Her Company of Clever Collegians in Vaudeville Boys and Girls

Charles Dillingham's Sumptuous Production

THE FAIR CO-ED By Sweet and Solman

Music by Gustav Luders. ONLY MATINEE SAT.

Castle Sq. Daily at 2 & 8 Tel. Tremont 5

The John Craig Stock Company in

A BACHELOR'S HONEYMOON

Prices 15c, 25c, 50c, 75c

Down Town Ticket office, 15 Winter St.

Next Week—The College Widow

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Evgs. at 8:00, 20c, 25c, 50c, 75c
Matinees Wed., Thurs., Sat. Mats. at 2:15, 20c, 25c, 50c

BROADWAY AFTER DARK

Including HARRY FIELDS Next Week—Big Boxing Carnival

COLUMBIA SQUARE Daily 2 Sam T. Jack Burlesquers

BATTLING NELSON Daily Mat.

WILLOUGHBY vs. CARL ANDERSON WED. NIGHT

BOWDOIN SQUARE Daily 2 THEATRE and 8

"HEART OF A HERO."

Including a Moving Picture Display. Any seat in the house 20c. Next week "Drink."

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL

Mats. 2:15, Reserved Seats, 25c & 50c. Evgs. 8:15, 25c to $1.00. Loges, Seats, 50c

SEE FOR YOURSELF

JUST WHAT A PRIZE FIGHT IS

The Pictures of the Great

JOHNSON-KETCHEL

Fight in Next in Sizzling at Ring Side, Taken by accurate and Spectacular Cameramen of Opinion—Presented Every Night.

Reserve Your Seats NOW

Also See One of the Best Vaudeville Shows of the Season.

TREMONT THEATRE

Tonight at 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2

"The sweetest medicine ever."—Traveler.

Henry W. Savage Offers With Charles J. Ross Lilian Archbold and a brilliant opera company, fine chorus and orchestra

THE LOVE CURE

PARK 8th Wk. Evgs. 8. Mats. Wed., Sat. and Thanksgiving

Matinee Night Nov. 25. Harvard-Yale Nov. 20

The play that has never stopped!

A GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI

With THOS. A. WISE and DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

THEATRE COMIQUE

Next Week: Sensational Comedy Co. CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE NEW SONGS NEW PICTURES CAMERAPHONE

Admission with Orchestra Seat, 10c

10 PREMIER 10 BEST BIG SHOW

WASH. ST., COR. HEATH

GAIETY Washington St., Near Boylston

THE MAJESTICS

Daily at 2.15 and 8.15 P. M. Tel. Oxford 39

Theatres.

KEITH'S LAST NIGHT

GREAT ARTISTIC SUCCESS YVETTE GUILBERT

1 A GENUINE SENSATION SAM MAHONEY

2 Swimming Among Floating Ice

James and Sadie Leonard and Richard Anderson, Spissell Bros. & Co., Ed. and Nic. Cliffe Serenaders, Geiger and Walters and WILLARD SIMMS

SPECIAL—Patrons are invited to the stage to see the Ice Sea after the performance.

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE

A Copley Enterprise. Ruth A. Hosmer, Lessee & Mgr.

Last 5 Nights, at 8:20 Only, Sat. at 2:20

GRACE GEORGE

Direction of Wm. A. Brady, in "A WOMAN'S WAY"

(By Thompson Buchanan)

Two Weeks Only NEXT MONDAY Matinee Wed. & Sat.

EXTRA MATINEE THANKSGIVING

LILLIAN RUSSELL

In a Modern Comedy

The Widow's Might

SEATS NOW ON SALE

MAJESTIC MATINEE TOMORROW

DARTMOUTH Team and Boys NIGHT Saturday

THE ROSE OF ALGERIA

NEXT WEEK—SEATS THURSDAY

VIOLA ALLEN

In the WHITE SISTER

BOSTON Mats. Wed. and Sat. at 2 Evgs. at 8.

"How Our Ears Burn; Everyone is Talking About Us"

3 TWINS

CLIFFORD CRAWFORD ESSIE McCOY

SCENIC TEMPLE

Berkeley St. and Warren Av.

Mats. 2.30. Eves. con. 7 to 10.30

Admission 10 Cts. All Seats Free

MOST OF THE JOBS

Nowadays go to people who advertise and who watch and answer ads.

Read American Want Ads For PROFIT

THE HOME PAPER OF BOSTON

Use AMERICAN Want Ads For RESULTS

Deaths.

DURRELL—In South Boston, November 8, Alice, beloved daughter of Alfred and Melissa Durrell, 19 years.

Funeral from parents' residence, No. 397 E street, Wednesday morning, November 10, at 8:15. High mass of requiem at St. Augustine's church at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—In Huntington av. or Boylston st. between Exeter and Clarendon, outlined white fob, bearing name of owner, university and fraternity devices, reward offered. Return to 800 Kimball Bldg., Boston.

LOST—Somewhere between Knickerbocker bldg., 96 Tremont st. and North Station, silver and watch, with monogram L. B. S. on back; reward. Address 12 SHAFER, 167 Woodward av., Detroit, Mich.

LOST—Saturday, between 3-6 p. m., small purse, containing small sum and gold heart attached; between Bromfield, Brooklyn-Tremont Station and Dudley. Finder address 687 Columbus av. Reward.

LEFT IN STORE, between Summer and Bedford sts., Saturday, a package. Owner may have by proving property and paying for this notice. Shawmut av., city.

LOST—Wednesday, near or in Tremont Temple, pocketbook, containing sum of money, photos, etc. Gentleman's finder please return to 1 Ware st. Reward.

LOST—Yellow and white collie dog. Finder liberally rewarded if returned to 259 Beacon st.

Information Wanted.

MISSING PERSONS FOUND in all parts of the world. Address Lock Box 2716, Boston, Mass.

Special Announcements.

WE WIN quality and service combined. Connolly's Drug Store. Fruitdale.

BOARD AND ROOM before and during confinement. Mrs. E. A. HAYDEN, Dedham.

LOG BUSINESS CARDS for $1; also all kinds job printing. BRIEF PRESS, 31 Leverett st.

Printing.

SEND 2 CENTS for sample cards, 10c per 100 up; other printing your own fair price; you can't beat us. SCOTT, 107 Cornhill, Tremont Temple.

Male Help Wanted.

AT BAY STATE BUSINESS AGENCY, Union Square, Somerville—Steady employment; wages.

CARRIAGE TRIMMERS wanted; also blacksmiths' helper. H. P. NICHOLS & CO., 7 Ridge-wood av., Boston.

ENGINEERS, FIREMEN—Get higher license, additional education by home study; pamphlet free. Mark, State examiner of engineers, practical course, low cost, easy terms; established 1891; endorsed by engineers and electricity; evening, correspondence free. HAWLEY'S SCHOOL, 113 Hawley st., Boston.

GIVE HUNDRED strong young men wanted immediately for position or business; $25 weekly and board; good chance increasing business; $1,000 required; will secure by first mortgage on property worth $3,000 or more; references exchanged; no time wasted; write; mean business. RAILWAY ASSOCIATION, P. 26 Times Building, New York.

ELECTRICIAN to go into business with us; must have $500 to $1,000 to invest; permanent position for right man. ST NICHOLAS, 237 Warren av., Roxbury.

TAILOR—Skilled and reliable coat maker wanted; steady work. Apply at 168 Boylston st., Boston.

WANTED—Able-bodied man for the S. S. steamer Nantucket, sailing from Boston to Nantucket; handy to take charge of engine; wages $15 to $20 per week; additional remuneration possible; food, clothing and lodging furnished; must be over 21 years; before 40 years; seamen can retire with 75 per cent of pay after 20 years' service; no liquor or intoxicants to all ranks of the service. Apply at 98 Custom House, Boston.

WANTED—Experienced operators on rubber surface coating machines; also on cotton and silk goods; but coated goods. Apply to CLIFTON MFG. CO., 60 Kilby st., Boston. Also wanted, a boy to act Hop on to Cornhill st.

$2.50 A DAY PAID to one man in each town to distribute free circulars and take orders for our guaranteed hosiery; permanent position. J. S. ZIEGLER CO., Chicago.

Male Miscellaneous.

LEARN TO BE A CHAUFFEUR.

THE MOST thorough course in Boston; competent instructors in charge; cars for practice; you are especially equipped for teaching; look up our record for success; we have placed men everywhere. G. C. BONNEY, 45 Stanhope st., day or evening classes.

GUARANTEED HOSE.

GUARANTEED for 6 months, no holes; box of 3 pairs by mail, BARBER'S HOSIERY, Fall River, Mass.

ANYONE, anywhere, can start a mail order business at home; no canvassing; by your own hour; send 2c stamp for particulars. Address Box 1, Postoffice Station, Boston.

GOODYEAR welting, running or stitching, $12; cutting, sewing, edge trimming or setting, $35; turning, pegging, rough rounding or heeling, $25. E. BROWN'S SCHOOL, 361 Hanover st., Boston, Mass.

COLLATERAL LOAN TICKETS—I will sell either singly, part or whole, at a bargain. Address Box 2, Boston.

LEARN BARBER business thoroughly now, quick method. EMPIRE EXCHANGE, 3 Tremont row.

ENGINEERS AND FIREMEN—Get higher license at the only recognized and reliable school; free catalogue. STATE STEAM ENGINEERING SCHOOL, 121 Haverhill st., Boston. Always open. James Owens, M. E., instructor.

MOVING PICTURE OPERATORS, $20 week; will teach home machine operator, $20; MORSE, 363 Tremont st., open evenings.

PICTURE machine, picture machine, $20 week; will teach home machine; easy; call or write; open evenings. MORSE, 363 Tremont st.

PICTURE OPERATORS, $20 week. OPEN EVENINGS. Learn home machine; positions secured. THEATRICAL AGENCY, 18 Boylston st.

BARBERS WANTED—Steady employment. EMPLOYEES' EXCHANGE, 3 Tremont row.

STENOGRAPHER—Experienced; permanent position; commence at $12 or $15; candidates please send references. ADDRESS, 1 Lincoln st., Worcester, Mass.

WE WILL TEACH YOU to drive automobiles for $25 and free instruction in our repair rooms. Call at once. EASTERN AUTOMOBILE EXCHANGE, 42 Warren av.

Agents and Canvassers.

AGENTS ATTENTION!

A NEW LINE OF HOT SELLERS, at last it said in every home, something else to sell; agents are coining money; sales from 50 to 100 per cent; agents wanted. Box 61, 2 Park st., Boston Mass.

AGENTS WANTED—Sell our 1910 line of Xmas novelties; exclusive territory; big profits; sample free. Address Dept. 3, 1 Madison av., New York.

AGENTS—Something great; sells like hot cakes; agent sold 30 in one day; another 36 in 36 minutes; one day's total 300; sample and terms free. 614 A 2 Park sq., exclusive agency.

AGENTS WANTED—Every cigar store, lunch room and saloon must have our 5c package of Hop Bitters; sells on sight. Hop Bitters Co., Boston, Mass.

BRIGHT CANVASSERS WANTED; $15 to $30 a week; quick seller. 220 Devonshire st., Room 401.

MAKE MONEY now for the holidays; $1 will start you; something new and very simple. Address GEM PERFUME CO., Quincy, Mass.

Male Situations Wanted.

AMERICAN, 25 years old, young man, desires position in retail grocery business; experienced; educated; retail salesman or office man, willing to learn wholesale business. Address W. L. H., 3 Hudson st., Cambridge, suite 6.

AT HOME—Anyone wishing to sell or advertise, best of references, including the U. S. Capitol. Canvassing, soliciting or any kind of work. J. COOPER, 57 Dorchester st., suite 2.

A YOUNG MAN wishes to learn the trade with view of any kind in the country. MR. J. LLOYD, 22 Reading st., Boston.

A YOUNG West India man would like permanent work; experienced in office and store; willing to any kind of inside work; good references from present employer. S. B. G., 8 Burbank st.

A1 BAKER, pastry cook, confectioner, 20 years' European and American experience; wants situation; will go anywhere; references. NELSON, 84 Pearl st., Somerville.

ATTENDANT—An elderly man, perfect morals, garments, desires position in private family, or semi-invalid or elderly person contemplating going abroad; is willing to take home or go on European trip. A. YOUNG, 6 Ware st.

A LADY would like position to teach English to children of misses of neglected education. MRS. C., 28 Leslie st., Boston.

A SITUATION as nursing by experienced nurse in widow's family; nursing housework. Address NURSE, 1 Bay State road, Tremont st., Boston.

A NEAT colored girl would like to do light housework in family; will go anywhere. Address 6 Dudley st., Roxbury.

A WHITE LADY wishes small family washing to do at home; reasonable. Address MRS. S. HAND, 3 Chester st., Boston.

A COLORED woman wants day work; will go out by the day or hour, or will do evening work. MRS. C. E., 45 Warren st., Roxbury.

A YOUNG MAN, 20, wants position as laundryman, waitress, bowling alley, porter, dishwasher.

A NEAT YOUNG girl would like day's work in steady position. A. B., 37 Harvard st., Cambridge.

BACK BAY laundry work wanted by A1 colored laundress; fancy ironing, shirts, collars and cuffs work guaranteed. Apply MRS. GILLIAN, 25 Harvard st.

CAPABLE lady would like laundry work to do at home or would go out by the day; would do plain sewing over machine; references given. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

CAPABLE lady would like laundry work to do at home; best of references; will do it right. MRS. DALE, 29 Windsor st., Cambridge, suite 8.

Male Situations Wanted.

MARRIED COUPLE would like situation on small farm or care of gentleman's estate; well experienced in caring horses; best of references. A. C. CARR, 100 Webster st., Dedham, Mass.

ORDER COOK wants position, day or night work, in or out of Boston; also wife as waiting woman; first-class references. ROBERT GRIGNAY, 15 Penhorn st., Chelsea, Mass.

PORTER or JANITOR—Young man, colored wishes work. S. F., 20 Willard place, Roxbury.

PROTESTANT with family would like care of any kind, steady, sober man. Address 149 Bowdoin st., South Boston.

RELIABLE MAN will care for house this winter for rent or by family. Address references city or country, JAS. V. JOHNSON, Lowell, Mass. Gen. Del.

SALESMAN—An up-to-date specialty salesman would like to represent a first-class house in West or Middle West; salary and expenses; satisfactory references. H 456 Boston American.

TEAMSTER, married, wants situation in or out of city; understands care of horses; $2 per day. Address F. E. H., 112 Spring st., Stoneham, Mass.

TOURIST executive manager and engineer wants position; best references. C. J. D., P. O. Box 242, Boston.

WANTED, by first-class housekeeper, job in a first-class shop; can furnish best of references; is a temperate; would hire short. Address L. A. DUNN, 1 Marion st., Hyde Park, Boston.

WANTED—By a colored Jamaican man, a position in a first class stable, one who understands the care of horses and good whip. Answer C. C., 740 Shawmut av., suite 4.

WANTED—A place for colored young man, to work in private family, or alone for the winter; will work for $5 per week. Address 1 Ware st., W. H. H.

WANTED—Situation as janitor or assistant in the last place 5 years. Address J. F., 612 Columbus av., suite 10.

YOUNG MAN would like to get a place in a market to take out orders, work in store or in factory or machine shop work of any kind. T 490 Boston American.

YOUNG colored man would like a situation as butler, footman, porter, or similar work; will work well formen; references. Apply GEORGE BOOKER, 37 Mill st., Milton.

YOUNG, reliable, experienced houseman or waiter wants work. 14 Bay State road.

YOUNG COLORED MAN would like porter's work. T. G., 9 Granville st., Boston.

Female Help Wanted.

CHOCOLATE DIPPERS WANTED—Highest wages paid in Boston, with bonus. UNITED CANDY CO., 43 Leon st., Roxbury, Mass.

Perfume Ribboners

20 Girls experienced in Ribboning Perfumes. We will pay high salaries, steady work. UNITED PERFUME CO., 43 Leon Street, Roxbury, Mass.

CHOCOLATE DIPPERS CHOCOLATE PACKERS

Experienced girls wanted at LOWNEY'S, 447 Commercial st.

WOMAN DESIGNER

THOROUGHLY acquainted with the product of cotton and linen goods for retail trade; good and experienced factory process; applications treated confidentially. Box 1, 3 Hudson st., Boston.

AT BAY STATE BUSINESS AGENCY, Union Square, Somerville—2 families wanted for housework and kitchen girl; call at once.

ALL-AROUND colored woman to take care of toilet, assist in dressing and generally look after lady's wardrobe; must be neat and reliable; good wages assured to competent help; state wages. Box 1, Boston.

MILLINERY—Experienced maker wanted. GEO. A. JAMES & CO., 42 Summer st.

WANTED—Experienced operators on rubber surface coating machines; good wages; also operators on buff coated goods. Apply to CLIFTON MFG. CO., 60 Kilby st., Boston. Also wanted, a boy to act Hop on to Cornhill st.

WANTED—Experienced girl for pressing on glass cases. Apply ORIENT EYE GLASS CO., 12 Bromfield st.

WANTED—Young woman or girl for linen rack in large store; steady work. 32 Washington st., Medford, near Tufts Square.

WANTED—An experienced waitress, white and colored; also a colored girl for housework. 1 Bay State road, Boston.

WANTED—Experienced operators on rubber surface coating machines; also on cotton and silk coated goods. Apply to CLIFTON MFG. CO., 60 Kilby st., Boston. Also wanted, a boy to act Hop on to Cornhill st.

WANTED—Neat girl for general housework; $4; bring reference; 37 W. Newton st.

YOUNG LADY to assist in office work, with good voice. S 106, Boston American.

Female Miscellaneous.

LADIES' SUITS.

WE MAKE suits of your material, $7 up to $18; any style you may select, perfect fit guaranteed; unsurpassed workmanship. MODERN TAILORING CO., Blake bldg., 59 Temple pl., Boston. Room 11, 2d floor. Tel. Oxford 1.

LEARN DRESSMAKING.

INDIVIDUAL INSTRUCTION in dress cutting, designing, draping, fitting, finishing and millinery, by the famous McDevitt method; expert instructors in each department; graduates in demand; school in session; you can begin at any time; positions secured; call or write for catalogue. McDEVITT SCHOOL OF DRESSCUTTING AND MILLINERY SCHOOL, 25 Winter st., Boston.

AGENTS wanted, sample free, $1.50 per day and a grand present to your friends. Address EASTERN MFG. CO., Bangor, Me.

LADIES wanted to learn dressmaking and millinery; position guaranteed; summer rate now in effect. Call or write MME. LITCHFIELD, 63 Bedford st., Boston.

Female Situations Wanted.

A CAPABLE laundress of years experience would like washing preferred; work called for and delivered; terms reasonable. Address MRS. HAMILTON, 112 Hudson st., Cambridge.

A CAPABLE lady would like washing and ironing to do at home; family washing preferred; prices reasonable. 219 Tremont st., suite 6. MRS. ANNIE A. HARRIS, 798 Main st., Cambridge. Tel. 4200 Cambridge.

AI SEAMSTRESS wishes sewing, very capable and able to cut garments; $3 a day guaranteed; will either go out or take work home, best of references. Address 14 Tyler st., Room 54 Wharf st., Charlestown, suite 2.

A POSITION as housekeeper by a capable, trustworthy American, for 1 or 2 persons, assumes charge of home; best of references; good cook for good home. H. B., 5 Lowens st., Dorchester.

A CAPABLE, neat lady housework, plain cook, laundress; also outer cook, child, cafe or boarding house; references. MISS J. FINN, 36 Rose st., Worcester.

A YOUNG colored woman of experience would like laundry work to take home or a cook's position; best of references. Address MRS. E. J. Brown mail or in person, 16 Rutland st.

AN EXPERIENCED WANTS washing and laundry work to take home; work called for and delivered; $2 up; terms reasonable. 219 Tremont st., suite 6. MRS. ANNIE A. HARRIS, 798 Main st., Cambridge. Tel. 4200 Cambridge.

AN EXPERIENCED lady would like position to a laundry or widower's family; or cook for gentleman. Address MRS. LAURINE, 1 Ware st., Room 12.

CAPABLE young woman, single, wants work by the day or hour, good references. 8 Centre st., Hudson, Mass.

A YOUNG COLORED woman would like work by the day; will go any kind of work; is a very fine plain sewer. 50 Phillips st.

A LADY NURSE wants to take home baby or mother of any kind to take home. MRS. BESSIE WASH, 41 Wash st., Ridgewood, Newton.

A GOOD LAUNDRESS wants cleaning, washing, ironing to do; take home or go out. MRS. E. BROWN, 1 Ware st.

A LADY would like position to teach English to children of neglected education. MRS. C., 28 Leslie st., Boston.

A SITUATION as nursing by experienced nurse in widow's family; housework. 1 Bay State road, Tremont st., Boston.

A NEAT colored girl would like day's or chamber work; prefers to take home, call or write to E. D., 458 Shawmut av., Boston.

A WHITE LADY wishes small family washing to do at home; reasonable. Address MRS. S. HAND, 3 Chester st., Boston.

A COLORED woman wants day work, will go out by the day, suits, or call evenings. MRS. C. E., 45 Warren st., Roxbury.

A NEAT YOUNG girl wants work in steady position. A. B., 37 Harvard st., Cambridge.

BACK BAY laundry work wanted by A1 colored laundress; fancy ironing, shirts, collars and cuffs work guaranteed. Apply MRS. GILLIAN, 25 Harvard st.

CAPABLE lady would like laundry work to do at home or would go out by the day; would do plain sewing over machine; references given. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

CAPABLE lady would like laundry work to do at home; best of references; will do it right. MRS. DALE, 29 Windsor st., Cambridge, suite 8.

Female Situations Wanted.

A CAPABLE, competent girl requires hotel, steamer or housework. Call 254 Tremont st.

COLORED GIRL wants cooking and second girl's place; all round cook, excellent reference, part city. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

COLORED WOMAN would like day's work or laundry work to take home; will do work either by the day or piece; terms reasonable. Address MRS. L. E. MACKIE, 21 Garden st., Somerville.

CAPABLE young woman wants position as housekeeper; willing to do any thing reasonably done; good reference; city or country. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

CAPABLE young lady wants situation in small family to take charge of children and sew; or as waitress; best of references. 272 Dudley st., Roxbury.

COLORED WOMAN wants house laundry to do at home; will go out by the day; best of references. Call at 746 Northampton st., Boston.

DRESSMAKING, plain sewing, children's dresses and misses' clothes; $1.25 a day, $5 a week; would like a room in private family. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

DRESSMAKER, experienced, wants engagements by the day; terms moderate. 1 Bay State road, Tremont st., Boston.

EXPERIENCED housekeeper wants position to take home, plain cooking; best of references. MRS. BROWN, 15 Myrtle st., Boston. Phone 3087-1 Conn.

EXPERIENCED housekeeper would like the care of a down town office, thoroughly understands the situation and is capable of taking charge; furnished. Apply by mail, S. L. B., 62 Joy st.

EXPERIENCED woman wants engagements by the day; terms reasonable. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

GOOD, ALL ROUND COOK wants position in small hotel, boarding house, private family or restaurant; best of references; will go anywhere; invitations. A. A., 2 Hancock st.

GENERAL WORK by young woman or young lady, smart woman. 66 Roxbury st., tel. 1783-2.

HOUSEKEEPER—An, Protestant, 36, desires position as housekeeper in gentleman's family; good plain cook; economical and neat; no objection to child; small family. Address MRS. HANNAH, 1 Ware st., Room 12.

LADY would like sewing on children's clothes, or any plain sewing; home work alone will go out; terms reasonable. 219 Tremont st., suite 6. MRS. CRITCHFIELD, 22 Harrison av., Cambridge.

LAUNDRY WORK to take home. MRS. P. BLACKWELL, 8 Burbank st., or see R. B. Stratton.

MRS. WILLIAM TOMPKINS would like employment in private family; is used to habits of nursing an children's and ladies' clothes, extremely fond of baby; will take work home or go out; $1.50 per day, with car fare. 40 Bowdoin st., Dorchester.

MRS. LAWSON, first-class colored laundress, wants washing and ironing; either country or city; best of references; highest references. 28 Buck Hill st., Boston.

MRS. R. E. BISHOP wishes more sewing to take home; an experienced dressmaker with good references. 1009 Mass. av., Cambridge.

NURSE OF experience wants care of an invalid or work in a doctors office; would take the care of children; is experienced; $2.00 and board; is willing mail to the right party. Apply 58 Bowdoin st.

NORWEGIAN TRAINED NURSE wants position in family or to assist in two hundred beds. MISS BJORKNES, 25 Lowell st., Wellesley.

NEAT colored girl would like day's work Monday or Tuesday; will go out of the city; references given for same. MISS L. G., 71 L. Irons st., Boston.

OFFICES and apartments cared for; cleaning done; terms reasonable. 1 Ware st.

POSITION as working housekeeper by capable woman; good cook; city or country. Address MRS. M. GILLESPIE, 1 Ware st., Room 12.

POSITION as working housekeeper by capable woman; good cook; city or country. Address MRS. M. GILLESPIE, 1 Ware st., Room 12.

POSITION as working housekeeper by capable woman who would work by the day or hour. Call or address 1 Ware st., Room 12. MRS. M. GILLESPIE.

POSITION as nurse by a graduate of Bridgewater Normal School; best of references. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

PROTESTANT with family would like care of any kind, steady, sober man. Address 149 Bowdoin st., South Boston.

RELIABLE MAN will care for house this winter for rent or by family. Address references city or country, JAS. V. JOHNSON, Lowell, Mass. Gen. Del.

SALESMAN—An up-to-date specialty salesman would like to represent a first-class house in West or Middle West; salary and expenses; satisfactory references. H 456 Boston American.

TEAMSTER, married, wants situation in or out of city; understands care of horses; $2 per day. Address F. E. H., 112 Spring st., Stoneham, Mass.

TOURIST executive manager and engineer wants position; best references. C. J. D., P. O. Box 242, Boston.

WANTED, by first-class housekeeper, job in a first-class shop; can furnish best of references; is a temperate; would hire short. Address L. A. DUNN, 1 Marion st., Hyde Park, Boston.

WANTED—By a colored Jamaican man, a position in a first class stable, one who understands the care of horses and good whip. Answer C. C., 740 Shawmut av., suite 4.

WANTED—A place for colored young man, to work in private family, or alone for the winter; will work for $5 per week. Address 1 Ware st., W. H. H.

WANTED—Situation as janitor or assistant in the last place 5 years. Address J. F., 612 Columbus av., suite 10.

YOUNG MAN would like to get a place in a market to take out orders, work in store or in factory or machine shop work of any kind. T 490 Boston American.

YOUNG colored man would like a situation as butler, footman, porter, or similar work; will work well formen; references. Apply GEORGE BOOKER, 37 Mill st., Milton.

YOUNG, reliable, experienced houseman or waiter wants work. 14 Bay State road.

YOUNG COLORED MAN would like porter's work. T. G., 9 Granville st., Boston.

Female Help Wanted.

CHOCOLATE DIPPERS WANTED—Highest wages paid in Boston, with bonus. UNITED CANDY CO., 43 Leon st., Roxbury, Mass.

Perfume Ribboners

20 Girls experienced in Ribboning Perfumes. We will pay high salaries, steady work. UNITED PERFUME CO., 43 Leon Street, Roxbury, Mass.

CHOCOLATE DIPPERS CHOCOLATE PACKERS

Experienced girls wanted at LOWNEY'S, 447 Commercial st.

WOMAN DESIGNER

THOROUGHLY acquainted with the product of cotton and linen goods for retail trade; good and experienced factory process; applications treated confidentially. Box 1, 3 Hudson st., Boston.

AT BAY STATE BUSINESS AGENCY, Union Square, Somerville—2 families wanted for housework and kitchen girl; call at once.

ALL-AROUND colored woman to take care of toilet, assist in dressing and generally look after lady's wardrobe; must be neat and reliable; good wages assured to competent help; state wages. Box 1, Boston.

MILLINERY—Experienced maker wanted. GEO. A. JAMES & CO., 42 Summer st.

WANTED—Experienced operators on rubber surface coating machines; also on cotton and silk goods. Apply to CLIFTON MFG. CO., 60 Kilby st., Boston. Also wanted, a boy to act Hop on to Cornhill st.

WANTED—Experienced girl for pressing on glass cases. Apply ORIENT EYE GLASS CO., 12 Bromfield st.

WANTED—Young woman or girl for linen rack in large store; steady work. 32 Washington st., Medford, near Tufts Square.

WANTED—An experienced waitress, white and colored; also a colored girl for housework. 1 Bay State road, Boston.

WANTED—Experienced operators on rubber surface coating machines; also on cotton and silk coated goods. Apply to CLIFTON MFG. CO., 60 Kilby st., Boston. Also wanted, a boy to act Hop on to Cornhill st.

WANTED—Neat girl for general housework; $4; bring reference; 37 W. Newton st.

YOUNG LADY to assist in office work, with good voice. S 106, Boston American.

Female Miscellaneous.

LADIES' SUITS.

WE MAKE suits of your material, $7 up to $18; any style you may select, perfect fit guaranteed; unsurpassed workmanship. MODERN TAILORING CO., Blake bldg., 59 Temple pl., Boston. Room 11, 2d floor. Tel. Oxford 1.

LEARN DRESSMAKING.

INDIVIDUAL INSTRUCTION in dress cutting, designing, draping, fitting, finishing and millinery, by the famous McDevitt method; expert instructors in each department; graduates in demand; school in session; you can begin at any time; positions secured; call or write for catalogue. McDEVITT SCHOOL OF DRESSCUTTING AND MILLINERY SCHOOL, 25 Winter st., Boston.

AGENTS wanted, sample free, $1.50 per day and a grand present to your friends. Address EASTERN MFG. CO., Bangor, Me.

LADIES wanted to learn dressmaking and millinery; position guaranteed; summer rate now in effect. Call or write MME. LITCHFIELD, 63 Bedford st., Boston.

Female Situations Wanted.

A CAPABLE laundress of years experience would like washing preferred; work called for and delivered; terms reasonable. Address MRS. HAMILTON, 112 Hudson st., Cambridge.

A CAPABLE lady would like washing and ironing to do at home; family washing preferred; prices reasonable. 219 Tremont st., suite 6. MRS. ANNIE A. HARRIS, 798 Main st., Cambridge. Tel. 4200 Cambridge.

AI SEAMSTRESS wishes sewing, very capable and able to cut garments; $3 a day guaranteed; will either go out or take work home, best of references. Address 14 Tyler st., Room 54 Wharf st., Charlestown, suite 2.

A POSITION as housekeeper by a capable, trustworthy American, for 1 or 2 persons, assumes charge of home; best of references; good cook for good home. H. B., 5 Lowens st., Dorchester.

A CAPABLE, neat lady housework, plain cook, laundress; also outer cook, child, cafe or boarding house; references. MISS J. FINN, 36 Rose st., Worcester.

A YOUNG colored woman of experience would like laundry work to take home or a cook's position; best of references. Address MRS. E. J. Brown mail or in person, 16 Rutland st.

AN EXPERIENCED WANTS washing and laundry work to take home; work called for and delivered; $2 up; terms reasonable. 219 Tremont st., suite 6. MRS. ANNIE A. HARRIS, 798 Main st., Cambridge. Tel. 4200 Cambridge.

CAPABLE young woman, single, wants work by the day or hour, good references. 8 Centre st., Hudson, Mass.

A YOUNG COLORED woman would like work by the day; will go any kind of work; is a very fine plain sewer. 50 Phillips st.

A LADY NURSE wants to take home baby or mother of any kind to take home. MRS. BESSIE WASH, 41 Wash st., Ridgewood, Newton.

A GOOD LAUNDRESS wants cleaning, washing, ironing to do; take home or go out. MRS. E. BROWN, 1 Ware st.

A LADY would like position to teach English to children of neglected education. MRS. C., 28 Leslie st., Boston.

A SITUATION as nursing by experienced nurse in widow's family; housework. 1 Bay State road, Tremont st., Boston.

A NEAT colored girl would like day's or chamber work; prefers to take home, call or write to E. D., 458 Shawmut av., Boston.

A WHITE LADY wishes small family washing to do at home; reasonable. Address MRS. S. HAND, 3 Chester st., Boston.

A COLORED woman wants day work, will go out by the day, suits, or call evenings. MRS. C. E., 45 Warren st., Roxbury.

A NEAT YOUNG girl wants work in steady position. A. B., 37 Harvard st., Cambridge.

BACK BAY laundry work wanted by A1 colored laundress; fancy ironing, shirts, collars and cuffs work guaranteed. Apply MRS. GILLIAN, 25 Harvard st.

CAPABLE lady would like laundry work to do at home or would go out by the day; would do plain sewing over machine; references given. Address 1 Bay State road, Boston.

CAPABLE lady would like laundry work to do at home; best of references; will do it right. MRS. DALE, 29 Windsor st., Cambridge, suite 8.

Furnished Rooms to Let.

A FRONT square room, closet, water, gas, $5; side room, $3.50. 1 Bay State road, Boston.

ATTRACTIVE, clean, for rooms, 3 minutes from Dudley st.; private family. 2802 Wash. st.

BACK BAY 17 Hemenway st., Hotelphil; suite 2, newly furnished rooms in private family.

COZY, comfortable home for 2 or 3 gentlemen; 5 with meals if desired. 343 Warren st., Bos.

CHOICE room, suite, with board, gas, water, heat, closets, will list. 61 Dwight st.

COMFORTABLE and pleasant front parlor, $2; $3, central, open in plumbing, home privileges; continuous hot water, telephone. 37 W. Newton st.

DESIRABLE, well cared for, rooms, all conveniences, $2 up. 50 Hanson st., Dorchester.

EXCHANGE—Furnished front parlor, $2; $3, central, open in plumbing, home privileges; continuous hot water, telephone. 37 W. Newton st.

FURNISHED, well cared for, rooms, all conveniences, $2 up. 50 Hanson st., Dorchester.

NEWLY fur. rooms, all con., h. and c. water, heated, $2 up. 50 Hanson st., Dorchester.

SUNNY FRONT ROOMS, furnished, with or without board, 5 minutes from Dudley st. 2774 Wash. st.

ST. JAMES—Steam-heated front room. Suite 3, 10 Isabella st.

THOSE visiting Boston will find first-class rooms at 21 Garden st., $2 to $3 per day.

TWO FRONT ROOMS for housekeeping; convenient; desirable location; $10 per week. 1 Ware st., Room 12.

2 ROOMS, fur. complete, for h., gas, range, water, etc. 204 Warren st., Roxbury.

3 HANSON ST.—Nicely furnished heated front suite, bath, gas and c. water, $2.50 and $3.

3 LARGE sunny, fur. for h., for man and wife. 3 Hewlett st., near Centre.

2 OR 4 FUR. ROOMS for light housekeeping, all conv. 42 Cedar st., Rox.

27 CORDEN ST., Rox.—Large furnished room, bath; floor; private family, suitable for 2.

28 UNION PARK—Pleasant, sunny rooms, en suite or single; all conv.; reasonable.

3 WEST CHAMPION ST., Dorchester—Sunny room, h. and c. water, gas and heat; light housekeeping.

725 TREMONT ST.—Square rooms on hardwood floor; running water and heat, $2.50, $3; side room $1.25.

Furnished Rooms to Let.

VISITORS TO BOSTON

TAKE RAMBLER CAR from Washington cor. Roanoke st. and Bulfinch st. over hill from State House, or inquiring from any person; room with first-class table board; 2 in family; $7 per week; 1 in family, $6 per week; 2 in family, $5 per week; 1 in family, $4.50 per week.

AT SQUARE ROOM, sunny floor, thoroughly heated, with board; also single room; 44 and 44 A West Newton st.

BEACON ST., 363 and 365—Front sunny room and kitchenette for light house, use of parlor, piano.

AT 56 WEST NEWTON ST., large square room, h. and c. water, steam heat; $3 and $3.50; telephone.

AT 59 SHAWMUT AV.—Two sunny rooms for h. k., set range; also front room, bath room and use of parlor; $3.50 per week.

APPLETON ST., 44—Large sunny room by the day or week, for gentleman.

APPLETON ST., No. 52—Traveling people can have well cared for rooms by the day or week.

LARGE front room, suitable for 2, and 1 other, $5 week. 63 West Newton st., suite 3.

Board Wanted.

WANTED—By 3, middle-aged refined people, board where all would be pleasant. Address T 850, Boston American.

WORLD LIKE to place boy of 9 years to board with private family where with children preferred. 486 Boston American.

Furniture.

$16.67

With all latest improvements, full or folded; a guaranteed baker. Ad termed downtown as a bargain at $25.00.

$100 WORTH FOR $10.00

ANY $50.00 worth for $5.00 down and convenient payments after; six months credit without interest. Any $100.00 worth for $10.00 down. $10 NOW. A tapestry carpet, all put down like yard, free bass, comfort and mattress, $15.00. A store full of furniture on your own terms. Fair and Square Dealings Guaranteed.

SMITH BROTHERS

1211 Washington Street

Take Elevated to Dover st. Est. Over 40 Yrs

We Furnish Four Rooms Complete for $88

Send for catalog of our many home furnishing outfits. Each customer making a purchase of $10 more will receive FREE our handsome 1910 PICTURE, if this paper is mentioned when buying.

Plimpton-Hervey Co.

21 WASHINGTON STREET,

Open Saturday Evenings. Cash or Credit.

Cash Paid for Furniture and Carpets in lots or parts; highest prices. TEL. 1264 Oxford. 42 and 44 Eliot st.

BARGAINS, DOUBLE AV. Upholsterer, 227 Roxbury st., Roxbury, tel. 0061 Dan.

WE BUY all kinds of furniture; no lot too small or large. Call or address 1 Ware st., Room 12.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES paid for all kinds of furniture, carpets, stoves, etc. Call at 227 Tremont st. Washington st.; tel. 1862-2 Richmond.

OLD CAPITAL FURNITURE—Highest cash prices paid. 1 Ware st., Room 12.

Pianos and Musical Instruments. Pianos and Musical Instruments.

Don't Pay Piano Trust Prices

It is no longer necessary for you to pay the big prices on pianos that have been charged for years through an agreement between the big piano houses. The Roxbury Storage Salesrooms will sell you any make piano, new or slightly used, at a price at least $100 less than anyone else.

THE BEST MAKES—WHY PAY MORE?

McPhail Upright	$70	Kranich & Bach Upright	$85
Chickering Upright	$125	Haynes Upright	$100
Ivaine Upright	$101	Merrill Upright	$75
Fischer Upright	$80	Stetohart Upright	$71
Everett Upright	$95	Schumann & Sons Upright	$150
Steinway Upright	$155	Wm. Rohr Piano	$80
Jacob Doll Upright	$210	Huntington Upright	$73
Webber Upright	$77	Mason & Hamlin Upright	$140
		H. F. Miller Upright	$143

Roxbury Storage Salesrooms, Inc.

Open Monday, Thursday and Saturday Evenings till 9 o'clock.

2111 Washington Street, Roxbury, Mass., Cor. Williams Street.

PIANOS TUNED $1

A. J. HALL, 105 Huntington av., Boston, tunes Chickering, Steinway, Hallet & Davis; 20 years' experience; reasonable; reference 2867-3. Back Bay.

20 USED PIANOS, Miller, Chickering, Cole, Schmelz, Packard, Gilbert, Schubert, Hallet, all warranted and sold on 3 years' annual. $125 up. SIMS-HAKES, 304 Washington st.

STORAGE account the organists sold as per Kimball, Steinway, Hallet & Davis, Weber, $145; Ludwig, $140; Hallett & Davis, $145; Kimball, $125; Fischer, $120 per month. SIMS-HAKES, 304 Washington st.

FINE OLD TUSCAN, Boby varnish, brilliant tone, fit for orchestral work, $25. L. 483, Boston American.

Music.

SINGERS wanted for chorus and small parts in winter opera company. Apply Tues. Wed. 11 to 1 p. m. Room 628, Huntington Chambers.

Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry.

ON CREDIT—Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry

Waltham Watches $6.75 up

Diamond Rings $15 up

Solid Gold Rings $1 up

Prudential Supply Co., 5 Bromfield St.

CASH FOR DIAMONDS.

OLD GOLD and SILVER bought. 1 Ware st., Room 12.

OLD GOLD, SILVER, DIAMONDS, etc., bought. ARIL H. DENNY, 381 Washington st., room 1026.

MASONIC RINGS 25c, put in while waiting; may be worn with glove. Masonic Emporium, 719 Washington st.

WE WILL loan on your Collateral Tickets; will loan more than you can sell; cash for old gold and silver. 1 Ware st., Room 12, Boston.

IF YOU want to borrow on or sell Collateral Loan Tickets, see us; we will loan more than you can sell; CAN DAM, 1 Room st., Boston.

DON'T LOAN on or sell your Collateral Loan Tickets before you see us; we will loan more than you can sell value. BROWN, 187 Tremont st.

$1 MONEY LOANED; fully secured; guaranteed 3 R. watches, $25; one dollar a week. J. R. ROUND & CO., 3 Washington st.

CRYSTALS 10c, main one 20c, watches cleaned 25c, warranted 2 yrs. WEIDDIGEN, 671 Washington st.

MAINSPRINGS 25c, watches cleaned, 50c; warranted 2 yrs. ROBINSON, 229 Tremont st.

Stoves and Furnaces.

RADIATORS FOR SALE—About 20 tons. Apply to ALBERT ALLEN.

ALGER'S SHOPS FOR NEW AND S. H. STOVES, STORE AND OFFICE FIXTURES.

Clothing.

GENTS SACRIFICE WORK

STUDENTS' CLOTHING.

LARGEST VARIETY IN N. E.

WORTH MANY DOLLARS MORE—Overcoats and raincoats from $15.00; suits from $15.00; coats and vests from $5.00; pants from $3.00; many elegant goods from $20.00 to $40.00.

LOOKS FOR THE SAME

Marks & Chesire, 384 & 391 Dudley st.

Alongside Am.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN BOSTON, NOVEMBER 9, 1909

BOSTON AMERICAN

80 AND 82 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, NOVEMBER 9, 1909

The Land of the Shadow People

Of Those That Look Away from the Light and Believe in Distorted Shadows

Copyright, 1909, by American-Journal-Examiner

How many of us live with our backs to the light, studying and believing in shadows!

A great, new truth in the spiritual life of man is as beautiful as the rising sun in the life of our planet. Yet the great majority of men are turned toward the darkness of the past! They will not see the sun, or face the light!

Our thoughtful readers will appreciate a brief allegorical study of humanity which is sent to us by Charles Curtz Hahn and published in this column.

This is Mr. Hahn's story of the "Shadow People."

Elaine reached the Land of the Shadow People in the early morning as the first rays of the new sun were gleaming upon its eastern shores from across the ocean over which she had been sailing.

It was a beautiful land, full of white sunlight and flowers and birds, with green of trees and sparkling brooks. The people, too, who lived there, were beautiful—tall and straight and well made, beautiful of countenance and majestic of mien.

But as she walked up the seashore toward them she could not help noticing a peculiarity in these people which struck her forcibly. Not one of them ever turned his face toward the sea and the rising sun. Even her advent was not sufficient to attract their attention until she was among them. Each sedulously faced landward and pursued his labors, whatever they might be, with his face turned towards the west.

Later she found that as the day passed and afternoon came, they had so arranged their work that they might retrace their steps, turning their backs on the setting sun and returning to their starting point on the seashore.

They never faced the sun.

In the morning they labored with their faces set westward, and at noon turned and began working backward. Always with their backs to the Source of Light.

Sometimes they were obliged to work parallel to the shore, as when plowing or doing other farm work; but even in these cases their heads were inclined toward the side on which their shadows lay.

Approaching one whose stature attracted her admiration, Elaine, to open conversation, observed that it was a beautiful day. To her surprise this Apollo replied that a man so deformed as he did not care whether the day was beautiful or not. And when she expressed her surprise at such a remark, he pointed down to his Shadow lying on the ground west of him and said.

"You see me there! It is deformed enough, isn't it?"

Elaine looked and, sure enough, the Shadow of the man was that of a hump-backed cripple.

"But," she cried out in surprise, "what difference does that make; that is not yourself; it is only the Shadow of your real body, strangely, and for some reason I cannot understand, distorted."

It was the man's turn to look surprised.

"No," he asserted, "that is not my Shadow. That is my real self lying on the ground, and how can such a misshapen object accomplish anything or be happy!"

Elaine looked long and earnestly at him, but failing to comprehend whether he was insane or joking, walked on to a beautiful young girl, who, also, was sitting with her face to the west while sewing. A straighter, better developed being, with a more beautiful face, she had never seen, and yet this strange inhabitant of this beautiful land displayed the same idiosyncrasy. She at once began complaining of her poor health and her expectation of sinking into an early grave from the dread disease consumption.

"But," murmured Elaine, "you have no signs of consumption! I never saw a more healthy looking person in my life."

"You are a strange girl," the young woman responded. "If you look at my body you will see that it is already shrunken and eaten away with the white plague," and, as she pointed down at the Shadow on the ground, Elaine's eyes followed the movement, and there saw a second disfigured shadow of a beautiful form. It was shrunken and deformed.

"But," she insisted, "what of it? That is not yourself! That is nothing but a shadow."

"What an odd creature you are," the young lady peevishly answered. "You see me dying, scarcely able to hold up my head, and you say that I am not sick. You even tell me that this is not my body! Whose is it, then, I ask you?"

Elaine gazed at her, bewildered.

"Why, nobody's. It is nothing but your Shadow, and where such a queer one ever comes from is more than I can understand."

"You are evidently an insane person," the young lady primly said. "Where did you come from?"

Elaine did not reply, but passed on to a group a little distance away. Here, too, she found that each one's attention was bent upon his or her Shadow on the ground, and that each Shadow was distorted. And as the Shadow appeared, so was its owner inclined, feeble, angry, jealous, deformed, always in keeping with the shadowy nothing which he believed to be himself.

She thought it over for awhile and then asked:

"Why don't you turn your faces to the sun, and you wouldn't see those ugly shadows."

"Turn to the sun! Why, then we couldn't see ourselves, and if we didn't see our bodies, how could we care for them?"

At last, after much perseverance, Elaine succeeded in persuading one young woman actually to turn toward the Light.

"Why," she exclaimed, in some dismay. "Where is my body? I don't see it. What has become of it?"

"Just where it always was," Elaine replied, "trying to hide from the light. But your real body is here," and she laid her hand on the girl's shoulder.

"It seems so strange. Why, I don't feel a bit sick. O!"—she broke off to cry in terror—"what have you done? I must turn around. Something terrible may be happening to my body. It may need attention, and here I am forgetting all about it."

Still Elaine held her by the arm.

"You have no illness now. You never had it, for that matter. Why not remain with your back to the dark and your face to the light? Are you not happier as you are?"

"Oh, so much happier. Why, I never was happy before. How could I be with that terrible consumption——"

"But you had no consumption and never had. It was merely a Shadow you were thinking was yourself. Keep turned to the light and you will never be sick."

Isn't this whole earth a "Land of Shadow People?" Do not millions of us concentrate our minds on the shadows of disease and fear, instead of turning as we might to the healthful, hopeful light of truth, and knowledge, and courage?

The world is made desolate and sad by belief in shadows. The shadows of ignorance, superstition, bigotry, race hatred, credulity—all of these are thick among us.

Here and there a few turn toward the sunlight of truth, and turn away from the darkness of past ignorance.

But the turning is slow. However, eventually the truth will make us free, and the light of knowledge will drive away the shadows of superstition, and drive away the curse of disease and of ignorance.

And men will live as they should, WITH THEIR FACES TOWARD THE SUN OF TRUTH AND THE SHADOWS BEHIND THEM FOREVER FORGOTTEN.

Wisdom of Epictetus

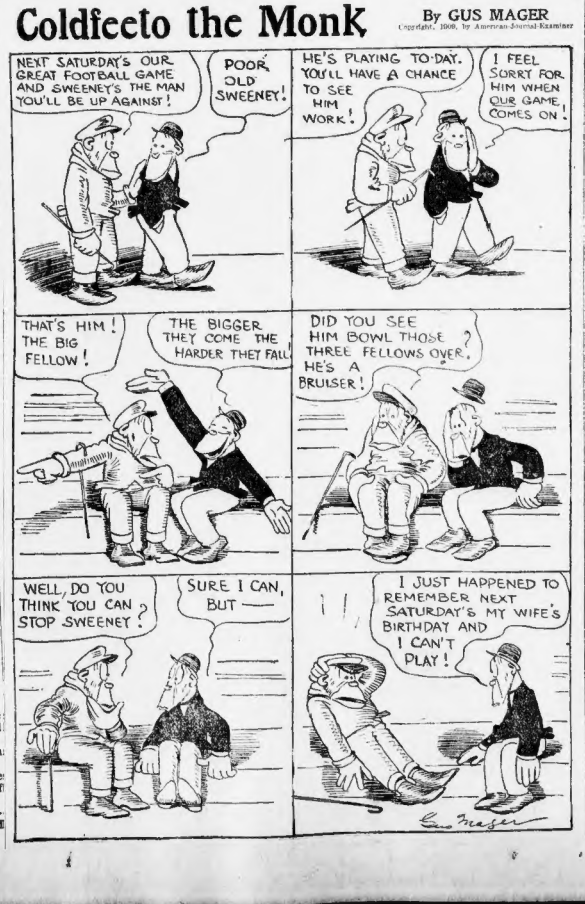
By T. E. POWERS

Copyright, 1909, by American-Journal-Examiner

Coldfeeto the Monk

By GUS MAGER

Copyright, 1909, by American-Journal-Examiner



Exceptional Case of New York

By CHARLES FERGUSON

How did it happen, in the wreck of a hundred municipal reform movements in Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Cleveland and so on from ocean to ocean, that New York City alone was able to weather the storm of political reaction?

Why does Tammany Hall reel under a shattering blow in the very hour that the vandals of politics are filling the air with shouts of triumph in so many other places?

Such things do not happen by accident or by miracle. There are assignable reasons.

By the verdict of the successful Fusionists, almost to a man, the difference between victory and defeat for them lay in the candidacy of Mr. Hearst.

Without the intervention of the Civic Alliance the chorus of reformers' lamentations in the great towns of the country would have been unbroken in New York.

It becomes a matter of national interest and importance to understand just what was the peculiar contribution to the situation made by the Hearst movement in this city.

It will not do to say that a single personality made all the difference. Mr. Hearst would be the first to disclaim such a responsibility. He would be the first to insist that the influence that he exerts is not to himself, but to the principle that he stands for.

How, then, shall we describe the principle imported to the municipal campaign by the Civic Alliance that brought such a measure of success?

It seems to me that the distinctive characteristic of the Hearst movement, that characteristic that sets it apart from the general run of civic reform movements, is that it is warm blooded—while the rest are cold.

The Hearst newspapers and the Hearst influences have moved in an atmosphere of heartiness and homely sense and have kept close to household interests and pressing questions of board and clothes.

Their idealism is human and matter-of-fact. It touches the sentiments of men as well as their intellects, and easily concerns itself with the play of children, the hopes of women and the reduction of gas bills and ice bills.

On the other hand, the civic reform movements throughout the country have been generally unsuccessful because of their chilly aloofness from everyday life. They have been not only "silk-stockinged" and "kid-gloved," not only heady and intellectually abstract, but also conceited and pharisaic.

They have failed to get down to common human feeling—just as the corrupt political combinations have failed to get up to decent standards of human thinking.

It seems to me by the conjunction of clear thinking with good feeling that all the first-rate work of the world is done.

And the gangsters have been so hard to beat because, in spite of their base leadership, they have made a powerful appeal to real emotional interests and sound social instincts.

They never can be beaten by "pure reason," by academic logic or by the book of arithmetic.

The aim of the Hearst newspapers and of the political movements that have claimed the leadership of Mr. Hearst is to take reason and logic and the multiplication table to start with, and then to supplement these equipments with a very intimate and sympathetic feeling for men, women and children as they actually exist.

Thus, the reason why New York has shaken itself loose from Tammany, while its sister cities have but tightened the bonds of iniquity, is that New York has enjoyed the singular advantage of a civic movement that is as hearty as it is intelligent.

The Curious Case of Luria Lent

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

EMANUEL EGG was an auctioneer; Leonidas Lead was a plumber;
A passionate poet was Windamer Wier, while Harrison Horne was a drummer.
And all of them loved, to the top of their bent,
The lovely and languorous Luria Lent,
For each was a highly susceptible gent,
And Luria Lent was a hummer.

"Oh, Luria, dear," said Emanuel Egg, "my frantic devotion consider.
In love's crowded auction, permit me, I beg, to be the successful bidder.
I know you're a treasure, a bargain, a prize;
My heart has been lit by the light in your eyes."
But the maiden looked up with affrighted surprise,
And softly replied: "Oh, you kidder!"

"Dear Luria," stammered Leonidas Lead, "I'm little addicted to wooing,
But I am a couple of millions ahead, with interest daily accruing.
Though lacking in culture and social position,
I've laid all the pipes to a vaulting ambition."
The lady, though touched with a tinge of contrition,
Responded in brief: "Nothing doing!"

"Ah, Luria, fair one," sighed Windamer Wier, "the amethyst shadows may sever,
The old, austere earth fall unheeded and sere, but love lingers longing forever.
Together we'll face the terrestrial strife."
But Luria hissed: "I would fain be a wife,
But tie to a poet the rest of my life,
And live upon limericks! Never!"

But Harrison Horne, in addressing the girl, remarked very tersely: "Come here;
We'll charter a taxi and go for a whirl, then dine, and then marry, my dear."
And Luria Lent packed her suit case and came,
For love is a great and a curious game,
And women, though usually always the same,
Are always remarkably queer.

Boosting Nature Along

By WEX JONES

LURID TURFBANK, the wizard who invented the condensed milkweed for growing on city lots, began to tire of his experiments with plants. There seemed little more to be done with the inanimate—he had to his credit the improved egg-plant, which could be produced by the curious in any ordinary incubator; the Turfbank potato, the eyes of which are equipped with spectacles to prevent short-sighted growth; the shoe tree which grows fan shoes in Summer and storm boots in Winter; and the Turfbank electric current, two of which will supply light and power for a ten-room house.

Yes, the vegetable world was conquered, but Lurid Turfbank was too energetic to sit back and watch his half-shell oyster plants flourish in their beds. He began to turn his attention to the animal world.

One of his first efforts was a Maine deer which would yell, "You can shoot; I'm not another hunter." This proved a commercial failure, because the hunters would shoot anyway at anything they saw moving. Next Turfbank originated the steer which grew antlers all down one side of its body and rings down its legs. These were widely in demand for hat racks, the rings being utilized for holding umbrellas. In the proper season the hat rack could be released and shot, the many antlers furnishing desirable trophies for club smoking rooms. It was in the same year, by the way, that Turfbank produced the elk with a row of teeth down his back. From this invention he cleared a large sum, as the teeth were bought freely by members of the order named after the elk.

But perhaps Turfbank's greatest money-making product was the hookworm—not anything like the Southern creature of that name, but an angleworm in the shape of a hook and with a steel tip on the end. The convenience of this to anglers is obvious. All they had to do was make their line fast to the loop in the hookworm's tail and they had hook and bait at once. It is estimated that 100,000,000 dozen of these are used annually in the United States and Canada.

The Turfbank Improved Baby is also growing in favor. Realizing the inconvenience caused in many small households by the necessity of having to watch the baby, Mr. Turfbank experimented until he perfected his "take-down" infant. In this baby the legs and arms are detachable, so that when the mother is busy all she need do is take off baby's arms and legs, when, of course, it cannot crawl into any mischief or danger. Soon the old-fashioned, one-piece baby will be a thing of the past.

In the meantime Lurid Turfbank works away as industriously as ever.

For Once Agreed

By ARTHUR ROCHE

(The Treasury Department has decided that dolls are not toys)

THE BOY

A COURSE a dolly ain't a toy,
Cause toys is made for fun.
Like breakin' windows erost the street
With your brannew airgun;
Or like an engine or a boat—
Why, things like them jus' seem
Like grown-ups' things, they're real, you know,
Real boilers' an' real steam.
But dolls! They're nothin' but a dress
An' false-face fixed with curls.
Accourse a dolly ain't a toy,
They're only made for girls!

THE GIRL

A COURSE my dolly ain't a toy,
She someplin' more than that,
She's someplin' that I like to kiss
An' hug an' squeeze an' pat,
An' be a mother to an' love,
Cause she ain't never rough;
An' when we play, she ain't like boys
A-tryin' to be rough.
An' when she's grown-up, she will be
Her mother's only joy—
Accourse my dolly ain't a toy,
A toy's jus' for a boy!

Jimmie giggled when the teacher read the story of the Roman who swam across the Tiber three times before breakfast.

"You do no doubt a trained swimmer could do that, do you, James?"

"No, sir," answered Jimmie, "but I wondered why he didn't make it four, and get back to the side his clothes were on."